BOSTON IS AFRAID OF CENTRAL BANK

Financiers Urge Extreme Care in Making Changes Which May Give Wall Street Power.

SEE FLAWS AT PRESENT.

Government Bonds Are Too Unwieldy for Purpose to Which They Now Are Put as Security.

BY RAYMOND.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Bankers and financial men here are much interested in the proposition for the reform of the currency. They were convinced long ago that the present system was and always would be a menace to the prosperity of the country. They recognize the fact that when we need new money for the movement of the crops there is no additional currency to be had, whereas, when there is an abundance of currency in the market there is no way of reducing the circulation.

At the same time the Boston bankers do not seem to be wedded to any particular scheme of currency reform, and they apparently are willing to postpone their decision until after the report of the monetary commission has been presented, a year or so later.

It can hardly be said that a central bank is popular here, and yet a good many bankers are ready to accept it as the best scheme which can be presented. The postal savings bank is on the whole unpopular. Massachusetts has an admirable savings bank system, which is a model for the whole country, and the need for a government institution is much less apparent than in the more sparsely settled states west of the Alleghanies.

Wait Advised by Expert.

One of the youngest, most progressive financiers in Boston is Dan Wing, president of the First National bank, who was once a bank examiner under Controller Dawes and who is himself a western product. He expressed the prevailing opinion of doubt and a willingness to wait for the report of the commission when he said:

"Opinion here seems to be that while the central bank system may be the best thing for the reform of our currency, it would after all be better to wait until the national monetary commission has presented its report. That body has gathered an immense fund of information, so that when a report is made it will present statistics and arguments which will have a great deal to do in deciding the matter.

"There are some dangers in having a great central bank controlled by private interests, and yet it might be even worse to have the control absolutely vested in the government. It would work all right so long as the secretary of the treasury and controller of the currency and the other executive officers of the bank were honest, nonpartisan, and competent. It sometimes happens that some of them are the reverse, and then the bank will be at the mercy of unscrupulous politicians or ignorant officials who are entirely unfitted to deal with an important financial crisis.

One Feature Held Good.

"There is one feature about the central bank scheme," continued Mr. Wing, "which might work out to be a positive benefit to our commercial system. The theory of the bank is to advance money on commercial paper. The effect will be that the manufacturer would draw on the wholesaler or the jobber at a definite period of sixty or ninety days. When the draft was accepted it would become the best kind of commercial paper. We would in fact get down to the English system of bills of exchange.

"The result would be to wipe out the open book accounts and to substitute for them a definite credit with a specific limitation of time, which could be discounted at the bank and thus relieve the manufacturer or jobber of the necessity of carrying his customer. We need such an instrument of indebtedness much in this country, and the creation of a system which would substitute accepted drafts for open credits would be of vast benefit to business and to the banks generally."

President Wing also had another rather novel query as to whether the central bank, being limited altogether to rediscounting, could really make the business pay. "Of course I haven't studied the subject, and probably no one knows much about it, and yet during prosperous times it seems doubtful whether there would be enough rediscount to make a profit for the bank. Just at the present time, for instance, there is little of that. The banks discount commercial paper in the ordinary way and are content to hold it till maturity. Under such a condition of affairs it is difficult to see where a central bank could step in and make any further profit by means of this same paper, which is being renewed at short intervals in any event.

Bonds Not Best Security.

"There is one thing," said this acute observer, "which should be borne constantly in mind, whether we attempt to build up a central bank or some other system; that is, that we should get away from the necessity of using government bonds as security for circulation. Every practical man knows that they are but little adapted to this work. A bond which does not reach its maturity for a long time may be perfectly good security, and yet it might be difficult to raise money on it. Commercial paper of the best type, being renewed at short intervals and being turned over and over, is as good security as any bank could possibly have.

"Moreover, it is about time for the United States to put its bonded indebtedness on a rock bottom basis. The national bonds have been forced upon the banks. They were compelled to take them to secure circulation and at first to get government deposits. The result has been to create a fictitious value for these bonds. As the prices of these bonds have declined, the banks have been compelled to bear the actual loss on all of those bonds they held to secure circulation.

"Instead of investing the proceeds of postal savings banks in United States bonds the government ought to meet the issue squarely. That is to say, all of our interest bearing indebtedness ought to be refunded in such a way that it would sell for about par in the open market. The rate of interest would have to be fixed to secure that result. The national banks should no longer be compelled to assist in producing a fictitious value for government securities which should be sold on their merits, the same as the bonds of any private corporation.

"I think you will find," concluded Mr.

TARIFF BILL BEST, CANNON ASSERTS

Speaker Tells Illinois Mayors Congress Has Saved and Made Safe Commerce of the Country.

'CUMMINS IS WITH BRYAN'

Efforts of the Latter to Discount Law Held to Be Purely Political; Rules Fight Is Reviewed.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Elgin, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon appeared in the rôle of the defender of the Payne tariff bill and of President Taft's Winona speech in an address at the opening of the annual convention of the Mayors' association of Illinois here tonight. He depicted Senator Cummins of Iowa as the ally of William Jennings Bryan, while he declared the Nebraska leader was advocating tariff revision to force an issue in the presidential campaign of 1912.

He insisted that the Payne tariff bill is the best tariff bill that ever has been enacted in the history of the republic, pointing out the turning wheels of industry as his proof. It represented, he averred, the will of the majority in congress, who supported the rules under which it was passed.

He questioned the truth of newspaper correspondents reporting an alliance of six Republican senators of Illinois to defeat him and denounced the press of the country. He declared that Representative Mann of Illinois was the best legislator in congress.

Sixty Mayors Hear Him.

Sixty mayors of Illinois cities and 1,200 residents of Elgin listened to the address and greeted him with applause. He spoke briefly on municipal government by commission, but said he had not formed an opinion as to the advisability of the adoption of the plan.

"We passed the Payne tariff bill," he said, speaking of the tariff. "It didn't suit me in every respect. It protects all existing industries, but did not found any new industries. I had hoped it would.

"A majority of the members of the house were in favor of that bill and I bowed to the consensus of opinion and voted for it, and I am ready to say with Taft in his Winona speech that it is the best tariff bill for protection and in every other particular that has ever been enacted in the history of the republic.

"We in Illinois wanted free lumber, as did the south and the Pacific coast. The house asked for free lumber, but the senate held out for a duty. You can't make a revenue bill except by compromise. Some say we ought to quit log rolling, but it will never be so until Jehovah himself takes command of legislation.

Says Bryan Seeks Issue.

"It was a good bill. What has happened since proves this. The wheels of commerce go round, and there has been no day since that bill was passed but saw the people better off than the day before.

"William Jennings Bryan attacks that bill and denounces it as a fraud and says he wants the people who go to congress pledged to another revision so that he can get an issue in 1912. Such agitation within sixty days after the bill passed, when factories are going, is a little premature.

"Every one of the insurgent senators and the complaints in newspapers remind me of the fox that got its tail out off in a trap and wanted all other foxes to have their tails cut off. Seven Republican senators and twenty members of the house rebelled, but the bill was passed by the majority.

"I was in Iowa last week. It is an open secret there that Senator Cummins practically proposes to join hands with Bryan. I will not say that he is going to join Bryan's party. He says he will not stop until the tariff is revised according to his notion. It is an open secret that Senator Cummins is out in a campaign to defeat every congressman in his state who voted for that bill.

"Now let's see. Two hundred Republican representatives voted for that bill, and all of the Republican senators except seven. I ask whether the opposing Republicans or the rest and President Taft, who signed it, constitute the Republican party.

Denies East Only Gains.

"Somebody says, 'Don't you know, Mr. Cannon, that greedy New England is living on our hard earnings out here, that Senator Aldrich, the plutocrat, led the senate which adopted that legislation?'

"I say to you that Iowa is the richest state in the union, while New England is poor. New England is poor.

"The egg crop and poultry and dairy crop has increased rapidly and is worth one-half over what the cotton crop is worth. Yet, I do not know that Senators Cummins and La Follette made any effort to reduce the duty on eggs and poultry and dairy produce. Iowa is the first dairy state in the union and Illinois is next. The duty of six and one-half cents a pound remains unchanged and $5,000,000 in duty was collected on cheese last year.

"Suppose a Republican doesn't go into a caucus when it is called," he said, discussing the insurgents, "you can't mandamus him. There were men that called themselves Republicans who refused to go into caucus, but if they are Republicans I am not. A man can't flock by himself in a corner and move the house of representatives.

Reviews Fight Over Rules.

"I was elected speaker by a majority, but a few calling themselves Republicans opposed me. There was a contest over rules, and a resolution was offered by Champ Clark, the Democratic leader, asking that committees be appointed by committee of fifteen, naming six Champ Clark Democrats, four so-called Republicans who were not in the caucus, and five that did go into caucus. Senators Cummins and La Follette came over and took command of their friends.

"If the Democrats had all voted with them the resolution would have passed, but a majority of the representatives opposed it and it was beaten. If they had been successful the tariff bill would have been held up. There were people in the south who wanted protection of the industries there who could not be overruled, and the rules were upheld.

"Down in New York it has been said that a contract was made to make me speaker. I said and say it again that I have no knowledge of such contract. I do not believe it. But suppose there had been a contract, what kind of a contract had been made between

HAWLEY TAKE WALSH ROADS?

New Rail King Reported Dickering with Chicago Ex-Banker.

LINK IN HIS GROWING CHAIN.

Guarantors of $7,000,000 Note See Glimmer of Hope.

Will Edwin Hawley, the latest railroad king, with the Alton-Clover Leaf system, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, the Chesapeake and Ohio and other roads in his grip, save the rail holdings of John R. Walsh from going into the melting pot along with the convicted banker's $7,000,000 note held by the Chicago banks?

This is a question asked yesterday by those interested in Walsh's financial status and the obligation to the clearing house banks on which the quarterly interest is in default. A report that Walsh has been dickering in New York with Hawley reached Chicago during the day and was taken seriously by Walsh's backers, who heretofore have professed ignorance of the purpose of his visit in the east.

Walsh is expected to return to Chicago the latter part of this week. He went there last week. According to the report, which certain men hinted promised a "big deal" of some kind, Walsh has been endeavoring to get Hawley to take over his stock interests in the Southern Indiana and Chicago Southern railways and negotiate for the purchase of the bond issues.

Might Mean Interest Payments.

"I have heard about that," said a representative of the guarantors of Walsh's note to the clearing house banks. "I have known of Mr. Walsh's New York visit, but I hope too much publicity will not be given the matter, for it might spoil whatever is in prospect. Of course, it cannot mean the payment of the principal of the note, if the deal goes through—at least not yet. It would mean, though, the payment of the interest and temporary relief."

Edward Ritsher, Walsh's legal adviser, still was out of town, and is believed to be having something to do with whatever negotiations there may be going on. John W. Walsh, son of the ex-banker and member of the firm of John R. Walsh & Co., said only:

"Of course, there is something going on, but I can't say what it is."

Hawley and Walsh "Dicker"?

According to the story given circulation Walsh conferred with Hawley or his representatives in New York last Saturday. Since then, it is said, negotiations have continued. Whether there is hope for Walsh himself in the matter is a question more vague than the "deal" itself now seems to be.

If Hawley wants an interest in the roads now in a receiver's hands and contemplates ultimate ownership and control of them, financial men say it is for the purpose of adding a link to the chain of roads he has been welding together recently. Walsh himself might have to step out altogether.

Only eight days now remain of the time in which Mr. Walsh can save his guarantors by paying the interest now in default. The twenty days required for public notice of default expire Oct. 26.

SMOKE IMMORTAL? I. C. DECIDES TODAY

"Clean Chicago" Champions Turn Fire on Nuisance Now at the Judgment Seat.

BOMBARD ROAD'S OWNERS

Electrify or Not? That's the Question Shot at Directors, Also in City for Meeting.

On the eve of the annual meeting of the directors and stockholders of the Illinois Central railroad today, the crusading forces which have waged war upon the nuisances of smoke and noise which that corporation has inflicted for years upon the community summarized the phases of the evil yesterday.

They intended the epitome as a warning to the railroad company. It has been announced that electrification and the smoke nuisance will be considered at the Illinois Central meetings.

Protest after protest against the unending pall of smoke that lies over that part of Chicago contiguous to the Illinois Central tracks has been launched at the officials of the road by the members of the Anti-Smoke league led by Mrs. Charles H. Sergel, its president, and by delegates from every prominent woman's club in the city.

People Are Aroused.

Public sentiment has been aroused to a higher pitch than ever before for the extinction of this nuisance, and public officials have been spurred at last to take some action for the suppression of an evil that for years has been a menace to life and property in the neighborhood. Now, with the crisis in the campaign at hand, the clean city advocates have made their decisive effort with massed forces.

Every officer of the road, every director, and as many stockholders as could be reached have been apprised of the fact that Chicago is tired of waiting for a reasonable abatement of an injurious nuisance, and looks to them to take the first step towards an immediate improvement in conditions for which they are chiefly responsible. The position has been taken that if they are not the greatest producers of black, cindery smoke in the city, at least their locomotives distribute it over a larger area and through a territory more susceptible to damage by the black soot than any of their competitors in the smoke producing industry.

Will the Road Capitulate?

Will the Illinois Central directors and stockholders capitulate? Will they authorize electrification, or some other equally certain method of eliminating smoke, or will they continue to parley while the dense pall of their producing continues to settle upon the city?

For an answer to these questions the general of the anti-smoke legions will await to-

GIVES "HAPPY MARRIAGE" KEY

WAY TO HOLD MAN'S LOVE.

Study Husband and Make Him Believe You're "Angel" He Courted.

Matrimonial mishaps and how to avoid them was the text of an address delivered before the Klio association, 6 Monroe street, by the Rev. D. D. Vaughan, pastor of the South Halsted Street Institutional church, last night.

About 200 young women listened to the discourse and went to their homes with some of the following epigrams ringing in their ears:

If I were a girl I would shun a man who had sown his wild oats as I would poison.

Marriage is the normal state, but it is no longer a necessary state.

The only basis on which marriage should be contracted is on the basis of love.

Women often marry for a home, for money, or because they wish to show some other woman that they can marry that particular man.

Learn to understand your husbands—men are transparent.

Pretty women are not in demand; neat girls are.

To hold the love of your husbands keep fooling them. Make them believe you are the angel they supposed you before the wedding ceremony.

Women should love their husbands more than their children or parents; otherwise they will not be ideally happy.

Costs Married Man More to Live.

The minister's subject was "Matrimony," which he said he had been studying for over a year and upon which he felt competent to talk, inasmuch as he had circulated questions bearing on that subject to his congregation and had received over 200 answers.

"The idea that a man can live cheaper after he has married than he did before is fallacious and misleading," said Mr. Vaughan. "That is possible only when the candidate for matrimonial honors has spent his income in riotous living. The single man who has been thrifty will find that when he gets married he will be called upon to spend three times as much for living expenses as he did before.

"Men don't marry because they are afraid to marry, because they can't afford to marry, and because they are too timid to marry.

"All men hold up their hands in horror when the subject of the 'new woman' is mentioned.

Man "Before" and "After."

"Men do not object to a woman being a clubwoman and interested in politics. They do object to college educations for their wives, because men do not marry to be instructed.

"A man is never good for much the year before he is married.

"Before marriage his worship of the girl is so intense that it makes him a fool. After marriage it takes another year for his adjustment to the new order of things."

Mr. Vaughan said that he had received more than 700 letters from all parts of the United States and Canada from men who wanted him to find wives for them and from women who were in search of husbands. He said that he had paid no attention to these letters

PENNSYLVANIA R.R. WILL BUILD DEPOT

President James McCrea Arrives in Chicago with News of $25,000,000 Station.

FIVE ROADS TO AGREE.

SMOOTH PATH FOR GREAT WORK

Chicago is to have a new union station that will cost approximately $25,000,000.

President James McCrea of the Pennsylvania railroad in Chicago last night announced that the company will build the depot, and will start to do it soon.

Though he did not include the important detail in his statement, much evidence indicates that the coming structure will be situated at Madison street, face to face with the new Chicago and Northwestern depot.

The Pennsylvania, in purchases running through a considerable period, has secured large holdings in the blocks between Clinton and Canal streets from Madison south to Van Buren. Most of these purchases, real estate men believe, were made in connection with the depot project.

Await Accord on Details.

The present antiquated terminal on Canal street, which long has been utterly inadequate, inconvenient, and an eyesore at one of the entrances to the city, is to be replaced with the magnificent new structure as soon as the railroads now entering the station can agree on the details. Mr. McCrea, who came to Chicago late in the afternoon with a party of the officials and directors of the Pennsylvania system on the annual inspection trip, declined to give details beyond a general statement indicating the company's intention to construct a terminal adequate to all demands for years to come.

It will be used by the five railroads now entering the Union station, the two Pennsylvania companies—the Panhandle and the Fort Wayne—the Burlington, the St. Paul, and the Alton. The general plans have been prepared and the detailed plans are to be settled by conferences between the interested roads.

One of the principal obstacles to the project was removed last week by the sale of the Burlington's interest in the Chicago Terminal Transfer to the Baltimore and Ohio. This makes it practically certain that the Burlington will join with the other roads instead of removing to the Grand Central station.

Calls Electrification Impracticable.

In the same breath in which he cleared up the conflicting reports as to whether or not Chicago had been left out of the Pennsylvania's depot plans, Mr. Crea declared that electrification of the Chicago terminals was impracticable.

With the next breath he admitted that despite all difficulties, the Pennsylvania means to solve its New York terminal problem by the use of electric motive power in its tunnel now being constructed.

President McCrea also said that business would continue to improve if corporations and business interests generally are to be allowed to adjust themselves to recent laws without what he called further harassing legislation. But by far the most interesting part of an extended interview was his discussion of the union depot project.

Mr. McCrea arrived at the Union station at 5:30 in the afternoon in a five car special train, accompanied by about twenty-five of the officers and directors of the Pennsylvania system.

He was inclined at first to be brusque as he was approached by newspaper men, but the ice soon was broken, with the result that the eastern railroad men invited the western newspaper workers to accompany him down the platform to his private car.

McCrea Says "Yes, It's So.

"Yes, I can say that we are going to build a new union station here," he said as the train was switched south to the Sixteenth street yards, "but there are still many obstacles in the way. The general plans have been prepared for some time, but we still have to get the approval of the five railroads involved. You know it is quite a task to get five different sets of men to agree on a proposition of this magnitude.

"I can't give you any details, because they have not yet been settled and it is needless for you to press me with questions."

"Can you give an approximate idea how soon it will be accomplished?" he was asked.

"Will you confer with any of the other railroad men about the plans on this trip?"

"No, we are not here for that purpose," he replied. "Conferences? We have had any number of conferences. They are going on all the time. But I will not venture any prediction as to the time required.

Expresses His Encouragement.

"On that point I will only say that I feel much encouraged as to the success of the project. We have been working on it hard for seven years and there have been times when I almost despaired of the results. Recent developments, however, have been in our favor, and I am now decidedly encouraged."

He declined to state what the difficulties were, but intimated that the Burlington's decision to part with its Terminal Transfer stock had an important bearing on the plans of the roads.

The Burlington held about $6,000,000 worth of the Terminal preferred stock and until this was sold last week to the Baltimore and Ohio it has not been certain but that it would seek to remove its terminals to the Grand Central station. Another obstacle Mr. McCrea said was that the roads have not yet secured all the land necessary.

Climax to Flood of Reports.

Rumors that the Pennsylvania was planning a new terminal have been rife in Chicago for several years, but have been denied persistently by the Chicago roads using the station, and it was understood some time ago hat the project had been abandoned. It lso was reported that the St. Paul might withdraw from the station and build a terminal of its own.

During the last few months, however, several conferences between the roads have been held which made it apparent that the project was approaching fulfillment.

The exact location of the new station cannot be determined until the railroads have completed their purchase of land. The Panhandle about a year ago bought practically the entire block facing the Northwestern's new station between Washington and Madison streets and east of Canal.

This will doubtless be used for track purposes and the station proper be erected almost opposite the entrance to the Northwestern station, in Madison street, and extend south to Van Buren. South of Madison, the property between Canal and the river is now owned almost entirely by the railroads, and occupied by the present Union station, together with its outlying trackage and freight facilities.

Hesitates at Electrification.

Mr. McCrea in expressing his somewhat pessimistic sentiments regarding electrification said:

"Any one who talks seriously about electrifying a great railroad terminal like that of Chicago, with freight trains and switching service, in the present state of electrical operation, has got a lot to learn about electricity. It is not only impracticable, it is impossible.

"Multiple unit motor cars, each one taking its own power from a third rail, may work nicely, but when it comes to getting an electric locomotive that will take the place of a steam engine we are practically in the dark.

"We have decided to use electricity for our passenger trains in our New York tunnel entrance when it is completed because it would be impossible to use steam in our tunnel bores, but we have spent $250,000 in trying to develop an electric locomotive suited to our needs and have not yet been successful. The locomotives used by the New York Central are practically two locomotives in one."

Predicts Business Strides.

Mr. McCrea said business conditions all over the country were improving rapidly, and he foresaw a continuance of the present prosperity unless it is halted by agitation and what he termed hostile legislation.

"Business is looking up and the country is full of money waiting to be put into good investments," he said. "If the legislatures, state and national, only will give the corporations and organized business interests an opportunity to work out their problems quietly and adjust themselves to the new laws which have been passed to regulate them there is no reason why business should not continue to expand beyond precedent.

"Every main line of railroad ought to be double tracked and their facilities ought to be increased in every direction. But capital is inclined to be nervous, and if those who have money to invest are made timid by additional laws before they have had time to adjust themselves to those we have they are not going to venture much.

"The agitation against railroads is not over by any means, and the coming session at Washington is likely to be worse than any we have had. Everybody has a new law he wants passed, and there are all kinds of proposed amendments to the interstate commerce law."

Will Visit Iron Range.

The Pennsylvania party will leave Chicago early this morning for Duluth, where they will inspect the ore fields of the Mesaba range.

That part of the trip we are taking out of curiosity," said President McCrea. The rest is business. The annual trip over the system has only been missed once in thirty-seven years."

From Duluth they will go to St. Paul, and from there to St. Louis, remaining in St. Louis over Sunday, and returning to Philadelphia over the Pennsylvania lines.

IRISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY LAUNCHES ILLINOIS BRANCH.

Meeting Called by Maurice T. Moloney of Ottawa—Dr. Guerin Says Parochial Schools Can Help.

An Illinois branch of the American-Irish Historical society was organized at the Congress hotel yesterday afternoon. Maurice T. Moloney of Ottawa, former attorney-general of Illinois, was chosen president and James O'Shaughnessy secretary.

The meeting was held in response to a call issued by Mr. Moloney to prominent Irish citizens of Chicago and vicinity. He is vice president of the national organization.

"There is one way," said Dr. John F. Guerin, member of the Chicago board of education, "in which a great deal of interest could be secured for the advancement of our cause, and that is the teaching of Irish history and the Irish language in parochial schools."

NOTE TO WIFE DIRECTS HER TO HUSBAND DEAD IN CELLAR.

August J. Dirschmidt Hangs Self in Basement—Two Others End Life in Same Way.

A letter written by August J. Dirschmidt, 1652 North Winchester avenue, led his wife yesterday to the basement of his house, where she found he had hanged himself. The police believe he was despondent over financial affairs. He was an agent for an express company and in his letter he wrote:

"I am crazy and did all I could for the company."

Reuben Segergren, son of John Segergen of Elgin, committed suicide by hanging at the insane asylum, where he had been confined for two months. He was assigned to the dining room. Before breakfast he went to the basement, where his body was found fifteen minutes later.

John Rausman, 909 East Forty-third street, was found dead hanging from a clothes hook in his room in the evening. He was a janitor.

SING PRAISE OF CALIFORNIA.

Natives of Golden State Gather at Union League Club to Celebrate San Francisco's Rise.

The fruits of California were eaten, her wines drunk, and her praises enthusiastically recited at the Union League club last evening when fifty native and adopted sons of the Golden state gathered to celebrate the reconstruction of San Francisco.

Nearly all of the eatables at the banquet had been gathered in California. The tables were decorated with sprigs of eucalyptus, and at the speakers' table was a mound of the Golden state's finest products.

The speakers were George W. Hotchkiss, secretary of the California Pioneers' club; Judge Julian Mack, J. C. Stubbs, traffic manager of the Harriman lines; Will J. Davis, William Kent, the Hon. Kazuo Matsubara, Japanese consul; J. K. Ormsby, and Dr. P. J. H. Farrell. Dr. Frank G. Lydston acted as toastmaster. E. O. McCormick was elected president of the California society.

NEW OWNERS FOR WOOL CO.

Montana Commission Concern Taken Over by W. H. Manss and Others of Chicago.

Chicago stockholders of the Montana Woolgrowers' Commission company were notified yesterday that the affairs of the company had been turned over to the National Wool Warehouse company, a Chicago corporation, of which W. H. Manss is the president. The Montana concern did a commission business, mostly for Boston interests, and it is said the directors concluded they could affect a saving of considerable expense by making their purchases through the Chicago company. Associated with Mr. Manss in the management of the local company are John A. Spoor, Arthur Leonard, W. F. Hynes, and J. W. Scott.

A boy about a week old was found last night on the doorstep of Oscar Martin, 3553 Lexington avenue, by Mrs. Martin. On it a cloth protected the child from the cold. It was removed to the Chicago hospital.

PUBLISHERS JOLT TARIFF ON PULP

Two Associations in Session Here Protest Against Impending Schedules.

CANADA SURE TO COUNTER

Congressman Mann and John Norris Explain Neighbor's Ability to Hit Back.

The placing of wood pulp on the tariff free list is the only solution to the impending trade war between the United States and Canada, caused by the new print paper and wood pulp tariff incorporated in the recent tariff bill.

The foregoing is the belief of Congressman James R. Mann and of John Norris, chairman of the standing committee on print paper of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, as expressed in addresses before the Inland Daily Press association yesterday.

Following the addresses the association, and later in the day the Illinois Daily Newspaper Publishers' association, two of the strongest organizations of their kind in the middle west, voiced the most emphatic protest that has yet been made against the impending paper tariff and indorsed a letter of appeal to President Taft asking that a new investigation be made and the report of the Mann committee be adopted.

Congressman Mann declared that only the reduction of the tariff and probably the entire elimination of the duty, was all that could prevent a disastrous trade war with Canada.

Says Canada Is Aroused.

Mr. Norris stated emphatically that he believed that only a free schedule for print paper and pulp now would be accepted by the Canadians.

"Had the $2 duty been fixed at the time the tariff bill was in the making," he said, "Canada would have accepted it, but now the Canadians are aroused and they believe that with the United States sticking for a duty they will pull the $500,000,000 invested in this country in paper manufacturing properties over into Canada.

"That is the talk of their pulp men, their paper manufacturers, and their newspapers. And any change in the attitude of the Canadian government toward a compromise duty would mean the downfall of the men at the head of the Canadian government."

Congressman Mann gave a careful review of the investigation made by his committee while the tariff bill was pending in congress and a history of the print paper and wood pulp provision from its inception.

Summarizes Publishers' Aims.

Mr. Norris prefaced his talk to the Press association by stating that Congressman Mann had acted with impartiality, thoroughness, and squareness in the work of his special congressional committee which made an inquiry into the print paper matter. He summarized the aims of the American Publishers' association in its paper campaign as follows:

First—Uniform prices on print paper based on the open market and on a broader market than the combination of paper makers will permit.

Second—Standardization in width of rolls, weight, color, surface, and quality.

Third—Uniform specifications.

Fourth—Improved methods of manufacture leading to a reduction in the waste of materials and to a more intelligent management of paper mills by the training of skilled workers and technically equipped superintendents.

"The association believes," he said, "that with improved management the modern mills would yield a handsome profit and supply white paper to the consumers at 1¾ cents a pound delivered in the press room.

"The imminence of the trade war with Canada is the outcome of the effort whereby Senator Hale succeeded in taxing users of $50,000,000 worth of print paper annually to help his Maine constituents."

Medill McCormick, publisher of THE TRIBUNE, also denounced the present tariff on paper and the men in congress who blocked the efforts towards its real reduction.

Ridder's Letter to Taft.

The letter indorsed by the two publishers' associations was written some time ago to President Taft by Herman Ridder, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' association. The joint protest was registered at the annual meetings of the associations in Chicago.

The letter is as follows:

"To the President: The full text of your address at Winona, Minn., on the tariff bill has just come to hand. With the utmost respect we submit that the statement respecting the paper schedule shows that you could not have correctly read or understood what the print paper paragraph contained as it passed the house of representatives. You were apparently misled by designing men into a serious blunder when in the closing days of the tariff conference they induced you to reverse your previous attitude upon print paper and changed your notions of what the Mann committee recommended and of what the house of representatives had approved.

"The Mann committee, after a ten months' investigation, marked by unusual thoroughness, reported that a rate of $2 would cover the difference in cost of production at home and abroad. The draft it proposed absolutely safeguarded American paper mills against the serious Canadian tangle which your advice to the tariff conferees has since precipitated.

Points Out Quebec's Decision.

"The fixing of the rate on print paper at $3.75 a ton, which you advised, has decided the province of Quebec to prohibit the exportation of its pulpwood, and many American paper mills must close or move to Canada to obtain their supplies of raw material.

"The country is now in a fair way for a trade war with Canada because of your apparent failure to correctly read the Mann committee's recommendations. We are threatened with an industrial disturbance which will involve business interchanges with Canada amounting to $285,000,000 per annum.

"We sincerely trust that you can find some method of rectifying the mistake into which you were led. We fully appreciate the difficulties and responsibilities of your exalted office and we believe you are trying to do the best you can. We know that you must rely upon others for your information. We feel that every citizen is under obligation to help you. Therefore we write this letter to you. HERMAN RIDDER,
"President American Newspaper Publishers' Association."

Convention Urges Reduction.

After the letter was read a copy was transmitted to the meeting of the Illinois Daily Newspaper Publishers' association, which was held at the La Salle hotel. The latter association unanimously indorsed the resolutions which had just been passed by the Inland Daily Press association. These resolutions were as follows:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Inland Daily Press association, urge upon congress such changes in the tariff provision on pulp and print paper as will insure a full supply of pulpwood for American paper mills. And be it further

Resolved, That we approve the text of the proposed letter to the president, herewith contained, in the matter of print paper, which letter has been approved by the representatives of the American Newspaper Publishing association, and the officers of this association are authorized to sign a copy of that letter in our behalf.

Course in Journalism.

The members of the Illinois Daily Newspaper Publishers' association heard the aims and plans to train newspaper men by means of a university course in journalism in the afternoon at their session in the La Salle hotel.

Walter Williams, dean of the school of journalism of the University of Missouri, who recently has returned from a trip to Europe, explaining to the newspaper publishers something of his ideas upon the proper training for successful newspaper men, and asserted that a collegiate course such as is offered at his institution was of inestimable advantage to those who desired to enter newspaper work.

"Journalism is a trade to him who knows only its mechanical side," he said. "May not there be training for trade? Journalism is a business to those who know only its barter and sale of news, subscription, advertising. May not business be learned? Journalism is a profession to those who hold it to be, in truest sense, for the recording and interpreting of the world's events. May not there be training for the profession?

"The only position successfully filled without training is that of idiot.

Prophets Made, Not Born?

"Journalism is the profession of the interpreter. Shall there be no training for the interpreter? It is the profession of the prophet. Shall there be no school of the prophets?

"The trained man succeeds best everywhere. To confess otherwise makes journalism a profession for the ignoramus and the fool.

"But what and how this training?

"The old plan was in the newspaper office only, by practice on the public. The new plan is in schools of journalism.

"The newspaper office plan is as old as a newspaper office. It has produced—it will produce—many great journalists. There were surgeons before the medical school came and there were lawyers before the school of law. But today no man would trust his property right to an untrained lawyer or his life in the hands of any physician who knew not the medicine of the schools.

"The school of journalism is a newer plan. It may give only certain training, as law schools and medical schools can give only certain training. He who receives this training, however, will be better fitted for journalism and more quickly a leader in it than without the training.

Teach Newspaper English.

"What shall the School of Journalism teach? English, of course—newspaper English—not the dry as dust English of an antiquated text book; the English of the best journalist rather than the English of Chaucer and Spenser. The copy readers make the language of today. The school may train in copy reading. It will teach history. No man may understand today without knowledge of the background of history. It will teach economics, the fledgling science of sociology, and give an insight into public law. It will have professional courses. It will teach advertising and publishing. It will teach news gathering, reporting, the value of news, its presentation and display. It will teach newspaper administration, the direction and production of the editorial page. It will teach the libel law.

"If the Missouri plan be followed, it will teach these professional courses not by lectures only, but by laboratory as well. By practice each afternoon upon a daily newspaper—not a college publication, but a general daily newspaper—it will seek to add skill to culture. To acquire skill in medicine and surgery the young doctor walks the hospital wards. To acquire skill in teaching the embryo teacher has his practice school. So training in journalism must, in my opinion, give laboratory practice upon an adequate journal. This is the Missouri plan.

How About Untrained Writers?

"No untrained lawyer is permitted to practice by statutory enactment. No untrained doctor may hold certificate from the board of health. No untrained teacher may instruct in our schools. Shall the untrained journalist be permitted to practice first upon the body politic?

"Journalism is just finding itself. It was always the fourth estate. It is now the first power. Shall it rise to its opportunity, secure for the men and women who are to go into it the largest possible training?

"Training means a really free press, a press of largest public service. There is no thralldom for the trained man. In the school of journalism he may learn high ideals, the ethics of the profession, and learn to maintain the dignity of the noblest calling known to man.

Talks on News Phases.

"News Phases," dealt with from the standpoint of the news producer was the subject of an informal talk by Medill McCormick, given before the members of the association at a luncheon given in the THE TRIBUNE composing room at noon.

The Illinois publishers adjourned in the evening following a banquet at the La Salle hotel. Several speakers indorsed a plan suggested by President Harry M. Pindell of the Peoria Journal for the adoption of a full course of journalism at the state university. President James of the Illinois State university was one of the speakers and he declared himself in favor of the journalistic course.

Among the speakers at the banquet were Col. Stanley Brown of the Rockford Star, who acted as toastmaster; Douglas Malloch of Chicago, Fred Sterling of Rockford, Thomas Reese of Springfield, N. J. Cobb of Freeport, W. A. Townsend of Springfield, and H. N. Wheeler of Quincy.

DEATH FULFILLS WILL TERMS.

Porter J. G. Carson Held Clerkship for Life at Hyde Park Hotel.

The terms of the will of the late Paul Cornell, giving a life position at the Hyde Park hotel to Porter J. G. Carson were fulfilled yesterday when Mr. Carson was found dead in bed at the home of his niece, Mrs. M. B. Giberson, of Marshall, Mich., whom he was visiting.

Mr. Carson was chief clerk at the hotel for eighteen years. Mr. Cornell and the chief clerk were close friends, and at the time of Mr. Cornell's death, five years ago, he stipulated in his will that Mr. Carson was to be retained as chief clerk as long as he lived.

Mr. Carson was 63 years old. He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and before coming to Chicago was manager of a hotel in Omaha, Neb.

Meat Packers of Nation Gathered at Great German Dinner.

PACKERS DINE LIKE BARONS

Old German Customs Followed in Great Annual Banquet.

PIG RULER OF THE FEAST.

J. Ogden Armour, Louis F. Swift, and Edward Morris at Tables.

The large ballroom of the La Salle hotel might have been the great banquet hall of a feudal castle of Germany in the medieval days last night. The occasion might have been a celebration at the height of Yuletide. The diners might have been feudal barons of old, gathered to feast and make merry.

It needed only the touch of a magician's wand to accomplish the transformation and to change the men who feasted from the black clad diners of the prosaic twentieth century to the rolstering barons resplendent in doublet, great boots, and plumed headgear of feudal Germany.

The occasion was the banquet, the chief event of the annual convention of the American Meat Packers' association. It was a "German dinner" this year by way of variation from the "old English" dinner of last year. It was a dinner at which King Pig reigned and at which the tables resounded with the clash of steins and the merriment of Yuletide. In every way the appointments were a replica of the Christmas feast which still is held in Germany.

Pig was king, and his reign was supreme. As the curtains closing the entrance to the banquet hall were swung back by two waiters costumed in long red coats barred with black, satin knee breeches, silk hose, and buckled shoes, the diners caught a glimpse of a great statue of King Pig standing rampant before the speakers' table. The king was enthroned on a great barrow and at his feet reposed the spoils of the chase, the carcasses of two wild boars.

Festal Ceremonies Begin.

When the guests had found their places a long procession of waiters, all clad in red coats and knee breeches, filed through the room and lined up in front of the master of ceremonies, Oscar F. Mayer, chairman of the banquet committee, for the signal for the feast to begin.

The signal given they disappeared, only to return bringing in the great boar's head, decked with spice and holly, holding between its gleaming tusks the traditional spiced apple. Behind the boar's head, on barrows, came the great banquet cake and creations of the culinary art. The procession marched in stately manner about the banquet hall and reposed its tasures at the feet of King Pig.

The next events came after the first courses had gone the way of all good victuals. With a fanfare of trumpets the long line of servers again appeared, each bearing on high a great trencher on which reposed a whole roasted suckling pig. As the procession appeared the orchestra struck up "The Watch on the Rhine," and the banqueters broke into a thundering chorus.

Then each waiter deposited his burden at a table, and then for the first time the diners caught the significance of the German place cards which lay beside each plate.

"Wer kann ein Ferkel vorschneiden," was the pertinent query borne on the cards. Who could carve a roast pig? Chairman Mayer led the attack, standing at the speakers' table and carving for his near neighbors. Not to be outdone and to maintain their reputation as packers, James Agar, Arthur Meeker, and Edward Morris were among the first to grasp carving knife and fork and serve their fellow diners.

Armour and Swift Backward.

J. Ogden Armour and Louis Swift may be expert carvers, but they refused to take chances and left the carving for their tables to the attendants, as also did Gustavus Swift and Thomas J. Connors.

With the serving of the roast pig, waiters appeared, bearing swinging baskets between them, two and two, filled with German steins imported from Munich expressly for the occasion. The steins were mounted with silver tops and bore the monogram of the association and the date, "A. M. P. A., Chicago, 1909."

When the coveted souvenirs bid fair to give out before each diner had received one, there was a rush, which was stemmed only when other waiters bearing additional loaded baskets appeared. Other souvenirs were ash trays supported by rampant or couchant pigs in every conceivable design, and jars of old English tobacco such as was served at the Old English dinner last year.

Gen. Michael Ryan of Cincinnati was the first speaker and introduced L. Harry F. Freeman, the toastmaster.

"Prior to three years ago," said Gen. Ryan, "we knew of the big Chicago packers only as they were pictured by their enemies. Since we have met them in the association we have found that they are good fellows. We have banished all of the doubt and distrust we held toward these men and we now view them as they are—the men of Chicago who have built up the greatest industry in the world."

Harrison Finds New "Yards."

James S. Agar told funny stories for five minutes, and was followed by Carter H. Harrison, former mayor of Chicago.

"It was my intention to speak of the relation of the city to the stockyards," said Mr. Harrison. "Well, a short time ago I went down to the stockyards, and it did not seem like the same old place of other days. The stockyards are now effeminate. There are flowers and grass, and a small park called Armour court, and the streets and alleys are paved now. The rich odors of other days are missing."

William J. Calhoun spoke on "The Relation of the Packing Industry to the Public, saying:

"Criticism that was unfounded and ill advised has been repeatedly aimed against the big packers. These attacks were prompted by sensationalists, and without proper regard for truth and for the purpose of furthering the public good. Your industry is of such a nature as to easily challenge the criticism of the public, because it is so near to the home and the necessities of the home."

New Officers Elected.

The business sessions closed in the afternoon with resolutions and the election of officers. The new officers of the association are:

President—Charles Rohe, New York.
Vice president—Joseph Allerdice, Indianapolis.
Secretary—George L. McCarthy, New York.
Treasurer—Michael Hoffman, Cincinnati.
Executive committee—A. G. Glick, Oscar F. Mayer, F. T. Fuller, Jacob C. Dold, Charles H. Ogden, Jacob Bleswanger, Pierre Garneau, George A. Hormel, and E. W. Peniey.

President Taft was praised in one resolution and in another the packers requested the appointment of a government commission to render final decision on questions of meat preservatives.

EVANSTON GETS PLAYGROUND; GIFT OF "SILENT" SMITH HEIR.

Plan of William S. Mason to Present Block of Ground Anonymously Is Upset by Act of Council.

The gift to the city of Evanston of a playground to be equipped at a cost of $25,000, independent of the value of a block of ground in the city, came to light at a meeting of the city council of the suburb last night. The donor of the playground, according to the statement of Ald. E. C. Carter, is William S. Mason, a nephew and one of the heirs of the late James ["Silent"] Smith.

Mr. Mason was unable to go ahead with the work of fixing up the playground on account of an alley that runs through the ground. He arranged with Ald. Carter to present an ordinance to have the alley vacated, and it was planned to rush the ordinance through the council without letting any one know of the proposed gift.

Ald. P. B. Bass objected, and in order to insure the passage of the measure, Ald. Carter was forced to explain the reason for vacating the alley. The rules then were laid aside and the ordinance passed.

The playground comprises a block of ground located between Ashland and Dewey avenues and Simpson and Foster streets.

CRUEL! ACTORS' COATS STOLEN.

Winter Apparel of Bush Temple Thespians Taken as Chilly Blasts Are Near.

John J. Long is being held by the police on suspicion that he stole two overcoats from actors at the Bush Temple theater last evening.

The overcoats, valued at $40 each, were missed by Henry J. Walker, 1749 West Chicago avenue, and Nathaniel Anderson of the Bush Temple theater.

Long was seen at the place about 9 o'clock, and again about 12 o'clock, and had been there on previous evenings so often that he aroused suspicion.

ACCUSED OF $30,000 FRAUD

DEALS ARE IN REAL ESTATE.

"Fictitious Deeds and Bad Checks" Figure in the Charges.

Charged with operating a confidence game, Frank E. Mick, a real estate agent with offices at 85 Dearborn street, was arrested yesterday on warrants sworn out before Municipal Judge Beitler by Hill's National Reporting company.

Mick is accused of defrauding Harvey W. Murray, a lifelong friend, of $30,000 by means of loans on alleged worthless collateral. After his arrest he declared that he would be able to show all his business transactions were legitimate.

Bonds fixed at $2,500 were secured and he was released. Mick formerly lived with his family at 6318 Greenwood avenue, but moved from there two months ago.

Mick's operations, according to information said to be in the hands of the reporting agency, involved several go-betweens, who were induced, it is said, to sign worthless checks and deed over fictitious property for from $5 to $10 an instrument.

Murray is general American agent for the Aachon-Munich Fire Insurance company of Germany, with offices at 153 La Salle street. He says that he began loaning Mick money on the notes of various alleged customers three years ago. These notes were partly redeemed and others issued until finally Murray was behind, it is alleged, over $30,000.

The matter was then turned over to the Hill agency for adjustment. Thomas P. Walls declares that Mick induced him to sign three notes for $500, $1,000, and $2,000.

E. G. Bowzer declared that he gave his personal notes to Mick and was induced to sign them, their face values reading $2,500 for $5 each. Investigation is said to have shown that Mick borrowed money on alleged worthless deeds to Michigan land.

PREPARE TO MEET SUBWAY CHARGES

Arrangement Made to Carry On Affairs Until Paying Basis Is Reached.

$425,000 NOW IS DUE.

Death of E. H. Harriman Upset Plans for Future Conduct of the Concern.

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—At the conferences between the Harriman-Armour interests in the Chicago Subway and the representatives of the original promoters of the enterprise, which have been going on for the last two weeks, an arrangement has been made, it was said today, by which the fixed charges of the company will be met until it is able to get its present system in full operation.

December Interest Is $425,000.

The December first interest on the $17,000,000 5 per cent bonds outstanding amounts to $425,000, and the company's operations at present are said to not meet the fixed charges.

Hitherto the interest payments have been made possible by the funds advanced by the Harriman-Armour interests, who have taken the notes of the company, totaling some $11,000,000, secured by $13,000,000 of the company's bonds.

Harriman's Death Upsets Plans.

Mr. Harriman's death, coming at a time when the company's operations were still limited by the unsettled state of the relations between the railroads, the shippers, and the company, and before the completion of its dock terminal, it became necessary to settle the question of where the funds were to come from to meet the interest until the returns began to come in.

The New York conferences were called for this purpose, and it was said today that never has there been a question that the property would be taken care of.

RUSH WILL COST TWO CLASSES.

U. of C. Dean Says He Will Suspend Both Freshmen and Sophomores.

Dean George E. Vincent of the University of Chicago yesterday threatened suspension for both lower classes if the talked of class rush comes off.

Early yesterday morning students awoke to find "twelve commandments" issued by the sophomores in answer to proclamations of the freshmen, and Marshall field fences were washed white with huge letters spelling "Down with unlucky 13."

"If necessary," said Dr. Vincent in warning the students, "we will drop both the freshmen and sophomore classes, but we will not permit any rushing to go by unpunished."

Take Thirty-four in Gambling Raids.

Sixteen colored gamblers were arrested in a saloon at West Lake and North Morgan streets. Detectives also raided five alleged handbooks, arresting eighteen men, thirteen of whom, taken to a place at West Madison and Halsted street, was charged with disorderly conduct.

GIPSY USES BIBLE TO UPHOLD MARCH

Evangelist Tells Critics Pharisees Protested When Savior Went to Sinners.

MANY DENOUNCE PARADE.

Graham Taylor Declares That Scores Were Given First Insight of Vice.

Half of Gipsy Smith's sermon at the Seventh regiment armory last night carried a measure of veiled sarcasm for those who had opposed the invasion of his revival host into the "red light" region.

Throughout the day, in every section of the city, there had been discussion pro and con of the midnight parade and the strange religious meeting in the Alhambra theater. As though sensible of conflicting waves of criticism and commendation, the Romany preacher held the bible in his hands as last night's meeting began, with 6,000 in the great hall and 500 outside, and from it quoted passages indorsing the position he took with reference to the appeal to the under world.

"Then drew near him the publicans and the sinners to hear him, and both the pharisees and the scribes murmured."

Gipsy Smith read the text twice, and paused long to let the words sink fully into the consciousness of his hearers. Men and women felt that he had selected the passage as a vindication for himself.

Quotes Bible to Uphold "Invasion."

"And some of the great-grandchildren of those pharisees are living in Chicago today," he continued. "It was charged that Jesus received sinners and ate with them. That was a strange and unusual way to treat sinners. They were in the habit of building barriers against the sinners, of putting them in deep dungeons, and of keeping them separated. But Jesus went to them.

"You touch sinners in a kid glove sort of fashion, but Jesus goes to the lowliest and lifts them up. You all are sinners.

"You resent it? If you do think you are self-righteous, bring a pen with you and come scratch the cross from the bible. Bring an ax and chop the cross down, for there is no need of it if you are as good as you think you are. But be careful while you are chopping it down that your arm don't rot.

"God loves those who are rejected by those who think they are somebody."

Reads Letter from Levee Woman.

"Just let me read this letter from a woman who was benefited because we went to the haunts of vice last night."

The evangelist read a letter signed "A Sinning Woman," in which she declared she could not come to the meetings, but asked to be prayed for and begged heaven to prolong the life of the gipsy preacher.

A hush fell over the audience as Gipsy Smith read. He paused for nearly half a minute and that marked the turning point in the discourse. When he resumed all apparent bitterness was gone from his voice. He told the story of a mother's love for a wayward boy and then calledupon men and women to stand for prayers. Two hundred rose from their seats and made their way to the inquiry room.

Disapproval from those opposed to the levee invasion was even stronger than before the demonstration, while leaders in the movement expressed satisfaction and belief that good had been done.

Graham Taylor Sees Harm.

"It was the worst thing that could have happened," said Graham Taylor. "I am more than ever convinced of the harm done. Thousands went through the district who will not be satisfied with this one trip but will surely return. The trip aroused their curiosity, played with the most dangerous kind of fire. The police are striving to make the levee unattractive. The parade made it the opposite."

"My former views have not been changed," said Chief of Police Steward. "I can't see that any possible good can come from the parade."

"The district could afford to pay Gipsy Smith for repeating such a demonstration," said Inspector Wheeler. "The advertisement is the greatest ever given the resort owners. I do not think that the parade had anywhere near as good results as would quieter methods."

Bishop W. F. McDowell of the Methodist church and Edwin S. Fechheimer, president of the Ethical Culture society, could not see that the parade would have any positively good results, and thought that a great deal of harm might follow, bringing into the section people who might not have ever gone otherwise.

The Rev. Johnston Myers admitted that, while good was done, there was a great deal of harm. "Ordinarily," he said, "the leader knows best what he is doing, but I do think it a grievous mistake to have taken young boys and girls along."

Urges Greater Method.

The Rev. Lorenzo D. Case of St. Paul's Universalist church questioned the existence of any good results whatever, saying that half a dozen people of the right sort, going in quietly, could accomplish much more.

"The affair bore out my original statement," said Dean Walter T. Sumner of the Cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul. "Before the parade I said I thought the results would be bad rather than good, and I am now convinced of it."

The Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus would add nothing to his statement in which he expressed deep regret over Gipsy Smith's action in leading the parade through the levee.

The Rev. A. C. Dixon of the Moody church said:

"There was no harm done. It is good for people to know the real conditions that exist there. Ignorance will do them far more harm than knowledge."

Cheney Commends Parade.

"I cannot believe that any people whom the movement brought in for the first time staid after the parade had left," said Bishop Charles E. Cheney. "I believe that five minutes of the gospel songs helped those poor, forsaken creatures wonderfully." Others approving the demonstration were Bishop Coadjutor Samuel Fallows, the Rev. E. H. Curtis of the Woodlawn Presbyterian church, James K. Shields of the Anti-Saloon league, Arthur B. Farwell, and William A. Brubaker, chairman of the Prohibition central committee.

HARAHAN ASKS COURT ORDER GIVING NAME TO GRANDCHILD.

President of Illinois Central Wants Theodora Shirley, Now Member of Family, to Adopt His Patronymic.

After making her one of his family for the last eight years, James T. Harahan, president of the Illinois Central Railroad company, yesterday filed a petition in the Circuit court asking that his granddaughter, Theodora Shirley, 16 years old, be given the right to adopt his name.

The girl is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Nicol and was born Oct. 7, 1893. Mr. Harahan says she was abandoned by her father June 17, 1901, after her mother obtained a decree of divorce because of cruelty. The mother was given custody of the child.

It is the wish of the grandfather and the mother, according to the affidavits on file, that the girl be given Mr. Harahan's name.

The petition was filed by John G. Drennan, attorney for the Illinois Central Railroad company.

POLICEMEN OFF AMBULANCES

Chief Steward Adds to His List in Abolishing "Soft Snaps."

HAS NEW SERGEANT SYSTEM.

Council Asked to Eliminate Distinction in Three Grades.

For the last two days there have been no policemen on ambulance duty, and it is possible that such assignments will be added to the list of "soft snaps" that are to be abolished by Chief Steward.

At present it is no more than an experiment. If the ambulance service is handled efficiently by the drivers and the physicians who regularly accompany them and such patrolmen as reach the scene of accidents and crimes, the ambulance assignments will cease.

"The action was taken on Monday at the suggestion of Health Commissioner Evans, who is aiding us in the attempt to get as many men on post duty as possible," said Chief Steward, "but it is not final, and the men may go back to the ambulances if we find the service is crippled by their absence Only sixteen men have been on this work, and we can spare them if it is necessary because of its importance."

Sends Protest to Council.

The chief is looking forward with interest to the meeting of the council committee on police tomorrow afternoon, when his plan for eliminating the distinctions between the positions of detective, patrol and desk sergeants will be considered.

At present there are eighteen patrol sergeants and nine desk sergeants on duty in the detective bureau and twenty detective sergeants are doing the work of patrol or desk sergeants.

"I have been informed," said Chief Steward in his communication to the mayor asking immediate action in the matter, "that this has been brought about by the exigency of the service and the necessity of assigning men with some regard of their personal aptitudes. The result of this is demoralizing in effect.

"For instance, detailing detective sergeants to the position of acting patrol sergeants means the assigning of men to those positions who are not uniformed and, regarding their positions as more or less temporary, they do not procure uniforms. This results in a number of patrol sergeants being uniformed and a number not.

Says Present System Is Wrong.

"Men assigned to this duty temporarily are reluctant naturally to take action in many instances where they would not hesitate if their assignment was understood to be permanent. This demoralizes their effectiveness.

"As there is a grade of lieutenant, captain and inspector, so there should be one grade of sergeant and the various duties which naturally would be performed by a sergeant can be assigned to such sergeants as by temperament and experience would promise best results."

His suggestion that the remedy lay in an amendment to the city code was based on an opinion from the law department.

CHILD KILLED, THREE HURT IN STREET CAR ACCIDENTS.

Baby Dashed to Death Crossing Tracks, Two Men in Wagon Run Down, and Girl Severely Injured.

Celia Arado, 3 years old, 1036 North Artesian avenue, was killed instantly when struck by a south bound Western avenue car last night while attempting to cross the tracks at Western and North avenues. The motorman was unable to stop the car in time.

Two men were severely injured at Archer avenue and Wallace street when a west bound Archer avenue car struck a wagon in which they were riding.

They were Charles Smith, 3425 Archer avenue, and Antonio Matchnife, of the same address. Traffic was tied up for half an hour.

Emma Wachtman, 6 years old, 3731 Waveland court, narrowly escaped being killed when she was struck by a north bound car at North Clark and Grace streets. She was severely cut and bruised.

SELFRIDGES BACK; GUESTS OF MANY CHICAGO FRIENDS.

Department Store Man Declares His London Place a Big Success—Joseph Field Also Comes Over on a Visit.

Harry Gordon Selfridge and Joseph Field arrived in Chicago yesterday. Mr. Selfridge was accompanied by his wife and two daughters, Miss Rosalie and Miss Violetta. Mr. Field, who is the brother of the late Marshall Field and was for many years superintendent of his retail store here, came alone. He will be the guest of his son, Stanley Field.

Mr. Selfridge said that his department store in London was a success.

"Advertising is a perfected art over there," he said further, "but there is not so much attention paid to the department store branch of it. You don't see full pages containing mention of almost everything in the store, but there is a great deal of skillful advertising of individual articles."

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Shedd entertained the Selfridges at dinner last night. Later they attended the theater. Tonight Mrs. Tracy Drake will give a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Selfridge and almost every day and evening has been taken for their entertainment. Mrs. Selfridge and the Misses Selfridge will remain about ten days with Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Chandler of Rush street.

REFUSES CLEMENCY TO SLAYER

Board of Pardons Denies Request to Commute Sentence of Negro Who Killed Wife.

Jailer Will T. Davies received word from Gov. Deneen informing him that the state board of pardons had denied the request to commute the death sentence imposed upon Andrew Williams, the negro condemned to die next Friday at noon.

Williams will be the first man executed in Cook county for nearly two years. The last person hanged was Richard Walton, who was executed Dec. 12, 1907.

Williams was convicted of murdering his wife, Ophelia Williams, at their residence in West Fifty-ninth street. He shot her during a quarrel. The man claimed the shooting was an accident.

"MIKE DE PIKE" HEITLER'S TRIAL BEGINS THIS MORNING.

Jurors Secured to Hear Evidence Against Three Men Alleged to Have Conspired to Get McCann Witness Out of Town.

The hearing of evidence in the trial of "Mike de Pike" Heitler, Samuel (Coxey) Bloom, and Louis Hirsch, accused of conspiring to get Morris Shatz out of the city to prevent him from testifying against Edward McCann, the convicted police inspector, will begin this morning.

Some dissatisfaction was expressed last evening because Judge McSurely allowed the jurors, the last of whom was chosen at 4 o'clock, to go home for the night. Before excusing them the court gave them definite instructions to talk to no one concerning the case.

Assistant State's Attorney John F. Flemlnz, who is prosecuting the three men, said the state would submit all its evidence this morning and he expects a conviction. Morris Shatz will testify that he was offered $500 to go to Panama. Harry London will testify for the state. It is said he has made a confession to the state's attorney.

Other witnesses for the state will be Detectives Loula and O'Keefe of the state's attorney's office and Operator Jacobs of the Wile detective agency.

TEARS FAIL TO MOVE JUDGE.

Despite His Weeping in Court J. Chapeck Is Sentenced to 27 Months in Prison for Mail Frauds.

Joseph C. Chapeck's plea for mercy on account of his wife and family failed before Judge Landis in the District court yesterday. He was sentenced to serve twenty-seven months in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., for alleged fraudulent use of the United States mails.

Chapeck confessed to answering advertisements for help, obtaining advance salary and expense money, and then failing to report for duty. Chapeck wept in court, but his tears brought a frown to the face of Judge Landis.

"Yours is a bad case, Chapeck," he said. "You've done some pretty bad things, and yet you come here blubbering like a baby for freedom. I shall have to punish you as you deserve."

RELATIVES OF KENTUCKY MAN STILL SAY HE WAS MURDERED.

Reports from Former Home of Charles Swinburne Declare His Kin Scout Story That He Killed Himself Here.

Although a coroner's jury had decided that Charles Swinburne, found dead at 410 State street, died by his own hand from carbolic acid poisoning, and a coroner's physician so agreed after holding a post-mortem examination, there still is doubt in the minds of his relatives.

Reports from Newport, Ky., where his body was taken, that Swinburne's skull was found to have been fractured in two places were followed yesterday by further investigation by detectives here.

Dr. H. G. Reinhardt of Coroner Hoffman's office held the post-mortem examination and reported that Swinburne had died from the effects of carbolic acid poisoning. When the body was found a vial that had contained carbolic acid was lying by its side. Inspector Wheeler expressed little faith in the theory that Swinburne had been murdered.

FINED FOR SLAPPING WIFE.

President of Manufacturing Concern Advised by Court to Adopt Ways of Peace.

"If your wife pulls your hair, don't slap her; kiss her," is the advice given yesterday by Municipal Judge Crowe to Nathan McCoy, president of the Extension Fence and Brace company of Portland, Ind., with offices at 747 West Lake street. McCoy paid a fine of $5 and costs.

McCoy was arrested on complaint of his daughter, Lena McCoy, a vaudeville performer, who declared her father had pinched her and slapped and pinched her crippled mother.

McCoy is said to have visited his wife, from whom he has been separated over a year, at his daughter's home, 1015 Montrose boulevard. Differences arose, the mother pulled McCoy's hair, and he retaliated by slapping her.

GARY STILL A BATTLEFIELD

Two Men Mortally Injured in a Political Riot on Streets.

MANY MINOR SKIRMISHES.

Adherents of W. C. Crolius and T. E. Knotts Meet in Fight.

Political war still prevails in Gary, Ind. Skirmishing parties of varying political complexions meet upon the streets at not infrequent intervals, and although sometimes bloodshed ensues, more often the combatants retire in disorder to nurse various bruises and contusions.

As a result of the fortunes of war yesterday two men are lying at the point of death in a Gary hospital, several others are being nursed for serious wounds, and others are boastfully exhibiting bruises received in battle. No arrests have been made, for arresting of political malcontents is not the fashion of the day.

Battle of Rhode Island Avenue.

The battle of Rhode Island avenue, by far the biggest of the day, was fought early in the afternoon. A small party of the adherents of Thomas E. Knotts, Independent Democrat, were strolling down the avenue when from around the corner of a side street came a group of the henchmen of W. C. Crolius, the regular Democratic nominee for mayor. To meet was the signal for a fight.

Those who witnessed the battle declare that the desire for combat seemed mutual. The two parties, each composed of about ten men, promptly mixed, and for ten or fifteen minutes a lively fight ensued, with victory hovering first over one side and then over the other. Knives, bludgeons, and fists were used indiscriminately. Finally, however, victory decided upon the Crolius army and descended to their aid.

When the dust of battle was cleared away Milo Jelovich and Peter Basvich, both Knotts' partisans, lay stretched upon the pavement, each mortally wounded. Jelovich was stabbed in vital parts and Basvich was unconscious with a cracked skull. They were taken to Mercy hospital, where Dr. Frank Smith, who attended them, declared that probably neither of them could survive his wounds.

Wounded Are Carried Away.

Several others of both parties were carried away from the field of battle, some of them carrying severe wounds, others merely bearing the painful recollection of forceful contact with fist or sticks and stones. These were taken to various boarding houses in the neighborhood, and it would have been difficult for the police to find them had they searched.

Patrick Finnerty, an undertaker of Gary and likewise a Democrat, and John Bennett, a Republican, are also among the wounded as the result of the series of skirmishes. These two, each carrying the conviction of the principles of his party, met upon one of the business streets, and a heated argument followed. The result is that Finnerty is nursing a broad scalp wound and Bennett was beaten.

Wayman to Address Bible Class.

State's Attorney Wayman will speak at a banquet of the Young Men's Bible class at the Waveland Avenue Congregational church, Waveland and Janssen avenues, tomorrow evening.

TAG ALL CHICAGO; PROCEEDS $50,000

Women Find Willing Victims Everywhere in Appeal for City's Children.

TRAIN RIDE OUT TO CRIB.

Mrs. F. C. Fletcher Surprises Workers Far from Shore; Others' Experiences.

Of all the many matrons and maidens who tagged Chicagoans and took away their money yesterday for children's charities none went so far as Mrs. F. C. Fletcher, 7046 Bond avenue.

This woman, who worked from "morn until midnight," scarcely stopping for a bite to eat, got into an iron basket at the land terminal of the tram running to the intermediate crib at Sixty-eighth street, sailed away like the old lady on her broom, tagged some astonished crib workers, and came back to land again after a ride of some four miles over a chilly lake—the hero of tag day.

Mrs. Fletcher was only one of hundreds who took possession of the town for the sake of its needy children. When night came and the last returns were in it was estimated that something near $50,000 had been collected. The receipts from last year's tag day were $27,000. Chicago unloosed its purse strings in unprecedented fashion.

Early Returns from Workers.

By the representatives of those of the various charities to count their takings in the evening the following estimated amounts were received:

| | |
|---|---|
| Margaret Etter creche | $3,800 |
| Chicago Refuge for Girls | 2,200 |
| Boys' Shelter club | 4,000 |
| Gad's Hill settlement (17 boxes uncounted) | 1,800 |
| South Side Free dispensary | 2,800 |
| Jackson Park sanitarium | 1,200 |
| Children's ward of the Provident hospital (30 boxes uncounted) | 2,600 |
| Bethlehem Day nursery | 1,200 |
| Chicago Convalescent Home for Women and Children | 3,000 |
| Stockyards Day nursery | 1,700 |
| Illinois Children's Home and Aid society | 3,500 |
| Children's Day association | 3,000 |

Four organizations will not report their returns until today. These include the Children's Ward of the Presbyterian hospital, St. Mary's Settlement and Day Nursery, St. Mary's Home for Children, and the Chicago Home for Boys.

With the arrival of the earliest commuter until the departure almost of the latest theatergoer the taggers beseiged the city. It was as impossible to prevent being tagged—or at least approached, and there were few, indeed, who failed to hear the children's voices calling as it was for those men at the crib.

No One Immune from Attack.

Into stores, banks, business offices, the city hall, the board of trade; into banquet rooms, restaurants, and hotels, the women went. They pinned their tags on acquiescing and smiling young men and old men, shopgirls, girl clerks, janitors, office boys, and all those included in that stream of humanity which flies into the loop district in the morning and deserts it at night.

Many observations were made by the workers. The found:

That the poor were more generous in proportion than the rich.
That the average amount given was 25 cents.
That the boxes averaged $35.
That many asked to be tagged.
That newsboys and messengers were good "customers."
That men gave more than women.
That "everybody was as polite as could be."

One of the unusual features of the day was an incident at the banquet of the Forty club at the La Salle hotel. What seemed to be a most attractive young girl entered the banquet hall and tagged the diners. "She" got $52.

Impersonates Girl; Collects $25.

This mysterious "she," who elicited as many dollars as pleasant glances, subsequently proved to be Casey Moran, a Seattle newspaper man. Mr. Moran turned over his "earnings" to the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, which had headquarters in the La Salle hotel.

Miss Sallie Fisher, an actress, collected $100.02. She worked in La Salle street, visited the board of trade, sang "Dearie" there, and secured quantities of bills from admirers.

Miss Emma Thomsen, 1949 Seminary avenue, was making great progress at Wabash avenue and Monroe street early in the morning when she lost a valuable black lynx scarf. This was said to be the only unfortunate event of the day.

Incidents Reported by Workers.

Mrs. Clayton Mark of Lake Forest was one of the hardest workers. In addition to her donation of the use of her automobile she got out on the street and solicited dimes and nickels industriously.

Mrs. William Brady, president of the Windsor Park Women's club, with four girls, secured $500 for the South Side Free dispensary.

CIVIC AWAKENING HAILED IN REPORT

Citizens' Association Praises State's Attorney Wayman and Chief Steward.

ASKS TWO MORE ORDERS.

Wants Resorts "Dry" and United Police Disbanded; W. C. Shurtleff President.

A "notable civic awakening and 'cleaning up' process in Chicago" was hailed in the annual report of the Citizens' association, presented at its annual meeting yesterday afternoon.

The credit for the beginning of this process is divided by the executive committee, Julius Stern, president, and Shelby M. Singleton, secretary, almost equally between State's Attorney Wayman and Chief of Police Steward. Each is given praise without criticism, but there is a suggestion that the chief of police can advance by at least two more sweeping efforts.

The report recommends that Chief Steward without delay issue the order he has under consideration stopping the sale of intoxicants in disorderly houses, and that he proceed to seek the disbandment of the organization within the police department known as the United Police.

The opening section of the report follows:

"At the beginning of the thirty-sixth year of its existence the Citizens' association is glad to take cognizance of recent developments which seem to presage a notable civic awakening and 'cleaning up' process in Chicago. Every friend of honest government in the community has derived encouragement and new hope from the success which up to this time has crowned the campaign against official 'graft' begun by State's Attorney Wayman.

Praised for McCann Conviction.

"By securing the indictment and conviction of Police Inspector Edward McCann for taking bribes from keepers of disreputable resorts on the west side Mr. Wayman has performed a service of great public value and has given nation-wide aid and comfort to those working for the betterment of the cities. By his efforts to put an end to attempts to tamper with jurors Mr. Wayman is also earning the gratitude of the public.

"Adopting the policy which for years has been urged by many students of police affairs, Mayor Busse, after the exposure of corrupt police conditions in the Desplaines street district, appointed as chief of police a man with military training who previously had not been connected with the department. The wisdom of this course has already been vindicated by the vigorous handling of police matters by the new chief, Col. Le Roy T. Steward.

"The manner in which Col. Steward, untrammeled by previous affiliations with any police clique or ring, already has imparted new life and effectiveness to the force under his command has been extremely refreshing to observers who had come to regard the city's police force as almost hopelessly demoralized.

Further Moves Are Urged.

"His sweeping orders in behalf of decency, if persistently enforced, will accomplish wonders in redeeming Chicago from the stigma due to police toleration of the open and shameless flaunting of vice. But he can strike a supreme blow in behalf of decency by divorcing the social evil from the liquor traffic. This can be accomplished by putting a stop to the illegal sale of liquor in houses of ill fame. This enforcement of law not only will largely reduce the number of such resorts in the city but will mitigate conditions in those which remain.

"By putting a stop to the granting of special favors, by holding each patrolman responsible for conditions on his beat, and by forcing the disbandment of the organization within the police department which has for years hired lawyers to defend policemen called before the trial board, Chief Steward can vastly better police conditions in Chicago."

At the meeting officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President—Wilford C. Shurtleff.
Vice President—Robert S. Hots.
Treasurer—John C. Black.
Secretary—Shelby M. Singleton.

Julius Stern, Joseph Donnersberger, and Moses E. Greenebaum were reelected members of the executive committee for terms of five years, and C. E. Wentworth was elected as a member of the committee to fill a vacancy.

Association's New President.

The new president, Wilford C. Shurtleff, who has been a member of the executive committee of the association for two years, is vice president of the wholesale drug firm of Morrison, Plummer & Co. He is a member of the national supreme council of the Royal Arcanum, of which he is a past grand regent, and he belongs to the Union league, the Chicago Drug and Oullmette Country clubs. He is 49 years old and lives in Wilmette.

COLORADO GOVERNOR DEALS BLOW TO "CONVICT FARM."

Declares State Would Not Guard Prisoners Sent from Illinois, as Planned by Chicago Women.

Gov. John F. Shaffroth of Colorado, yesterday dealt a blow to the convict farm plan of Mary Esther Ide and Mrs. David Ellsworth Lucas of Chicago.

"No state would be allowed to establish a convict farm in Colorado," said the governor. "Colorado would not undertake to guard the prisoners, who would be free men as soon as they reached the state. No comity among states will permit one state to exercise supervision over convicts from another state.

"If a convict be transported beyond the borders of a state having jurisdiction over him he becomes absolutely free, unless the original state issues requisition papers."

"So, even if the Illinois legislature should pass a law granting to prison wardens right to ship convicts out here we could not cooperate with them. Let Mrs. Lucas give her 4,000 acres to the Colorado penitentiary. We have convicts at Cañon City who could be trusted on a farm and to whom farm work would be a boon."

TOAST STEWARD IN VERSE AT THE FORTY CLUB'S BANQUET.

"Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," Contains Jest as to the Chief's Enforcement of the 1 A. M. Closing Order.

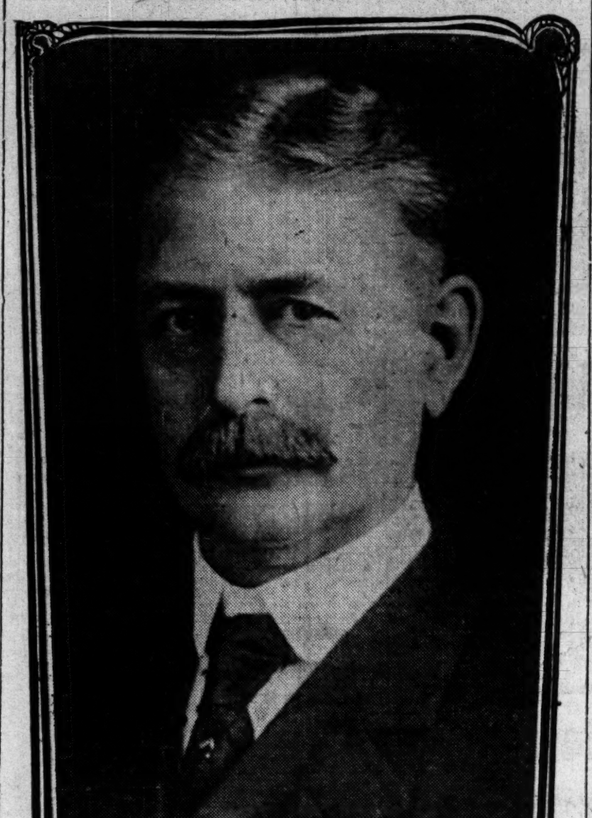

The monthly dinner of the Forty club took place at the La Salle hotel last night, with an attendance of 200 members. Chief of Police Leroy T. Steward, Postmaster D. A. Campbell, United States District Attorney E. W. Sims, Robert Hilliard, and George Evans were among the guests.

Charles Burras acted as toastmaster and fifty-six responded to calls for toasts. The feature was the presentation of a loving cup to each man present and the reading of a verse about him. The one on Chief of Police Steward reads:

Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
Some folks wonder who you are;
But if by I they're not shut tight,
They'll soon find out, all right, all right.

Denies He Is Autocrat.

"I have been called a czar. Any man who is speaker of the house is elected by a majority. When elected, if he does not exercise his duties in office in harmony with the wishes of the majority, you can brand him as a coward and a poltroon.

"The Republican party is supposed to have a majority in congress. The majority desired to pass an emergency currency law. The committee on currency and banking refused to report it. Under the rules there was no way the house could get control of that bill. The caucus adopted a resolution to compel the report, and then I felt compelled to recognize a representative who moved to suspend the rules. The majority favored the motion and it carried in spite of the opposition of a group under the leadership of a gentleman from New Jersey named Fowler.

"They call me a czar, but there never has been a day when the majority of the house could not consider any public bill on the calendar and do it under the rules. I have not the power of St. Peter. The speaker has no such power except in the charges made by some metropolitan newspapers in Illinois and in every state.

Denies Revolt in Illinois.

"What is a newspaper. If the man that makes it should appear he is no greater than you or I. A ton of paper, a barrel of ink, and a printing press. He writes, and it is printed. It is the truth or a lie. We are learning not to think everything is true because it is in print. So all this story about the czar. It is but sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal to deceive people.

"It is charged by a newspaper correspondent downstate, and he may have been instructed to write it, that a revolt against the czar had commenced and six Republican members of the house had joined it, but the correspondent didn't give their names. I know the Illinois delegation. I don't believe one of my colleagues, if he took that position, would hesitate in giving his name. I do not believe it is true.

"It has been charged that I discriminated against my colleagues in naming the committees. There are sixty-two committees and Illinois has seven chairmanships. You can't give according to population, but must give according to industry and experience. James R. Mann, at the head of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce is, in my mind, the best legislator in congress. When you get a good man send him back. You have, also, Martin B. Madden, Frank O. Lowden, and Harry Bartell on important committees."

Says "Dives" Must Go.

Mayor E. S. McDonald of Decatur declared the living question in municipal affairs to be the eradication of immorality. He is delivering the president's address to the association in the afternoon.

"We are going to drive from the cities the dens of vice," he said. "There is more cry of graft arising from the dive than any other source. I am not a prohibition believer or a local optionist, but a citizen. There is not a man, woman, or child not heartily in favor of the effort to drive this evil from the municipalities. We must deal with this moral question. The people are going to uphold the mayor and city officials who strike a blow at this curse.

"There will be a great many Waymans in the state of Illinois. There are many Waymans now among the state's attorneys. The vicious resorts must go. If a man wants to take a drink, that is his business, but society must rid itself of the dive, the thing that tears down humanity and stops the progress of municipal affairs.

"It is true that in the development of cities there are constantly cries of graft and criticism, much of which is untrue. By an organization of the mayors we can eradicate the criticism and bring to light the truth."

Mayor Albert Fehrman of Elgin delivered the address of welcome, and the response was given by Mayor W. A. Panneck of La Salle. The convention will be in session three days. Addresses were made today by Controller Walter H. Wilson, Tax Expert Frank L. Shepard, and Statistician Hugo S. Grosser of Chicago and Mayor Silas E. Cook of East St. Louis.

LORIMER IS BACK; DUE HERE FRIDAY

Senator Reaches New York After Trip to Study European Waterways.

LOCAL POLITICS WAITS.

"Blond Boss" Expected to Make Choice of Candidate for His Old Seat.

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. arrived at its Hoboken pier late tonight after one of the most tempestuous trips in its career, with a large number of well known folk of this continent and Europe who were unable to appear at all meals.

The only really pleasant day the voyagers had was today. On Saturday a comber came over the starboard bow and smashed two skylights, letting a flood into the reading room. The ship ran thirteen hours under reduced speed on this day to prevent scooping up the tall crests.

Many of the passengers who elected to leave the ship at Hoboken did not get away from the pier until after midnight. United States Senator William Lorimer of Illinois, who, accompanied by a Chicago engineer, Lyman E. Cooley, has been studying the waterways of Europe as a member of the waterways commission, was aboard the ship. He said

"I have found that the magnitude of our own waterways, as compared, for instance, with those of France, Germany, and Holland, puts the problem of constructing artificial streams in the United States and improving the great rivers in a class by itself. What might do for the rivers of Europe would not do for our own—such, for example, as the Mississippi and the Missouri.

Germans Harness the Rhine.

"I found that the German engineers had solved the problem of confining the Rhine within a definite course. Once that river cut up the same tricks as the Mississippi, carving out a bed for itself and roaming all over the country. It has been harnessed, just as we can, and I believe will, harness the Mississippi, making a course for it out of which it will not wander.

"Our study of European waterways was of some benefit, but not of so much value as it might have been if the conditions there resembled those here. I was surprised to see how well the Rhine had been utilized, shallow as it is, by the shippers. We saw hundreds of steel barges, which I understand have a life of about twenty years, being towed along the river. These barges have a draft of only six feet, but they carry 2,800 tons of cargo apiece. Larger steam barges, which go along the seacoast after leaving the lower part of the Rhine and have a draft of about ten feet, carry 3,000 tons. These barges interested us a great deal and they might be utilized in our own shallow waters."

Senator Lorimer said he had nothing to say of political affairs in Chicago, as he had been out of touch with the situation there. He will go there on Thursday to enlighten himself.

LORIMER TO APPROVE WATSON?

Senator Lorimer is expected in Chicago on Friday, and if he approves the name of Bruce Watson will go to the convention of the Sixth congressional district that same evening as the Lorimer candidate.

In the absence of the "blonde boss" his unofficial cabinet practically has determined that the man who with more or less comment held the position of state architect under the Yates administration shall be the choice of the organization to fill the year's vacancy caused by the election of their chief to the senate.

Gov. Deneen was in the city a few hours yesterday en route from the west back to the capital, and the announcement that he would return to Chicago on Friday started a few apparently short lived rumors that an effort might be made to swing Senator Lorimer over to some sort of a proposition in support of B. A. Eckhart, the Deneen candidate for the congressional vacancy, whom the Lorimer lieutenants have been slow to accept.

The discredit that was spared the Lorimer-Democratic theory was poured on this suggestion in abundance. Most of the Sixth congressional Deneenites, with Col. Eckhart himself in the lead, have become convinced that the formal appearance of the former president of the west park board in the field would be the immediate signal for the Lorimer-Democratic fusion.

The repeated reports that Roger C. Sullivan was "prepared to get behind" Ald. Nicholas R. Finn as the Democratic candidate were met with the repeated statement of the alderman's friends that the question of the council member's judgment about leaving his present good municipal berth for a year's visit to Washington would have to be considered before his candidacy could be announced. That judgment at present favors remaining in the council

FRANCE PUTS UP RATES TO U. S.

Government Officials, However, Do Not Expect Tariff War.

OLD TREATY IS UP OCT. 31.

New Act in This Country Names Date of Abrogation.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Government officials here are not disposed to regard the action of France in deciding to assess the maximum rate of duty against all imports from the United States as an evidence of her intention to enter into a tariff war with this government.

On Aug. 7 last President Taft, in pursuance of the provisions of section 4 of our new tariff act, gave formal notice to France, Switzerland, and Bulgaria that our commercial agreements with them would be terminated on Oct. 31 of this year. Other governments were notified that our commercial agreements with those countries would terminate on certain other specified dates.

About the middle of last month the secretary of state received from Consul General Mason at Paris the text of the announcement by the French government of the abrogation of our commercial agreement with that country and since that time there has been no expectation here other than that, beginning on Nov. 1, American exports to France would be taxed at its maximum rates, as from that date the exportations of France to the United States will likewise pay our full schedule rates. These rates will be continued until March 31, 1910, when the new maximum and minimum features of the act will go into effect.

France Most Severe to the U. S.

France, more than any other country in Europe, has discriminated against American products. Germany gives to the United States her minimum rates on about 95 per cent of our exportations to that country. France, however, has charged this country her maximum rates on all our exportations, with the exception of a few articles enumerated in section 3 of the Dingley tariff act. Under that section France has given us her conventional or reduced rate on canned meats, fresh and dried fruits, pork meats, lard, mineral oils, and coffee from Porto Rico, while the United States has given France reciprocally the benefit of a reduced rate on champagnes, brandies, argots, and a few other commodities of less consequence.

It remains to be seen whether between now and March 31 of next year France will give to the United States her minimum rates on substantially all of our exports into that country or accept the consequence of having to pay our maximum rates. These maximum rates are the regular schedule rates of the new tariff act with 25 per cent added.

The effect of having to pay our maximum rate would undoubtedly be to put France at a tremendous disadvantage as compared with practically all other European nations in handling American goods.

America to Boost Wine Duty.

America probably is France's best market for her brandies, champagnes, and other wines, and it is confidently expected that she will seriously consider between now and March 31 next whether she can afford to pay not only a rate considerably higher than she has been paying but an additional increase of 25 per cent over this higher rate.

MATTRESS TIED TO GRAZING HORSE SAVES PUPILS' LIVES.

Man Rushes After Runaway, Jumps on "Bedding," and Weight Swerves Animal from Path of Children.

The use of a wire-bed mattress as a weight to which to tie a grazing horse first imperiled and then saved the lives of a score of school children yesterday. It also enabled Mangus Petersen, 1646 East Sixty-sixth place, to take the role of rescuer by the simple act of jumping on the mattress.

Petersen was working in his yard when he saw the horse, dragging the mattress, dashing toward children leaving the Walter Scott school.

He attempted to grab the strap attached to the mattress and missed it. Then he jumped aboard the mattress.

His weight served to pull the horse to one side of the street and it ran clear of the children.

GAYNOR, IN LAIR, DISCLAIMS TIGER

Candidate in Wigwam Declares He Has Made No Pledges to Tammany.

AGAIN ATTACKS HEARST.

Bannard in Speeches Clings Closely to Business Issues of Campaign.

New York, Oct. 19.—"And so this is Tammany Hall. It is the first time that I have ever been here, but if this is Tammany Hall where is the tiger?"

These were the first words spoken tonight by William J. Gaynor, Democratic nominee for mayor of New York, as he gazed out over a sea of faces in the old structure on Fourteenth street known as the "wigwam," the headquarters of the most remarkable political organization in the world.

It was a typical Tammany ovation and a typical Tammany ratification meeting. The hall was packed, with here and there a woman's face in the audience. Although Judge Gaynor had delivered several addresses since his nomination, it was not until tonight that the Democratic ticket in Manhattan was officially "ratified."

Otto T. Bannard, maintaining his whirlwind pace, but adhering closely to business issues and avoiding personalities, delivered four speeches in Harlem tonight, but interest was centered in the Tammany gathering. Judge Gaynor used notes in delivering his address. He made thrusts at W. R. Hearst, his independent rival, and criticised Bannard.

Touches on "Personal Liberty."

He also touched on "personal liberty," traction problems, subways, and other issues of interest to the city only. He repeated that if there was to be any swallowing between him and the tiger he would be found on the outside. Referring to the office of mayor of New York, he classed it as second in importance only to the presidency of the United States.

He sought to refute the charge that he is strictly a Tammany candidate by declaring:

"I asked no organization, no party to nominate me, and I say to you now that I have made no promise to any man or organization. If there is any one here who believes I shall abandon my life record, why, I say, let him vote against me."

Words of Gaynor Cheered.

Gaynor's words were greeted with cheers. While Gaynor was speaking four big out of doors meetings were conducted from as many platforms to accommodate the great throng that could not get into Tammany hall. The splutter of fireworks, red fire and torches added to the confusion, but no one was seriously injured.

Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, was present, as were other prominent members of the organization.

Bannard Wants to Hit Graft.

In his speeches tonight, which were practically the same at all four points of address, Mr. Bannard said, among other things:

"I am not a windmill. I am a business man who wants to spend the hardest four years of his life in stamping out graft and introducing business machinery into New York city government. It can be done, and I believe I can do it."

He refused to be drawn into any controversy with Hearst, who at first accepted the nomination as a passive candidacy, heading the same ticket as Bannard, but who last night turned against the Republican nominee and attacked him bitterly.

Hughes Explains His Position.

In a letter to Gen. S. L. Woodford Gov. Hughes explained his declination to take part in the local campaign.

"Under our system," he wrote, "the governor is the reviewing officer, to whom the more important local authorities are accountable, and he should no conduct himself with regard to local controversies that to the greatest extent possible he may exercise this important jurisdiction in sustaining and dismissing charges, without suggestion of unfairness or improper motive."

Hearst Takes a Rest.

After his four speeches of last night Hearst rested during the night and did not appear in the campaign. Gaynor is still the favorite in the betting, although money for election betting seems scarce this year, or else those who wager on the results of elections are holding off for the situation to clear up.

At the Hoffman house, where many of the election wagers are posted, it was said that no prevailing odds have developed. There was wagered, however, $2,000 to $1,500, or 4 to 3, that Bannard would run third, and $2,000 was bet against $1,000 on Gaynor against the field.

COMING up in one of our elevators the other day, a man on his way to the overcoat floors said: "You have the best clothing store I ever saw. For ten years I was a department manager for ——" mentioning a prominent clothing concern in Chicago—"but I never saw such values, nor knew of anybody getting such treatment as I've had here."

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—the Illinois river valley north t are in the same f s the confiden has bought gold ne stock at 10 is waiting for it o to par.

For twenty-five years by the northern Illinois valley has agitat ed, and fought for a deep waterwa has been convention after conve battled for a twenty-four foot cha the Chicago government breakwa New Orleans jetties. Ten years ag sense reduced the demand to eig or more. Two years ago a boatload ans went to Memphis to contend f teen feet through the valley." At 000,000 bond issue election Peoria co the third county in the state in the affirmative majority.

Now Peoria sits back and wait little confidence in the boasts of L the promises of Deneen. The se in the state wants the cards dealt top of the pack, and it demands and passenger carrying channel bet ego and St. Louis, which will b handle the business which Peoria is will be created as soon as the wa deep enough.

Peoria Wants Real Water

THE TRIBUNE gent was taken to the Creve Cœur Peoria's desires were made clear and Peoria, with its tremendous manuf industries and its grain consumin ests, wants a waterway which will the grain and which will take its n tures out.

It wants a waterway which wi in raw materials and which will hau coal which can be dumped here by th load from the gigantic coal fields w within a 100 mile radius of the Illino

Incidentally the railroads which a structing immense terminals in Pe Pekin want a waterway, and this state made upon the responsibility of n person than James J. Hill. Mr. H trols the Burlington terminals here is working thoroughly with Peoria Illinois valley for a practical and a cable waterway.

But Peoria—and Peoria, as a term, for the entire Illinois river bed north La Salle—is a-weary with cheap p Peoria will send a delegation of fi its most conspicuous citizens to New next Saturday night. Its delegati insist that pure and unadulterated s eliminated from the waterway con and that the construction of a water made an honest and live proposition.

Cannery for Canal, "Issue."

If B. L. T. will pardon the grabbi an idea, the Illinois valley forces "a cannery" for the waterway "issue."

Peoria has the fortune, ill or other have been made famous as the greates producing center between the Atlan the Pacific. That is true enough, as th nal revenue receipts will prove. It m tures more agricultural implement any single state in the union. I were a decent and practical waterw tween Peoria and the gulf, plows an could be boated to South America, wh bulk of the business is, considerably c than the Illinois Central will carry it t Orleans.

Peoria has tried out the waterway g a feeble sort of way, due to the sandba the four feet of water from here sou get away the whisky from Peoria and barrels are necessary. The biggest c age plant in the world is here. A dink brought up enough staves from the river in Arkansas via the Mississippi Illinois rivers with great difficulty to eight freight car loads. Henry Dam Stops Traffic.

Peoria and the valley would like t round, trip business with Chicago, but haven't a chance in the world. Wat business northward ceases when the bump against the state lock and d Henry. It is a physical impossibili them to navigate the Illinois and Mi canal.

The point of the whole business Peoria standpoint is that there doesn't to be anything doing that rings sincer the waterway building line. This part section of the state appears to see littl gained to it by a prolonged wrangle be Lorimer and Deneen over who shall the $20,000,000 for a waterway between port and Utica, although it is quite wil spend the $20,000,000 for a second l hook to the Chicago drainage canal could be accomplished with a sincer purpose which would practically insu immediate continuation of the wat down to Peoria and on through the val

As incidental to the discussion the has found a veritable boon in the dra channel. Since the water was turne the Desplaines at Lockport by the sa trustees there has been enough water upper Illinois to permit continued tra a small scale between Peoria and H Packet business between Peoria an Louis has been uninterrupted by the st water.

Before the drainage canal was open Peoria-St. Louis packets had been com frequently to stop on their upstream at Beardstown, ninety miles down.

Other Towns Want Canal.

Chillicothe always has been strong waterway, and, situated at a strategic p point, it has waited long for results. L in Marshall county, said that it had b pessimistic over the prospects of any tangible and, after a decade of active paigning, it would sit by until the polit had finished manipulating.

The state convention of the Knigh Pythias of Illinois, is in session and the are crowded with representative men all over Illinois. Most of them seem know about THE TRIBUNE'S Florence H its waterway missionary trip, expressin keenest satisfaction in what had been in the upper valley, and what is true sentiment of the Illinoisans mo rectly affected.

Peoria is a city of motor boats, an club here is definitely committed to th terway proposition. It is especially int ed in the Peoria-Chicago connection conditions are even now the motor boat busy travelers between Lake Michigan this port. # WANT A WATERWAY WITHOUT POLITICS

People of Illinois Valley Urge State Leaders to Quit Wrangling.

PEORIA HOPES FOR GAIN.

Real Canal Would Give Its Products Gateway to South American Ports.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Peoria and the Illinois river valley north to La Salle are in the same fix as the confident man who has bought gold mine stock at 10 cents and is waiting for it to go to par.

For twenty-five years by the watch the northern Illinois valley has agitated, boasted, and fought for a deep waterway. There has been convention after convention. It battled for a twenty-four foot channel from the Chicago government breakwater to the New Orleans jetties. Ten years ago common sense reduced the demand to eighteen feet or more. Two years ago a boatload of Peorians went to Memphis to contend for "fourteen feet through the valley." At the $20,000,000 bond issue election Peoria county was the third county in the state in the size of its affirmative majority.

Now Peoria sits back and waits. It has little confidence in the boasts of Lorimer or the promises of Deneen. The second city in the state wants the cards dealt from the top of the pack, and it demands a freight and passenger carrying channel between Chicago and St. Louis, which will be able to handle the business which Peoria is confident will be created as soon as the water gets deep enough.

Peoria Wants Real Waterway.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S boat, Florence II., arrived in the Peoria harbor at 4 o'clock. It was met by a strong deputation of Peoria's responsible citizens. THE TRIBUNE contingent was taken to the Creve Cœur club and Peoria's desires were made clear and certain. Peoria, with its tremendous manufacturing industries and its grain consuming interests, wants a waterway which will bring in the grain and which will take its manufactures out.

It wants a waterway which will bring in raw materials and which will haul out the coal which can be dumped here by the trainload from the gigantic coal fields which lie within a 100 mile radius of the Illinois river.

Incidentally the railroads which are constructing immense terminals in Peoria and Pekin want a waterway, and this statement is made upon the responsibility of no other person than James J. Hill. Mr. Hill controls the Burlington terminals here and he is working thoroughly with Peoria and the Illinois valley for a practical and a practicable waterway.

But Peoria—and Peoria, as a term, is used for the entire Illinois river bed northward to La Salle—is a-weary with cheap politics. Peoria will send a delegation of fifteen of its most conspicuous citizens to New Orleans next Saturday night. Its delegation will insist that pure and unadulterated bunk be eliminated from the waterway convention and that the construction of a waterway be made an honest and live proposition.

Cannery for Canal "Issue."

If B. L. T. will pardon the grabbing off of an idea, the Illinois valley favors a "political cannery" for the waterway "issue."

Peoria has the fortune, ill or otherwise, to have been made famous as the greatest booze producing center between the Atlantic and the Pacific. That is true enough, as the internal revenue receipts will prove. It manufactures more agricultural implements than any single state in the union. If there were a decent and practical waterway between Peoria and the gulf, plows and such could be boated to South America, where the bulk of the business is, considerably cheaper than the Illinois Central will carry it to New Orleans.

Peoria has tried out the waterway game in a feeble sort of way, due to the sandbars and the four feet of water from here south. To get away the whisky from Peoria and Pekin barrels are necessary. The biggest cooperage plant in the world is here. A dinky boat brought up enough staves from the White river in Arkansas via the Mississippi and Illinois rivers with great difficulty to equal eight freight car loads. The little steamer hauled them in on barges and took back enough Pocahontas coal to make the expenses of the round trip.

Henry Dam Stops Traffic.

Peoria and the valley would like to do a round, trip business with Chicago, but they haven't a chance in the world. Waterway business northward ceases when the barges bump against the state lock and dam at Henry. It is a physical impossibility for them to navigate the Illinois and Michigan canal.

The point of the whole business from a Peoria standpoint is that there doesn't seem to be anything doing that rings sincerely in the waterway building line. This particular section of the state appears to see little to be gained to it by a prolonged wrangle between Lorimer and Deneen over who shall spend the $20,000,000 for a waterway between Lockport and Utica, although it is quite willing to spend the $20,000,000 for a second link to hook to the Chicago drainage canal if that could be accomplished with a sincerity of purpose which would practically insure an immediate continuation of the waterway down to Peoria and on through the valley.

As incidental to the discussion the valley has found a veritable boon in the drainage channel. Since the water was turned into the Desplaines at Lockport by the sanitary trustees there has been enough water in the upper Illinois to permit continued traffic on a small scale between Peoria and Henry. Packet business between Peoria and St. Louis has been uninterrupted by the stage of water.

Before the drainage canal was opened the Peoria-St. Louis packets had been compelled frequently to stop on their upstream trips at Beardstown, ninety miles down.

Other Towns Want Canal.

Chillicothe always has been strong for a waterway, and, situated at a strategic freight point, it has waited long for results. Lacon, in Marshall county, said that it had become pessimistic over the prospects of anything tangible and, after a decade of active campaigning, it would sit by until the politicians had finished manipulating.

The state convention of the Knights of Pythias of Illinois, is in session and the hotels are crowded with representative men from all over Illinois. Most of them seemed to know about THE TRIBUNE'S Florence II. and its waterway missionary trip, expressing the keenest satisfaction in what had been found in the upper valley, and what is the true sentiment of the Illinoisans most directly affected.

Peoria is a city of motor boats, and the club here is definitely committed to the waterway proposition. It is especially interested in the Peoria-Chicago connection. As conditions are even now the motor boats are busy travelers between Lake Michigan and this port. The Florence H. departs tomorrow morning and expects to arrive in Beardstown by nightfall.

REPORT H. M'K. TWOMBLY ILL.

Railroad Man, Who Is at New Jersey Home, Said to Have Dangerous Disease.

Morristown, N. J., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Although nothing can be learned at the home of Hamilton McK. Twombly in Florham Park as to whether he is dangerously ill, it was said today by friends of the family that the railroad man is suffering from a disease which is likely to prove fatal in a short time.

When an inquiry was made at his home in the morning as to his health the answer came: "We know nothing about his illness."

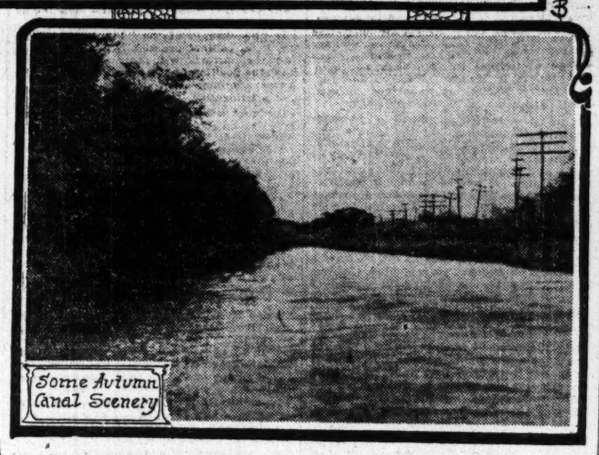

Mr. Twombly has been at his Florham Park home all summer, which is unusual for him.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

The moving illustrations at the Majestic this week picture the recent struggle for supremacy in our national diversion at Pittsburg and Detroit. With apologies to the Messrs. Sanborn, Lardner, and By Hek, it may be said that the most glittering features of that conflict are reproduced, showing Tyrus Cobb and Honus Wagner in embarrassed conversation before the game; "Babe" Adams "warming up" preparatory to his slaughter of the Tigers; Managers Fred Clarke and Hughey Jennings chewing gum and grass respectively; and divers other spectacular episodes in the famous hostilities. The Majestic's version of the games has much more action than the real thing inasmuch as the art of the kinodrome genius despises anything so conventional as a base on balls, depicting nothing less than a thrilling two bagger or a desperate slide for home. Those who have not yet had a sufficiency of the sport will be entertained by this counterfeit, for it is clear and exciting and should repay the patience necessary to sit through the preceding numbers of the bill. These include La Titcomb, a pictorial chanteuse who in white tights sings ballads in French and English while sitting astride an educated horse; Miss Mabel Montgomery and her company, who appear in a sort of farcical charade with noise as its chiefest attraction; Hyman Myer, who plays on the piano and makes bad puns; and Miss Mae Melville and Robert Higgins, who submit a unique dialogue not without its amusing elements. There are clowns, acrobats, violinists, contortionists and comedians, and the Pollard family, hailing from Australia, sing a comic operetta entitled "The Tourists."

Those who care for the human voice may hear that instrument in many of its various manifestations at the American music hall this week. First there is Bessie Greenwood, whose voice is said to be human, in popular selections, including all the vast pianola series, ranging from the works of Charles K. Harris to those of Harry Von Tilzer, and embracing the seductive melodies of our most famous local minstrel, Joseph E. Howard. Then there are drinking songs, prologues from "Pagliacci," sextettes from "Lucia," prayers from "La Forza del Destino," and other sorties into grand opera sung excellently by a troupe of Romany singers, whose prima donna is Miss Florence Quinn, erstwhile a leading soprano in a prominent Baptist choir of St. Louis, and Miss Willa Holt Wakefield, her repertoire of songs somewhat purified, presents an attractive series of songs any of which might be sung with propriety by the daughter of a former governor of Georgia, which Miss Wakefield is said to be. Heretofore Miss Wakefield's selections have not been without their embarrassing moments. Occasionally the candor of her lyric utterance has been dismaying to the unsophisticated, and her return to innocence is welcomed, for she does the other thing so much better. A note from the alert management of the American pronounces Miss Wakefield the richest woman in vaudeville, inasmuch as she has an office in Wall street, bearing her own name, for the purchase and sale of stocks and bonds; a house on Riverside drive, and a vast farm at Mamaroneck on Long island. Thus she remains upon the stage from a pure and disinterested love of her art. The American has pictures of the baseball encounter between Detroit and Pittsburg, too, in addition to many sterling vaudeville features, among which are Wilfred Clarke and his company in a swift little farce; Sager Midgley and Gertrude Carlisle in "After School," and Herbert Lloyd, who burlesques vaudeville with considerable skill. The program is rather worth while.

John Mason writes that he has "discovered" Ernest Poole of Chicago and that after "The Witching Hour" has outlived its usefulness to him he will produce the first dramatic output of this discovery. The play submitted by Mr. Poole to Mr. Mason contains, Mr. Mason says, several situations new to the theater and is unusually serious. Its scenes are in the Rocky mountains.

The People's theater in Van Buren street, for several years the seat of Charles W. Marvin's stock company activities on the west side, will undergo a shifting of its policy week after next, when vaudeville performances will be installed. Mr. Marvin's reason for the change is that the inhabitants of the west side, or rather, those who go to the theater on the west side, prefer variety to the drama. He proves this condition by comparing the attendance at the People's with that of the adjacent vaudeville theaters.

Mrs. Edna Wallace Hopper Brown is so seriously ill in London that she has had to cancel her engagement at the Palace Music hall, where she was singing and dancing without shoes and without stockings.

Mr. Hilliard will play "A Fool There Was" at the Illinois for a month and will be succeeded at that theater by W. H. Crane in George Ade's "Father and the Boys."

HAMMOND.

Mme. Sibyl Sammis MacDermid has taken Chicago for the center of her travels for some time. There are many who will think that the time has been too long. Certainly the singer proved that her serious essay into the concert field of this city has not been made too soon. She has developed a style peculiar to the art of small town ministration, and while it is given her many strange methods of appeal, it also has brought about an enunciation in value far above rubies.

Mme. MacDermid possesses a voice of wide range, an amount of tone color that is astonishing, and the frank methods of emphasis that belong to the English school. In them are both strength and weakness; the strength seems to lie in the transparency of the vowel enunciation; the weakness is more a matter of omission than commission. In other words, there is little accent that can be so called in a rhythmic sense; it is almost entirely a matter of dynamic emphasis.

It is not at all astonishing, then, that her two groups of English songs struck home with the greatest effectiveness. Haydn's "With verdure clad" was sung with much more repose than that which characterized the group of Brahms, Dvorak, Strauss, and Reger. These numbers were brought out with appreciation of their dramatic values, and especially was the Strauss "In Goldener Fuelle" well received.

"La Tigre," an excerpt from Masse's not too well known opera, was given an interpretation hearty and filled with dramatic fervor. The Chaminade "Berceuse" was successful, and deservedly. The singer's French was understandable, and in itself that fact is no small tribute to the clarity of her enunciation.

It is difficult to select from the eight English songs with which the concert ended any one of significance, for the truth of the matter is that they offered no serious points of great interest. One MacFadyen furnished two numbers, a section of one ("Inter Nos") proving to be of value above the ordinary.

Mme. MacDermid's audience was most sympathetic and responsive to a degree flattering to the singer.

A pathetically small audience met to greet the excellent 'cellist, Henry Bramsen, and Martha Sandal, soprano, at Orchestra hall last evening. The occasion was a benefit for the aid of the Norwegian Deaconess hospital. The program justified much greater success than it was possible to conjure out of empty seats.

The concert was interesting in more than one respect. Not only did the 'cellist present several works of sterling value but the vocal numbers also were unusual and fascinating by reason of their novel interpretation. Mr. Bramsen has a style elevated and shorn of all pettiness and trickery. Mme. Sandal offers to the ordinary audience enough of the peculiar virtuosity of the Norwegian school to make her contributions unusually interesting.

The concert opened with the Tschaikowski variations. To the interpretation of these seldom played miniatures the 'cellist brought a most beautiful tone, a technique at once sure and straightforward and a conception musicianly in the extreme. One might, with justice, quarrel with the abuse of a heavy portamento in the cantilene passages, but the purity of tone in the instrument which he used was sufficient temptation and can easily be excused. The reading was brilliant throughout and the lights and shades of which he availed himself added a greater luster to the noble tone of the cello.

Most striking among the offerings of Mme. Sandal were the two Grieg songs, "The First Meeting" and "Among the Blueberries," and Sigurd Lie's "Snow." These gave ample occasion to judge a voice of extremes in tonal values. There is great beauty in the middle register, great power in the upper notes and great breadth in the lower third of her voice, and not one of the three resembles another.

At the end of her second group, which consisted of German lieder in the main, Mme. Sandal added two of the old Norwegian folk melodies without accompaniment, which are interesting in a melodic sense by reason of their peculiar flight. These two cadenza-like offerings called to mind the recent concert of Norwegian folk songs given at the same hall. They were well received by an audience composed largely of Mme. Sandal's countrymen.

It is to be regretted that the concert did not meet with greater success in a financial way, for the work of Mr. Bramsen was worthy of the consideration of a critical public. Mme. Sandal is a singer of a peculiar style, one that offers points of interest to musician and layman alike, and her interpretations of last evening shed new light upon the cult of Norwegian song.

London to See "The Fourth Estate."

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Liebler & Co. today arranged with Louis N. Parker, who is spending a few weeks in the United States, to localize for London "The Fourth Estate," now running at Wallack's. Mr. Parker believes that with a few changes made to conform to the different conditions in the two countries it will be as favorably received by English audiences as it has been by New Yorkers.

RAISE CASH TO FIGHT VICE

Woodlawn Residents Begin Campaign to End Spread of Evil.

WOULD WAGE QUIET WAR.

Speakers at Church Meeting Censure Pastor Boynton.

Fear that vice will spread in Woodlawn unless a vigorous campaign by all the forces of the suburb is waged was brought out at a meeting of citizens in the Woodlawn Presbyterian church last night.

The Rev. M. P. Boynton's reference to Woodlawn as being infected with vice was condemned by half a dozen speakers, who advocated a quiet fight against the evil. The protest against the minister was led by Morton MacCormac, president of the Woodlawn Business Men's club.

"Brass band methods" were scored by Representative John P. McGoorty, Ald. Charles E. Merriam, and Ald. Bernard W. Snow of the Seventh ward.

The work of Chief of Police Steward in fighting vice all over the city was commended by all the speakers.

Raise Cash to Get Evidence.

At the conclusion of the meeting a motion was passed to raise $500 to obtain evidence of the existence of immorality in the neighborhood. John Morey, chairman of the meeting, was instructed to appoint a committee to present the sentiment of the meeting to other reform organizations and to state to the chief of police what evidence they have.

"This district is no worse than it was a year ago," said Mr. MacCormac. "Too much painting of conditions has been done. We need to get together, for there is a problem to be met with, but our work must be done quietly. We should not have so much noise."

"The aldermen are behind you in this," said Ald. Merriam. "We know the chief of police is also. You men should get evidence and present it to him, and you can be sure he will take active steps without delay.

Opposes Brass Band Methods.

Representative McGoorty took issue with Dr. Boynton as to the conditions in the district.

"I have not been so successful as Dr. Boynton in finding immorality and vice here," said he. "Why, if he knows of these things, does he not tell them to Chief Steward? I am not saying there is no danger before Woodlawn. I realize that with the clamping on the lid in other districts there will be serious damage done to this if we are not eternally vigilant."

Ald. Snow voiced the same sentiments, and in addition criticised the parade of Gipsy Smith through the red light district.

Grape-Nuts is scientifically made of wheat and barley and contains the phosphate of potash, grown in the grain, for building brain and nerves to the highest degree of perfection.

This food can be eaten and digested in the time required to cook an ordinary meal, and children like its neutral flavour.

It is not only a brain-builder, but keeps them plump and rosy.

When a student begins to break down from lack of the right kind of food, there are only two things to do; either take him out of school or feed him properly on food that will rebuild the brain and nerve cells. That food is Grape-Nuts.

A boy writes from Jamestown, N. Y., saying: "A short time ago I got into a bad condition from overstudy, but Mother having heard about Grape-Nuts food began to feed me on it. It satisfied my hunger better than any other food, and the results were marvelous. I got fleshy like a good fellow. My usual morning headaches disappeared, and I found I could study for a long period without fatigue.

"My face was pale and thin, but is now round and has considerable color. After I had been using Grape-Nuts for about two months I felt like a new boy altogether. I have gained greatly in strength as well as flesh, and it is a pleasure to study now that I am not bothered with my head. I passed all my examinations with a reasonably good percentage, extra good in some of them, and it is Grape-Nuts that has saved me from a year's delay in entering College.

PROSECUTOR CITES JURY PLOT DUPES

Wayman, in New Strategical Maneuver, Summons Men on "Nick" Martin's List.

AIMS AT FIRST WARD?

State's Attorney May Investigate Story of Fund to Aid Kenna's Secretary.

A new move by State's Attorney Wayman yesterday which is expected to result in the obtaining of all the inside workings of the alleged jury fixing plotters was the serving of subpoenas on some fifty men whose names appeared on the lists of "right" jurors which "Dick" Martin is declared to have told Mr. Wayman he furnished to Willis J. Rayburn.

From these veniremen the state's attorney expects not only to get further evidence against Jury Commissioner J. J. Holland, Martin, and Rayburn, now under indictment for jury fixing, but also to learn the names of other men involved in jury fixing.

Mr. Wayman refused to discuss the jury fixing inquiry and declined to say anything of his plans of whether new matters in this connection were before the grand jury.

From other sources in the Criminal Court building there emanated positive statements that not only was the grand jury considering further evidence but that entirely new indictments might be expected before adjournment.

But Wayman Denies It.

A report that the state's attorney was contemplating an investigation to connect a street railway company and other big corporations with the jury "fixing" ring was denied by the state's attorney and his assistants.

Martin's confession, it is declared by a man in close touch with the state's attorney's office, contained the names of several corporations which profited by fixed juries.

It was rumored that the state's attorney had received information that several men whose names appeared on the lists which Martin gave out were ready to talk of the whole plot to Mr. Wayman and his assistants. A number of these men, it is said, were among the veniremen drawn in the McCann trial.

Mr. Wayman in the afternoon visited Judge George A. Carpenter, chief justice of the Circuit court; Judge Theodore Brentano, chief justice of the Superior court; Judge Charles S. Cutting of the Probate court, and Judge Lewis Rinaker of the County court, to ask them to call another meeting to consider new evidence in support of his request to make a general investigation into the jury commissioners' office.

"Mr. Wayman simply desires that we hold another meeting," said Judge Cutting, chairman of the conference of all the courts of the county affected by the jury investigation. "He desires to submit to us certain proofs of jury tampering which he has discovered."

Investigates First Ward?

A conference between Mr. Wayman and his assistant, Nicholas Michels, in the early afternoon is believed to have been in connection with the investigation of graft conditions in the First ward which Mr. Wayman is having investigated.

Rumors of a big "slush fund" amounting to some $25,000 in the First ward to take care of Martin's case reached the Criminal Court building, as did a report that Ald. Kenna's private secretary had fled the city.

"We are not worrying any over Martin's disappearance," said an attaché of the state's attorney's office. "We can find him in fifteen minutes if we want him. He is not going to leave the city."

Mr. Wayman, it is said, also is contemplating a grand jury investigation of the activity of a clique of politicians who, it is declared, had much to do with Martin repudiating the two confessions he made to the state's attorney in the presence of a number of his office men.

Election frauds in the First ward, specific instances of which it is said were furnished the state's attorney by "Nick" Martin, also are slated for an investigation at the hands of the prosecutor and his staff.

Seek New Indictment.

Grand jury indictment charging John B. Frohn, former minute clerk in Judge Theodore Brentano's court, with embezzlement has been sought again. Charles Furthmann of the state's attorney's office, with Simon Tuckhorn, Mrs. Mabel Lawrence, and Mrs. Myrtle O'Neil, gave evidence before the inquisitorial body during the day on which it is said an indictment will be based.

Frohn was indicted by the July grand jury on twenty-one counts, charging falsification of public records and larceny of $40. The case was nonsuited last week by Judge McEwen, who ruled that the indictment was faulty.

The two women who testified paid Furthmann $90 in costs and fines in a case in which they were interested. Furthmann declared he paid the full amount to Frohn, but the latter's minute books showed only $50 received.

STATE LABOR MEET OPENS WITH FIGHT

Bitter Words Follow Seating of Delegates from Electrical Workers.

WRIGHT HAS NOVEL PLAN

May Ask Other Large Federations to Meet Before National Campaign.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Belleville, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—In spite of warnings uttered by President Edwin R. Wright that nothing would be entertained that would tend to disrupt the harmony of organized labor, a bitter fight over the seating of two delegates of the electrical workers' union marked the opening session of the convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor.

The matter came up on the question of the adoption of the report of the credentials committee. A contesting delegation from the "secessionist" faction of the electrical workers demanded recognition by the convention and when the committee recommended the seating of the "regular" or American Federation of Labor faction delegates an uproar broke out that continued for more than two hours. The regular delegates finally won out, though it is predicted that the fight on behalf of the "secessionists" will be brought before the convention again before final adjournment.

For a time the fight on the floor, which was led by Duncan MacDonald of the United Mine Workers of Illinois and several Socialist mine workers, looked as if it would result in a split similar to those which occurred recently in the conventions of the Ohio and Iowa state federations over the same question.

Fight Starts Over Report.

The fight started after the names of the two delegates had been referred back to the committee for a special report and a new recommendation had been made that they be seated. Delegates MacDonald and A. C. Germer protested against seating them on the ground that it would be in violation of the constitution of the federation.

"These two organization have paid only 40 and 60 cents respectively into the treasury of this federation, and I protest against seating the delegates," said MacDonald.

"This is not a question of dollars and cents, but of principle," said Delegate L. P. Straub of Chicago, representing the allied Printing Trades council. "These two delegates represent a minority in the Electrical Workers' union, which is attempting to uphold the policy and principles of the great parent body, the American Federation of Labor."

"I agree that it is a question of principle," retorted Delegate Germer of the mine workers. "But Delegate Straub carefully has avoided telling us what the principle is. I demand to know if 80 per cent of an organization is to rule or is 20 per cent of the membership to be dominant. It is not the business of the American Federation of Labor to interfere with the internal affairs of any organization. I approve the stand taken by the Ohio and Iowa state federation conventions."

Connors Fights Secession.

"It is time now to place your heel on this serpent of secessionism that is creeping in to poison and destroy our movement," said Delegate James B. Connors of the Chicago switchmen's union, shaking his fist in the direction of Delegate MacDonald. At this juncture Delegate Edward N. Nockels of the Chicago Federation of Labor jumped into the breach and it was his speech that largely decided the outcome in favor of the "regulars."

"I am a member of the electrical workers and I know something about this dispute," said he. "If this convention should deny these two delegates their seats it would be putting a premium on secession and would be a direct slap at the American Federation of Labor."

The convention opened in the morning with more than 350 delegates from all parts of the state and more are scheduled to arrive tomorrow. The report of Secretary Treasurer J. F. Morris of Springfield showed that the last year was the most prosperous in the history of the organization. Financial receipts for the year showed a total of $11,427, with disbursements of $10,042.

Wright Has New Idea.

A sensational feature of the annual report of President Wright was the recommendation that an invitation be extended to the Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Michigan State Federations of Labor to meet in joint session with the Illinois federation either in Chicago or Peoria two years hence for the purpose of "influencing and shaping" the issues of the next presidential campaign. On this subject the report read:

"I wish to suggest to the convention the advisability of locking ahead for a year in planning our work. In doing this it occurs to me that we might fix the place of holding the next two conventions of the Illinois State Federation of Labor. Next year we could hold our annual meeting as usual, and the following year we might invite the state federations of Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Michigan to meet with us in joint session at some centrally located city of this state.

"I make this suggestion having in view the national campaign that will immediately follow the twenty-ninth annual convention of our organization and the effect a convention of several thousand trade delegates should have on shaping the issues of that campaign to our great and lasting industrial benefit.

May Be Fixtures of Campaigns.

"Should we decide to invite such a gathering there is a possibility of such joint sessions becoming a fixture of every four years. Each state organization could meet in a separate hall for the transaction of business pertaining to its particular locality and the joint sessions could be set apart for general or national issues. The plan is, I believe, worthy of serious consideration, as it places directly before every trade unionist, every local union, and every central body of the group of states the power of the initiative in national affairs."

The report was referred to the committee on officers' reports, and there is little doubt that it will be recommended and adopted. Many of the delegates discussed that feature of the report in glowing terms and it was the general feeling that a joint labor meeting of the character suggested would become a strong political whip by which labor could force the two great political parties to adopt desired labor planks in their platforms.

Women to Have Session.

President Wright also recommended a campaign in favor of the new primary law and the adoption of the employers' liability measure and urged activity on behalf of the ten hour law for women. The session tomorrow morning will be turned over to the women delegates, who will conduct the business of the gathering. At the women's session the question of the constitutionality of the ten hour law will be discussed in all its phases, and other matters of special interest to women workers of the state will receive consideration. Miss Mary E. McDowell of the University of Chicago settlement will lead the discussion. She is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow morning.

The federation during the year gained 338 new organizations in its membership, a gain of 300 over the previous year. The organization consists of fifty central labor bodies and 524 local unions. President Wright declared that with increased efforts during the coming year an affiliated membership of 500,000 trade unionists may be reported at next year's convention.

Need Not Pay for Franchise.

Judge Smith in the Superior court yesterday decided that the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric Street railway, now in the hands of receivers, is not required to pay the village of Wilmette for a franchise granted in 1858. The village sued the railway company for $12,000, alleging that under an agreement made in 1898 the company was to pay the equivalent of any bonus paid to villages north of Wilmette. The court also ruled that the paving done by the company through Wilmette was sufficient compensation for the franchise.

Suffragette Wins Class Presidency.

Academic suffragettes have put to rout a faction in the freshman class of the Chicago Law school advocating "no petticoat rule" and enthroned as president of the first year class Miss Irene Guyon, 1033 Evanston avenue, a young woman who is employed during the day a stenographer in the state pure food inspector's office. Two masculine candidates—John Nelson and G. A. Kasmar—made a determined fight, backed up by the so-called anti-petticoat element in the class, but when the scholastic suffragettes enlisted the support of Catharine Waugh-McCulloch and developed a strong political organization the two men withdrew from the contest. Miss Guyon then was elected president by acclamation.

WAYMAN TO TEST 10 HOUR LAW

Forty Factory Owners Will Be Summoned to Grand Jury.

COURT HOLDS UP PETITION.

Inspector Davies Refuses to Accept Plan to Cease Arrests.

Forty factory owners, it is expected, will be called before the grand jury this morning to answer questions concerning alleged violations of the new ten hour law for women. Three indictments will be returned, according to Assistant State's Attorney Marshall, and the cases will be prosecuted as test cases.

Chicago factory owners have contended the statute was not constitutional and the grand jury action was determined upon by the state's attorney yesterday after a clash between Edgar T. Davies, state factory inspector, and H. C. Lust, associate counsel with William Duff Haynie, as attorney for the Illinois Manufacturers' association. Five minutes after the factory inspector had agreed in Judge Carpenter's court to bring no more suits against violators of the law until the Supreme court had passed on its constitutionality, he repudiated the agreement.

Court Holds Up Petition.

Mr. Lust appeared in court to file an intervening petition on behalf of members of the association. This petition would have obtained for the petitioners the protection of a restraining order granted by Judge Tuthill some time ago, enjoining prosecutions against W. C. Richle & Co.

Judge Carpenter insisted that he hear full arguments in the case before he would allow the petition to be filed.

"I have in mind a finding of the Oregon Supreme court upholding such a law," the court said, "and also the finding of the United States Supreme court confirming the opinion. The filing of this petition amounts to my issuing an injunction.

"I would suggest that inasmuch as the matter is pending in the Supreme court for an opinion, the factory inspector agree that he will begin no further suits until the question is disposed of."

Davies Changes His Mind.

After some hesitancy, Davies said that he would agree not to bring any new cases. After he left the courtroom and consulted with his attorney, Samuel A. Harper, the factory inspector notified Mr. Lust that he had changed his mind.

As a result the association this morning will make another application for a restraining order against Davies and the state's attorney.

Juniors Elect Girl President.

The junior class of Northwestern university, known as the suffragette class because, in accordance with a long standing custom, the officers are always girls, last night elected Winifred Goodsmith president.

2¼ POUNDS OF FOOD

Of Any Kind, Are Fully Digested By One Tablespoonful of Kodol.

Any kind of food, understand—not just some certain kinds. Kodol is rightly termed the "Perfect Digestant"— because it does digest any and all classes of food. Kodol does this because it contains, in liquid form, every one of Nature's digestive elements—therefore cannot help but digest food the way it does. Kodol, as stated, digests all food—promptly and completely—and assures good health to the stomach. Come to think of it—Kodol does accomplish a great deal—if one gives it a chance. Some of the commonest and surest indications of more or less developed digestive trouble are these:

Bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, rising of sour, bitter fluid, gas and undigested particles of food into the mouth, tenderness and dull pain at "pit" of the stomach (sometimes relieved by eating), sensation of faintness, dizziness, and being "all gone," bloating of stomach and bowels, capricious and uncertain appetite, flabby coated tongue, uncomfortable "full" sensation after eating, "heartburn," lingering headaches, heart "fluttering" or palpitation, dull, sleepy, "logy" feeling, irregular action of the bowels, melancholia, gloomy forebodings, etc. Our guarantee: Get a dollar bottle of Kodol. If you are not benefited—the druggist will at once return your money. Don't hesitate; any druggist will sell you Kodol on these terms. The dollar bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle. Kodol is prepared in the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

"Clean Chicago" Champions Turn Fire on Nuisance Now at Judgment Seat.

Electrify or Not? That's the Question Fired at Directors and Stockholders.

day, and if the articles of capitulation are not drawn up the battle standards will once more be flung to the breeze.

The last bolt in the battle that has been raged unceasingly for the last several weeks by the Anti-Smoke league was shot by Mrs. Sergel during the day when she sent a letter to President Harahan of the Illinois Central urging him to accept the inevitable and advising him that failure to accede to the public's demands will be the signal for renewal of warfare.

Urges Harahan to Help.

"I take this opportunity to urge that you modify your report to the directors of your road as given in the press by recommending that work begin at once on the local suburban tracks, which will lessen the noise and dirt alongside our homes. If this is not done I assure you that we shall have to continue our crusade, for we will not give up our homes, and we will not cease publicly demanding our rights," she wrote.

But while the women of Chicago are resting in their camps awaiting the outcome of the meetings of the Illinois Central's directors and stockholders today, official Chicago will be busy formulating a mandatory ordinance that will compel the railroads to electrify their lines in the event of their not being willing to do so without compulsion. This afternoon the council committee on local transportation, of which Ald. Milton J. Foreman is the chairman, will meet and take up the general subject of the electrification of steam lines.

At this meeting Ald. Snow will be asked to explain the ordinance which he introduced two weeks ago making it compulsory for all steam railroads to electrify their terminals within eight miles of the center of the city.

Corporation Counsel Brundage also will be in attendance, and it is expected he will have with him the first rough draft of an ordinance which is being prepared in his office which will have the same purpose.

Studies Power of City.

For several weeks Mr. Brundage and his assistants have been looking up the legal end of the question, with a view to ascertaining how far the city can go in compelling electrification, and it is expected that he will have much valuable data for the committee to work upon.

One of the questions that he will be asked to explain is whether the thing desired can be accomplished by a mandatory ordinance or whether by contract ordinances, as was done when track elevation was the issue.

It is conceded that in case the corporation counsel decides that Chicago's chances of relief lies in contract ordinances, which the railroads must accept, there are plenty of means at hand under the police powers of the city, by which the railroads can be brought to time, and can be made to see that electrification will be cheaper than continuous prosecution.

For the next few weeks the committee will devote itself almost exclusively to studying this question, unless of course, the Illinois officials announce after today's meeting that the work of electrification will commence at once.

Promise of "Less Smoke."

Immediate electrification will not be sanctioned or recommended by the Illinois Central directors, it was asserted in the evening. At the same time, the report that will be made by them to the stockholders concerning the question will be couched in conciliatory language, and will make definite promises that the best energies of the officials will be directed toward reducing the amount of smoke produced upon its lines.

It was ascertained during the day from one of the prominent officials of the road, who expressly desired not to be quoted, that one of the things that is keeping the possibility of electrifying its lines prominently before the officers and directors of the road is the chance that a subway may be built in the not far distant future. Without this possibility the railroad official intimated that the directors never would have considered electrification seriously, nor would they have gone to the expense of securing plans and estimates.

It was conceded, however, that a subway would be of inestimable benefit to the railroad, and that the increase in its revenues through having its suburban trains enter the heart of the city through the subway would fully justify the cost of electrification and the new equipment that would be necessary.

But, so far as the matter of electrifying under present conditions, the attitude of the directory can be gauged by the statement made by Charles Peabody, one of the directors, in the afternoon. Out of thirteen directors only four have local residence. Of these four one at least, Gov. Deneen, who is ex officio a member of the directorate, will not be present, and the other three are Mr. Harahan, J. Ogden Armour, and John G. Shedd.

The other nine directors are all eastern men, representing eastern interests. None of the local directors could be induced to talk about electrification, and of the three eastern men who came here for the meeting, Cornelius Vanderbilt, A. G. Hackstaff, and Mr. Peabody, only the latter would talk.

"I am not an electrician nor a practical railroad operator," said Mr. Peabody, prefacing an answer to the question "Do you favor the electrification of the Illinois Central lines?"

"From the information I have, and I will say that I have been trying to get all I could on the subject for the last year, I should say that electrification of the Illinois Central alone is not practicable, but if all the railroads entering Chicago were to undertake to electrify their terminals at about the same time, I do not see why it cannot be done, leaving aside the question of cost.

"To compel the Illinois Central to electrify its lines and not put the same compulsion upon all the other roads which interchange traffic with us, and that includes practically every road entering the city, would be to isolate us, which would not be beneficial to the city and would be ruinous to the railroad.

"We Will, if Others Join."

"The Illinois Central is doing all it can to reduce the amount of smoke, and we will be glad to negotiate with the city for electrification, provided we can be assured that other roads will join the movement, and that what one does the others must do.

"I am told that it would cost us $20,000,000 to electrify. Whether the traffic would bear the cost in case all roads were on the same footing with regard to electric terminals, I am not enough of an operator to say, but I believe that the directors would be willing to take the matter up and negotiate along those lines.

"I am told that 70 per cent of our freight business in Chicago is interchanged—that is, we either take it from or give it to other lines. This interchange would be practically impossible if we alone of all the roads had our freight terminals electrified.

"They ask us to electrify our passenger lines, particularly those used for suburban service, and if the cost could be reduced proportionately to the amount of track electrified, I should say that would be all right. But our engineers tell us it cannot even be cut in half.

Denies Eastern Parallel.

"People in Chicago are accustomed to saying and thinking that electrification on the New York Central and the New York, New Haven and Hartford roads in New York has been successful, and naturally wonder why it cannot be done here. But the problem there is entirely different, and, besides, we know that electrification has not been successful in New York, which one could easily find out if he should get the eastern railroad men to talk.

"The eastern roads have made no attempt to electrify their freight terminals. It is only the passenger lines that are operated by electricity.

"The electrification of freight terminals has never been undertaken in this or any other country, and yet the people of Chicago are insisting that we spend $20,000,000 on an experiment which may or may not be successful.

"The Illinois Central is trying to reduce the smoke emanating on its lines. We are burning coke, and I am told that there has been considerable trouble with it on account of clinkering. We are looking for a better quality of coke that will not have this fault.

"The directors have authorized the purchase of a large number of gasoline motor cars to be used on the suburban service, and as soon as the engineers get a car that can be operated in either direction and from both ends I am sure they will be adopted.

One Man Can't See Smoke.

"I have looked in vain for smoke today and have watched the lake front for hours, but have seen none. I think the officers are to be congratulated on what they have done, and I know that they will continue their efforts until the cause of complaint is entirely removed. We must not forget, however, that experiments have to be made before any system can be adopted and experimentation requires time.

"Of course, I am speaking for myself, giving my personal views, but I believe that others of the directors have similar views to my own on the subject."

When President Harahan was asked to give a last word before the meetings, he replied: "I have persistently refused to say anything for publication on this subject and must adhere to that rule. Wait until tomorrow. It is the big question before us and will be thoroughly thrashed out."

Will Name Harriman's Successor.

Aside from the electrification question, the most important action to be taken by the stockholders will be the election of a director to succeed E. H. Harriman. While no definite statement can be obtained from the company or the directors, it is understood the position will fall to Judge R. S. Lovett, who succeeded Harriman as chairman of the executive committee of the Union and Southern Pacific and who has assumed his positions in several other directorates.

As the Union Pacific is the largest individual holder of Illinois Central stock it is taken as a matter of course that a Union Pacific man will be elected to represent it, and a report from New York that Lovett would be named was tacitly confirmed by Charles A. Peabody.

LABOR DENOUNCES DEATH OF FERRER

Federation Counsel Declares Spanish Leader Was "Martyr to Freedom."

REFER TO GOMPERS CASE.

Resolutions Say Justice Only Results "from Jury Trial in Open Court."

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Resolutions denouncing the "murder" of Francisco Ferrer, the Spanish revolutionist, who recently was condemned by court martial and shot in Barcelona, were adopted at today's session of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. After the resolutions referred to Ferrer as a "martyr" it was declared that his martyrdom has given "the cause of liberty a great impetus not only in Spain and in European monarchical countries, but everywhere that human aspiration for freedom yet seeks attainment."

"We on our own personal belief as well as in the name of America's workers and the whole people," the resolutions declare, "express our intense indignation, horror, and our strongest protest against the murder of Francisco Ferrer by direction of the Spanish government."

Taken in connection with the action of the Supreme court of the District of Columbia in sentencing President Gompers, Secretary Morrison, and John Mitchell of the American Federation of Labor to serve terms in jail for contempt of court, the concluding paragraph of the resolution is looked upon here as significant. It declares that "we take this occasion of the military murder of a man whose real offending was speaking, writing, and teaching humanity to become more wise, more free, and more liberty loving, to remind the people of our own country that the liberty of the citizen is only secure when trial by jury and in open court for any alleged offense involving punishment is guaranteed."

"Martyr for Free Speech."

The resolutions go on to declare that "the cause of free speech, free press, and free education has found in Ferrer another martyr, the more regrettable in an age when civilization boasts of having replaced the tortures and brutality of medievalism by toleration and freedom and enlightment."

The belief then is expressed that Prof. Ferrer will take rank with all those who have done the greatest service for humanity. "A noble company of martyrs and a cause in which a man might well give up his life," the resolutions continue, "did tyranny require it. Like Jefferson, Washington, and Lincoln of our own country, he labored and taught and suffered that the people might have wisdom and be worthy of freedom."

Declaring that though Ferrer suffered the ultimate penalty of a shameful death at the hands of those who rule in the doctrine of the "divine right of kings," the belief is expressed that the sacrifice was not in vain.

Others Matters Taken Up.

Among the other matters which received the consideration of the executive council was a brief resume by President Gompers on his observations regarding labor conditions abroad.

President Hayes of the Glass Bottle Blowers' association protested against the Illinois State Federation of Labor giving recognition to the flint glass workers' union, whereupon a telegram was sent President Wright of the Illinois state branch to the effect that the American flint glass workers organization having, without cause, seceded some years ago from the American Federation of Labor, is, therefore, not entitled to recognition.

FERRER UPROAR IN THE COMMONS

Socialist Members of British House Fail in Attempt to Adjourn Session.

ALFONSO IS DEJECTED.

Execution at Barcelona Said to Be Cause of Worry at Palace; Storm at Brussels.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Socialist members of the house of commons tried to adjourn the session of the lower house this afternoon in order to discuss the execution at Barcelona last week of Prof. Ferrer, but only fourteen Labor and four Radical members could be found to support the motion, and adjournment was refused.

Albert Victor Grayson, the Socialist member for the Colne valley division of Yorkshire, and William J. Thorne, Labor member for South West Ham, then created a disturbance by anathematizing their colleagues as "shameful cowards," Thorne shouting out it was his pious hope that "those who signed Ferrer's death warrant will be sent to heaven by the chemical parcels post."

King Alfonso Dejected.

A dispatch from the Madrid correspondent of the Chronicle says since news of the first Ferrer demonstrations reached the palace King Alfonso has worn a dejected appearance. He is suffering from sleeplessness and loss of appetite and it is feared his health may be affected. Threatening letters are pouring into the palace as well as at the residences of the ministers. The king has abandoned his daily outings and is almost a prisoner in the palace.

The situation in Barcelona inspires grave fears. Any one uttering a word about Ferrer is arrested. Many have been arrested possessing Ferrer's photograph. One day the police were taken by surprise by the sudden appearance of a revolutionary procession headed by a cardboard scarecrow representing Ferrer on one side and King Alfonso on the other. They had the greatest difficulty in dispersing the crowd and seizing the scarecrow.

Shout "Down with Alfonso."

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BRUSSELS, Oct. 19.—Socialists in the chamber of deputies today tried to interpellate the government regarding Ferrer, but the president refused to allow them. They had to content themselves raising a racket and indulging in violent oratorical pyrotechnics. M. Van der Velde led, asking what attitude the government intended to take in the matter of Ferrer's murder. He declared there were still hundreds of prisoners in the fortress at Montjuich, whose lives were far more valuable than that of the man who refused clemency to Ferrer.

M. Davignon, minister of foreign affairs, protested against this statement, whereupon the Socialists howled:

"Down with Alfonso!" "Murderer!" and "Assassin!"

The president banged his bell, but the Socialists continued their chorus of "Murderer!" and "Assassin!" while the ministerialists responded with shouts of "Shame!"

"Echo Will Shake Down Every Throne."

New York, Oct. 19.—Five thousand men and women met tonight in Carnegie hall and shook their fists across the seas at King Alfonso and the others whom they hold responsible for the death of Francisco Ferrer, who was shot last week as a revolutionist.

"The echo of that shot will shake down every throne in christendom!" declared Charles Edward Russell, magazine writer and chairman of the meeting.

Resolutions were adopted declaring that "In the light of all known facts, Ferrer's life was taken because of his unselfish devotion to the work of education and enlightenment."

CHICAGO LODGE OF PYTHIANS IS REFUSED RECOGNITION.

Marcer No. 52 Denied Privileges in Convention at Peoria as Result of Tax Levy for Decatur Home.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Marcer lodge No. 52 of Chicago was refused recognition in the session of the Illinois grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, which opened its sessions in this city today. The refusal was in the form of a report of the credentials committee, and had a bomb burst in the Coliseum it would have caused no greater consternation among the 700 delegates.

The refusal of the credentials committee is based on the failure of Marcer lodge to contribute the per capita tax levied last year for the purpose of erecting the Pythian home at Decatur. The dissenting lodge bases its refusal on the legality of the order. It asserts that the levy was not legally made, hence the members of the local were not obliged to contribute. The home at Decatur is practically completed and will be dedicated within a few weeks.

The outcome of the committee's refusal has not been forecasted, but it is certain that until the levy is made by the Chicago local and the money paid the members will not be considered in good standing by the grand lodge.

The session opened at 10 o'clock, with L. C. Eagleton of this city presiding. The Rev. James Benson, pastor of the Arcadia Presbyterian church, gave the invocation, and was followed by Mayor E. N. Woodruff, who welcomed the delegates to Peoria. Grand Chancellor Eugene Bone of Springfield responded, as did also Mrs. Orvilla Richardson, grand chief of the Pythian Sisters.

Following the business of the meeting addresses were made by four past grand chancellors—Levin Gass of Danville, L. C. Hay of Chicago, W. G. Eden of Chicago, and J. J. Brown of Vandalia.

Lodge politics thus far has played a large part in the convention. In the fight for the office of supreme representative to the national convention at Milwaukee this fall there are three candidates, W. G. Eden of the Central Trust bank of Chicago, J. J. Brown of Vandalia, who ran against State Secretary James A. Rose last fall, and L. D. Gass of Danville. Eden's friends claim he will be elected. Five are in the race for grand outer guard.

TAFT OPENS THREE DAY REST; PLAY REPLACES HARD TRAVEL.

Golf, Riding, and Sea Bathing Will Be Enjoyed by President for Short Vacation.

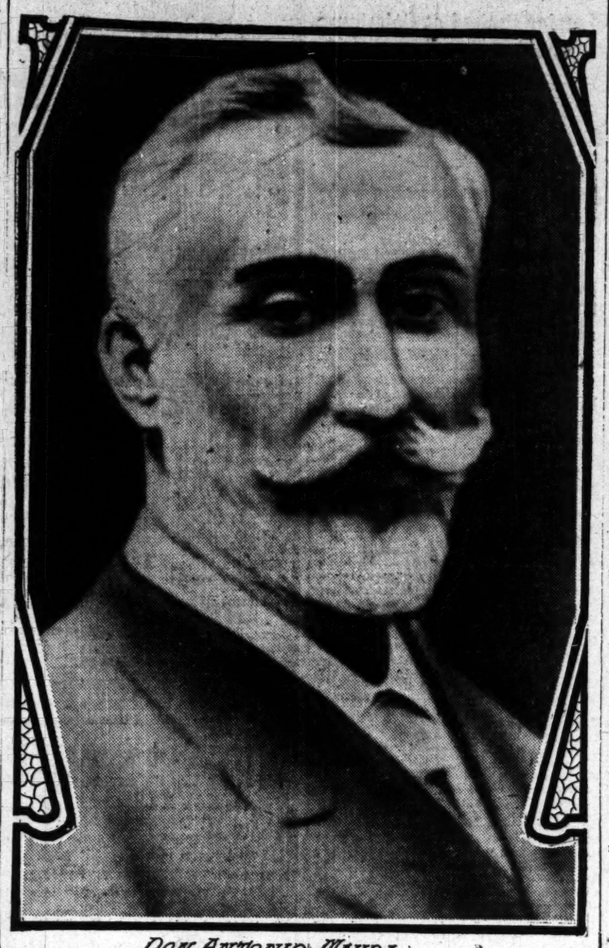

Gregory, Tex., Oct. 19.—President Taft began his three days of rest on his brother's ranch today by playing eighteen holes of golf this morning over a muddy course and by "just loafing" through the afternoon and evening. Mr. Taft was as happy as a boy out of school.

While the president was golfing and resting the members of his party enjoyed themselves in various ways. Secretary of War Dickinson and Capt. Archie Butt were up before the sun and started out on an all day duck shooting expedition at the fresh water tanks on the ranch ten miles away from the "farmhouse" at Laquinta. They returned late this afternoon with a large bag.

Ranch hands out hunting today killed two wildcats, two wild boars, and a raccoon. All were presented to the president tonight. Tomorrow morning the president will golf and in the afternoon will have a ten mile run to the Rincon section of the ranch to see a small roundup of cattle and sheep and some exhibitions of cow punching.

The president's play days will end Friday morning, however, when he will be taken by boat to Corpus Christi to be the guest of that city during the day and to address the convention of the Inland Waterways association.

CESARE LOMBROSO IS DEAD

Noted Alienist Who Gave World New Science of Crime.

QUOTED BY FAMOUS MEN.

Author of Many Books and Pamphlets on Criminology.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

TURIN, Oct. 18.—Cesare Lombroso, the noted Italian criminologist and alienist, died today of heart disease. The members of his family were present at the time of his death, including his son-in-law, Guglielmo Ferrera, the historian.

It is thought the execution of Prof. Ferrer hastened the end of Lombroso. He talked animatedly about Ferrer's untimely death with members of his family.

Prof. Lombroso gave the world a new science of crime. He perhaps was more frequently quoted than any other psychiatrist of recent times. A daring theorist in his field, he came often before the public in opinions of scientific practice and characterizations of famous men which ran more or less counter to accepted judgments.

Liked Title "Physician of the Mind."

Yet notwithstanding that he held many opinions that were startling in their novelty and held them with an intense conviction, he put them forward with a modesty which is said to have verged on timidity. He had been called, and is said to have liked the designation, a "physician of the mind."

It was his belief that close, patient study of great numbers of faces, supplemented by careful measurements, would develop finally an instinctive insight into the minds of men and women and be of infinite benefit to the race. In his own case at least, however, this method led to an amazing insight into human psychology.

Lombroso was born in Verona in 1836. His first experience gained as an army surgeon he held for eight years. The foundation of his broad and thorough training was laid at the University of Turin, where he later became a professor.

To learn how crime originates early became the great study of his life. He gained his first impetus in the direction of that study while still an army surgeon. In anger a soldier killed his superior officer. He was condemned and executed. In performing an autopsy Lombroso found in the skull, to his amazement, an occipital dimple which is characteristic, as a rule, only of the skulls of monkeys.

Key to New Science.

The idea which then occurred to him developed into his theory of crime, which he thereafter elaborated into a science. He saw that an imperfection of the brain, not a criminal addiction, had led to the soldier's act. In the cranial peculiarity noted he had found the key to the new method of recording variations from the normal. From the suggestion then gained he never departed. He looked upon Shakspeare as perhaps the soundest of them all in his delineation of aberrant types.

Former Chicago Attorney, Who Gained Civil War Honors, Dies at Long Beach, Cal.

Henry Franklin Vallette, for many years an attorney in Chicago, died at Long Beach, Cal., yesterday. In addition to gaining recognition at the bar Col. Vallette won honors in the civil war as lieutenant colonel of the 103th Illinois volunteers, four companies of which he raised.

Col. Vallette was born at Stockbridge, Mass., Nov. 1, 1821, and when 17 years old came to Naperville, DuPage county, Ill.

In 1867 he moved to Chicago and began the practice of law. He retired from practice and removed to California in 1898. He is survived by three children, Mrs. Lillian V. Merigold, Long Beach, Cal., and Edwin C Vallette and Clair D. Vallette of Chicago.

SEES FLAWS IN TAX SYSTEM

A. M. Barnhart Says Honest Concerns Can't Live in Illinois.

REVISION OF LAW NEEDED.

More Complaints on Reductions Made to Lederer Committee.

That an honest industry ready and willing to pay its full share of taxes cannot live in Illinois in competition with the large percentage of firms receiving reductions from the board of review was the assertion made yesterday by A. M. Barnhart, representing Barnhart Bros. & Spindler, before the Lederer legislative investigating committee.

Mr. Barnhart declared that a revision of the entire revenue system of the state is necessary in order to retain big industries in the state. He was called to explain reductions of $75,000 in 1906 and 1907 and $50,000 in 1908.

This statement was confirmed by Charles Piez for the Link Belt company, who asserted that in the Pennsylvania plant of the company the taxes on property of equal value would be just one-sixth of what they are in Illinois.

No Schedules Filed.

"The situation in this state is so serious," said Mr. Piez, "that it has caused the members of the Illinois Manufacturers' association to raise a protest against the corporation tax and to urge a revision of the revenue law."

Mr. Piez appeared to explain reductions for the last three years. The property is assessed at $350,000, from which the board cut $35,000 in 1908 and 1907, and $50,000 in 1906. The Belt company pays insurance on $400,000 personal property in the Chicago plant.

The concern has filed no schedules and the board of review in 1909 refused any reduction on the assessment.

More Complaints Made.

New complaints have been filed with Charles Lederer, chairman of the committee, against the Western Newspaper Union, which received yearly reductions of $40,000 for three years; William Wrigley & Co., the Cooke Brewing company, the People's Trust and Savings bank, the Drexel State bank, and the Railway Exchange bank.

Gov. Deneen, it is said, is ready to announce the appointments of nine members of the legislature as a revenue commission to study conditions in other states.

NEW ARREST IN SMUGGLING PLOT

Ship's Physician Held at New York on Charge of Glove Irregularities.

CHURCHES TO ADVERTISE.

Publicity Campaign Planned in Effort to Improve Social and Religious Conditions.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE.
New York, Oct. 19.

Ship's Physician Held for Part in Smuggling.

Dr. Savino de Bellis, ship's physician of the liner Regina d'Italia, was arrested here today charged with complicity in a smuggling syndicate which is alleged to have brought many thousand dollars' worth of gloves into the United States without paying duty. According to a statement issued at Collector Loeb's office several thousand dollars' worth of gloves were found in the possession of Mme. Marie de Louise of Brooklyn, while others were seized on the premises of Senefonte Manzi in lower Manhattan. Mme. Marie de Louise and Senefonte Manzi were arrested and subsequently both were released on bail. Manzi forfeited his bail and is now a fugitive from justice.

G. I. Schnull of Indianapolis, who was arrested on Sept. 3 charged with smuggling a $500 diamond brooch into the country, has pleaded guilty and been fined $200 in addition to forfeiting the jewelry.

Churches Plan Big Advertising Campaign.

A campaign of newspaper, magazine, and billboard advertising to call the attention of the American public to the importance of remedying certain pressing social, economic, and religious problems is to be conducted beginning with the new year by the combined Protestant churches of the United States. The work is in charge of the Rev. Charles Steizle and is sponsored by the Home Mission council, representing Protestant churches with a combined membership of about 18,000,000 persons.

Mrs. Pankhurst Will Arrive Today.

The liner Oceanic which brings Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst to this country will probably not dock until tomorrow afternoon and the 24,000 members of the league for self-supporting women who are waiting her arrival are scarcely able to curb their impatience. Immediately after landing Mrs. Pankhurst will be escorted to the Woman's University club in Madison Square, where she will be the guest at an informal reception.

She will then go to Boston and Worcester and will return to New York in time for the reception which is to be given to her by the national and state suffrage organizations on Sunday afternoon at the Belmont headquarters. Arrangements for the monster mass-meeting to be held at Carnegie hall on that day night are nearly completed.

Opera Company Will Be Taken to Paris.

A reversal of the usual, an invasion of Europe by an American opera company, is announced by the Metropolitan Opera company in an official statement given out tonight. With the close of the season in New York the principal elements of the Metropolitan Opera company—its greatest artists, chorus, scenery, costumes, accessories, etc.—will be taken to Paris, there to appear during May and June, 1910, at the Chatelet theater.

The plan is undertaken, it is said, to demonstrate the artistic standard of the Metropolitan forces rather than for financial gain.

Will Serve in Army to Save Mother's Estate.

Rudolph Gluck, 19 years old, will sail from here for Russia in a few days to serve three years in the Russian army and thus save his mother's property at Kaprin, near Warsaw, from confiscation. His father died in Russia three months ago and a letter states that the Russian government has threatened to confiscate her home unless the son in America was surrendered for service in the army.

Runs Vessel Aground to Save Passengers.

The steamer Little Silver, with fifty-five passengers aboard, bound for Pleasure Bay, N. J., collided with a car float off the Statue of Liberty this afternoon and for a time was thought to be sinking. In his anxiety for the safety of the passengers Capt. Edwards headed his boat for the mud flats and grounded it. There was some excitement among the passengers, but all were taken off without mishap.

Seventy-five Heroic Swimmers Given Medals.

The United States Volunteer Life Saving corps presented medals or certificates of bravery today to seventy-five swimmers who made heroic rescues of drowning persons at shore resorts about New York City during the last summer. Among the medal winners were two children—Herbert Elder, 12 years old, who rescued a young woman, and Mamie Kavanagh, 15 years old, who rescued a boy.

RUSSIA TO OCCUPY FINLAND

Army Corps Will Move to Force Payment of $4,000,000.

CZAR'S GUARD WILL GO.

Movement of Cossacks to Helsingfors Already Has Begun.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—A report was current today that orders have been issued for the mobilization of the First corps of the Russian guard preliminary to the occupation of Finland. While an investigation proved the report to be premature, it also established that such military occupation of the grand duchy may take place if it is found necessary thus to enforce the wishes of the Russian government.

Grand Duke Takes Charge.

Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch, commander of the Russian imperial guard, has returned to the capital to take personal charge of the dispatch of the troops in the event that they are ordered out. These will include the czarevitch's regiment of life guard Cossacks.

The decision to prepare for an emergency was decided upon at a conference held at Premier Stolypin's chancellery, in which the ministers of war and marine and Lieut. Gen. Olchovsky, commanding the Twenty-second army corps, garrisoning Finland, took part. At the conclusion of the conference Gen. Olchovsky left hurriedly for Helsingfors, his headquarters.

Movement Already Is On.

HELSINGFORS, Oct. 19.—A force of Cossacks numbering 125 arrived at Tavastehus today. Other companies of Cossacks are expected to arrive at Frederikshamn and Helsingfors tomorrow. These troops are the advance guard of the force dispatched by the Russian government to Finland as a preventive measure against any movement on the part of the Finns to oppose Russia's action in enforcing its demands for a $4,000,000 contribution for national defense.

EMPEROR SAILS FOR ODESSA ON WAY TO ITALIAN VISIT.

Arrival at Southern Port Will Be Occasion for General Holiday—Many Troops on Guard.

YALTA, Russia, Oct. 19.—Emperor Nicholas sailed today on board the Russian imperial yacht Standart, en route for Italy. The Standart was convoyed by two Russian cruisers and is due to arrive at Odessa tomorrow morning. The arrival at Odessa will be made a general holiday. The czar will receive deputations representing the municipality, the nobility, and the Jewish residents.

Many Troops to Guard.

TURIN, Oct. 19.—The number of troops and police concentrated for the arrival of the Russian emperor is unprecedented. Emperor Nicholas will be with King Victor Emmanuel and the queen on the anniversary of their marriage, Oct. 24, which is considered a tactful arrangement.

It is reported that if the emperor goes to Naples by sea and later to Messina a French squadron also will escort him.

EMPTY FUEL TANK IMPERILS WRIGHT

Wilbur and Lieut. Lahm Near Serious Accident in Instruction Flight.

Army Pupils Take Successful Lesson in Aviation at College Park.

College Park, Md., Oct. 19.—"Motor troubles," the plague of the automobilist, today proved also to be a plague of aviators. While the government aeroplane was flying twenty feet above the earth, with Lieut. Frank P. Lahm operating the levers, the chugging of its most vital part, the motor, suddenly ceased. It was a new sensation for the embryo sky pilot, but his instructor, cool headed Wilbur Wright, grasped the levers and brought the machine safely to earth.

The motor's quitting work, which might have been followed by such an accident as that at Fort Myer a year ago, when Lieut. Selfridge was killed, proved to be the source of much amusement when discovered.

After the machine had been brought to earth the most strenuous efforts of the army officers, the mechanician, the aeronautical squad of the signal corps, and Mr. Wright himself could not get a single responsive chug from the motor.

Motor Overhauled in Vain.

Mr. Wright at first pronounced it magnet trouble and the magneto was carefully gone over. Then other parts of the motor were suggested as possible trouble makers, but only after several hours of investigation was it found that a careless private whose duty it was to keep the gasoline tank filled had failed to replenish the supply after yesterday's flights. When the gasoline was forthcoming the motor proved itself worthy of more trust than had been placed in it.

Altogether five instruction flights were made today, two in the morning and the other three after 4 o'clock. Lieuts. Lahm and Humphreys each accompanied Mr. Wright on one of the morning flights, while Lieut. Humphreys made two of the later flights and Lieut. Lahm the other.

During one of the afternoon flights when Lieut. Humphreys was with the instructor, the aeroplane again raced with a railroad train. It seemed to be moving faster than the train.

Makes Long Flight in Afternoon.

In the last flight of the day, on which Mr. Wright was accompanied by Lieut. Lahm, the machine remained aloft nineteen minutes and five seconds, the longest flight that has been made at College park.

Lieut. Benjamin D. Foulois will begin taking instructions from Mr. Wright within a short time.

Lieut. Foulois today gave Mr. Wright the government's check for $20,000 as a part payment for the machine which was purchased from the Wright brothers for the signal corps. Another $10,000, making the total contract price of $30,000, will be paid when the two army officers who have been receiving instructions are pronounced accomplished aviators.

SAY FRUIT STANDS ENDANGER HEALTH

Department to Ask Ordinance to Prohibit Sidewalk Exhibition of Edibles.

HAVE LAW IN KANSAS.

Grocers of Sunflower State Say Loss of Outside Displays Does Not Hurt Business.

An ordinance prohibiting the exhibition of fruit, vegetables, and other foodstuffs on sidewalk stands probably will be urged upon the city council by the health department next week.

Charles B. Ball, chief sanitary inspector, will present the subject to Health Commissioner Evans and his assistants at a conference to be held early next week, and it is said there is little question that the measure will receive unanimous support from the department.

"It would be entirely a health measure," said Dr. Ball, "and so could not be opposed on the same grounds as was the effort of the State Street Protective association to remove fruit stands on the ground that they were sidewalk obstructions.

"From the health standpoint the ordinance is necessary because there is not longer any question of the danger of contagion from foodstuffs that have been exposed to the dirt from the streets, the exhalations of passersby, and the contamination of flies."

Have Law in Kansas.

The campaign for this reform, after bobbing up spasmodically for several years, will be revived by the health department largely because of the results of the operation of a similar law passed in the state of Kansas six months ago. The attitude of the grocers was called to the attention of Dr. Ball by an article in the monthly bulletin of the Kansas state board of health, reprinted from the Merchants' Journal.

The article in part follows:

Now that the Kansas pure food regulation prohibiting outside displays of fruits and vegetables has been in active operation for some months and has received its trial at the hands of the Kansas grocers, it may be safely said that the plan meets with the approval of the great majority of the grocers of the state. Some thought the elimination of outside display would seriously cut down the fruit and green vegetable business, but it has not done so.

It may be in a few instances that the law has hurt business, but these cases are rare and usually will be found to be due to the fact that the grocer has not taken pains to make a tempting display of vegetables inside. From a purely business standpoint the change has been a good one and from a sanitary standpoint there is no doubt of its desirability.

Blow for Prohibition.

A subcommittee of the council committee on license, composed of Ald. Cermak, Bowler, Nolan, and Dailey, will report adversely on the petition for the creation of a prohibition district between One Hundred and Fifteenth and One Hundred and Eighteenth streets, Halsted street, and Emerald avenue. A tour of inspection made yesterday led the four to agree against the proposition.

The suit of George E. Sheldon, one of the former real estate experts employed under the Dunne administration, who are trying to collect $900 apiece for their services, will be closed before Municipal Judge Houston today.

The case will be taken under advicement, and until a decision is given the cases brought by T. J. Ryan, P. M. Walsh, Frank J. Wisner, William E. Casselman, and William G. Williamson will be continued.

VOTING MACHINE TEST FAILS; FIND ALL DEVICES IMPERFECT.

Election Board, After Inspection, Pronounces Them Failures—Says They Would Permit Law Evasion.

The board of election commissioners, after an expert examination of voting machines for use in Chicago, yesterday rejected all bids submitted, on the ground that each of the four machines submitted permits the voter to cast ballots contrary to the law.

In a formal statement issued by the board it was announced that the board might not again advertise for bids, but suggested that any one with a voting machine that will answer the purpose of the law bring it to the board for inspection after December, 1909.

Four machines were submitted in response to an advertisement for bids, which appeared Jan. 15, 1909.

The method of voting for members of the assembly is the point on which makers of voting machines have been unable to avoid trouble thus far, and this, together with the weights of the devices submitted, was given as the chief cause of all being rejected.

Mail Employes Elect New Officers.

The Supervising Postoffice Employés of Chicago elected new officers yesterday. George A. Gasman was chosen president. The other officers elected are: Vice president, Peter Dietrich, assistant superintendent of delivery; secretary, John T. McGrath, secretary to Postmaster Campbell; treasurer, Frank Nillis, assistant cashier of the postoffice; sergeant-at-arms, William H. Hogan, inspector of collections.

BOSTON IS AFRAID OF CENTRAL BANK

Wing, "that the sentiment here is strong against the establishment of a postal savings bank. At least, we do not need one here in Massachusetts, where we have an excellent and time-tried system of our own.

"It is possible that in other states, less thickly settled, the postal savings bank would become of great value in developing a habit of saving.

"Here, where we already have a bank in every town of considerable size, there is not the same need for such an institution. Our banks have been demonstrated to be entirely safe. Because of the different needs of widely separated sections of the country the suggestion has been made recently that it might be possible to allow the different states to choose for themselves as to whether they would have a government postal bank or not.

"Once the bank was established in the state it would have to stay there. There is reason to believe that a government bank would probably attract some deposits which are now withdrawn and hoarded in times of panic. I know that during the financial distress of 1907 a great many deposits were withdrawn from perfectly sound banks which did not get back into the banks for a long time. For instance, during the first sixty days of the disturbance we sent out to banks in our vicinity nearly seven million dollars in cash.

Sees Savings Banks Hurt.

"We never could see that that money actually came back for a long period of time, and it must be that a great many people, when they withdraw their money from the bank in time of fright, do not put it back again until they are thoroughly recovered.

"Probably a good deal of their savings is spent. A government bank possibly will attract a little of this kind of money, but there will be a temptation to withdraw savings from the private banks and put them into government banks, even with a loss of interest, on account of the supposed greater security. To that extent the postal savings bank will always be a menace to the other institutions."

Another Boston banker, who was much averse to the use of his name, said frankly in talking of the central bank scheme:

"I don't suppose there is any doubt that if a great central bank with a capital of $100,000,000 were to be established today the Standard Oil company or some similar aggregation of capital would surely control it tomorrow. You could divide up the directors among different sections of the country just as much as you chose, and yet in the long run the big financial interests would find a way to control these men in the bank through their outside interests.

Would Give Wall Street Weapon.

"Few men in a local banking institution are willing to contemplate being put into a position of open hostility to vast financial interests because of the facility with which those interests could interfere with ordinary business operations. At the same time, with all the popular hostility to the controlling elements in Wall street, I am not sure there is any one to whom I would trust the important business of fixing discounts sooner than to them.

"In any event, it would be vastly to be preferred to any purely political control by a lot of politicians in Washington. What we want to do is to separate the government from the banking business entirely and not to perpetuate its influence."

AGED PRIEST A GAS VICTIM: DEATH DUE TO AN ACCIDENT.

Father Adrian F. Van Hulst, 92 Years Old, Turns on Jet in Bedroom at St. Ignatius College and Is Asphyxiated.

The Rev. Adrian F. Van Hulst, a Roman Catholic priest, 92 years old, was found unconscious in a gas filled room at St. Ignatius college yesterday, and died a few minutes after medical aid was summoned.

The death of the priest is believed to have been due to an accident. He arose early and was attempting to light the gas when he fell to the floor. When his unconscious form was found a burned match was in one hand. He was found by another priest, who had been attracted by the odor of gas.

Father Van Hulst was one of the most widely known Jesuit priests in Chicago, having been connected with social and settlement work for the last thirty years. He was spiritual director of the House of the Good Shepherd for many years until three years ago, when he was forced to give up the work on account of illness and old age.

He was born in Holland, Dec. 17, 1817, and ordained in December, 1839.

BOARD TO LOOK FOR PEONAGE IN QUIZ WHICH OPENS TODAY.

Assistant District Attorneys Will Appear Before Congressman Burnett's Committee and Tell of Conditions.

Several assistant district attorneys who have had to do with peonage investigations and prosecutions in Chicago may be called upon to tell their knowledge and opinions on the subject when the peonage committee of the congressional immigration committee meets in Chicago today.

Assistant District Attorneys Seward S. Shirer, Chester A. Legg, and Harry A. Parkin are expected to appear before the committee, which is headed by Congressman John L. Burnett. Mr. Shirer had charge of the federal investigation of peonage among the Greeks, in which a number of convictions were obtained two years ago. Mr. Legg had to do with the grand jury inquiry into conditions at the plant of the Corn Products company at Argo, Ill., a year ago.

W. H. Chatsworth of Argo was served with a subpoena by Deputy United States Marshal Davis yesterday and G. Benson, an Argo saloonkeeper, has also been summoned. Immigration inspectors are expected to testify. Subpœnas for several others are in the hands of deputy marshals.

Chairman Burnett and members of the committee are expected to arrive in Chicago this morning. The sessions of the hearing will be held either in the federal building or in the offices of the bureau of immigration in the Commercial National Bank building.

SEALED VERDICT IN BATONYI CASE

Jury Decides on Horseman's Wife's Plea for an Absolute Divorce.

WILL KNOW NEWS TODAY.

Husband Takes Witness Stand and Denies All Charges of Misconduct.

New York, Oct. 19.—A jury in the Supreme court decided tonight whether the second matrimonial venture of Frank Work's daughter, Frances Work-Burke-Roche-Batonyi—and the second venture of her second husband, by the way—is to be called off, but the decision will not be known until tomorrow morning, when a sealed verdict will be opened before Justice O'Gorman.

Aurel Batonyi, a native of Austria and a former professional whip and horseman, took the stand himself this afternoon to deny his wife's charges of improper conduct with two women. After a great deal of family history had been aired, counsel for both sides summed up and the court told the jurors that if they accepted the denial by Batonyi that he knew of or had visited any apartment house in Central Park West or had taken a taxicab ride with Beatrice Brevaine, an actress, they must bring in a verdict in his favor.

If, on the other hand, they did not accept the denial there yet remained to them the duty of determining from the evidence of the seven witnesses for the plaintiff whether a statutory offense had been committed.

Jury Remains Out Three Hours.

When the jury came in court again after three hours' deliberation it was announced that the questions as propounded by the court had been decided upon. They were sent home for the night with instruction to report in the morning.

This, the last day of the trial, was marked at the opening with more testimony by witnesses for Mrs. Batonyi to prove that the Austrian whip had been unfaithful to her. This was followed by emphatic testimony of the defendant, immaculately dressed and with his mustache carefully waxed, who spoke so heatedly and with such feeling that he was admonished by the court.

He denied his wife's allegations in toto; branded them as lies; said he was hounded by detectives, and accused his wife's relatives and others of alienating her affections, in connection with which charge he has a suit for damages pending.

Mrs. Batonyi was in court all day, but no sign of recognition passed between her and the man she is suing for absolute divorce, Batonyi, in previous proceedings, won his suit for separation and they have been living apart since.

Batonyi Has Had Three Names.

Cross examination of the defendant by Mrs. Batonyi's lawyer brought out some new sidelights on the case today.

"What is your real name?" he was asked.

"Aurel Batonyi."

"You have had another name?"

"Two other names," responded the defendant.

"What were they?"

"Kohn and Muremberg," he replied. "I changed my name just as the works did. Their name originally was Worth when they were sailors."

Mrs. Batonyi concluded her case with the testimony of Annie Nelson, who is said to have been the maid of Mrs. Henry Lawrence or Margaret Allen, one of the two corespondents named in the suit. Mrs. Lawrence's deposition positively denies that Batonyi made the night visits to her apartments alleged by the plaintiff.

Miss Nelson described the arrangement of the Lawrence apartment, but said she had neither seen or heard anything wrong there on the night of Dec. 17, 1907, the date named in the complaint.

Batonyi Denies All Charges.

Batonyi was the first witness for the defense. He denied absolutely that he knew Mrs. Lawrence, that he had visited her apartments on the night in question or that he had ever talked with her on the telephone. He also denied having visited "Margaret Allen." He swore that he never had ridden in a taxicab with Miss Brevaine.

The horseman said he had brought three suits for $300,000 each against his father-in-law, Frank Work, Frank K. Sturgis, and Peter Cooper Hewitt for alienation of his wife's affections.

"I do not care for the money," he declared fiercely. "If I win I will give the money to charity. All I want is vindication." He asserted that he and his wife were perfectly happy until outsiders interfered.

Batonyi's vehemence on the stand caused him to be cautioned several times by Justice O'Gorman. Batonyi's attorney read from an affidavit alleged to have been made in connection with the alienation suits in which his client made charges regarding his wife, bringing in the name of Frank K. Sturgis and mentioning other men whose names were not disclosed.

"CUPID AGENT," BY APPEAL, SEEKS TO AVOID BRIDEWELL.

Mrs. Jennie Scott, Found Guilty of Operating Fraudulent Matrimonial Bureau, Takes Case to Higher Court.

Whether Mrs. Jennie Scott is to be judged the same as Marion Grey, the Elgin "cupid agent" after whom she patterned her "International Correspondence association," is to be decided by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Like Marion Grey, Mrs. Scott was found guilty in the District court of swindling wife and husband seekers and was sentenced to one year in the bridewell by Judge K. M. Landis. Yesterday Judges Grosscup, Baker, and Seaman, in the Court of Appeals, heard arguments on her appeal from the lower court. They took the case under advisement.

The conviction of Marion Grey was upheld by the same judges, but President Taft, surrendering to a voluminous plea from societies that interested themselves in the young woman's case, commuted the sentence of one year to one month.

GUGGENHEIM TO FIGHT BACK

Proves Intention at Hearing of Petition Attacking Divorce.

MAINTAIN A RAPID FIRE.

Attorneys Attack First Wife's Arguments Before Judge Honore.

Whether or not Grace Guggenheim is legally divorced from William Guggenheim, the youngest of the seven brothers of smelter fame, or whether the decree obtained in Chicago on March 20, 1901, is void, will be determined by Judge Honoré in a hearing which began yesterday.

The action is held on petitions filed by former Judge Edward F. Dunne, by whom the original decree was granted.

Judge Honoré now has under advisement the plea by Samuel Untermeyer of New York, attorney for Mr. Guggenheim, that the court had no right to reopen the case. Whether or not testimony will be taken or the case dropped hinges upon the question whether the court has jurisdiction to open a case on its own motion after the term has expired in which the decree was entered. It is expected that Judge Honoré will announce his decision today.

During the first day's skirmish Mr. Guggenheim's attorneys maintained a rapid fire series of arguments based on technical objections to reopening of the case.

Ignores Other States.

Judge Honoré stated that the fact that the Chicago divorce has been held valid by other states does not affect the situation, as these courts are without power to review the findings of the Illinois courts.

He also declared he would give full consideration to the reports that Mrs. Guggenheim was bringing the action in hopes of receiving added pecuniary benefit.

Attorney Seabury, in asking that the case be reopened on the grounds of fraud in the original hearing, said:

"The first duty of the court is to rectify its orders when they are shown to be fraudulent. What can be said of a court that remains idle when a charge of fraud is made against its records? These defendants want the court to believe that its hands are tied because the term has expired.

"If such a theory is correct, it means that parties can come into court and obtain a decree by fraud, and after the expiration of the term be immune from prosecution."

Sequel of "Poker Suit."

Elbert E. Jaycox, a wealthy insurance man, with offices at 159 La Salle street, during the day instituted divorce proceedings in the Circuit court against his wife, Ina Ward Jaycox. Desertion is charged.

The suit recalls the sensational suit for separate maintenance begun by Mrs. Jaycox two years ago. Her husband retaliated with charges that she was given to playing poker.

She answered this by saying that he taught her the game. Her suit, however, was dismissed.

STATE BAPTISTS LAUD GEN. GRANT

Warrior Praised at Galesburg Convention for Heading Temperance Parade.

BIG INCREASE IS SHOWN.

Annual Membership Gain for the Last Four Years Has Been 5,000, Report Says.

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—A stirring incident at the state Baptist convention was the cheering that greeted the name of Gen. Frederick D. Grant when his marching at the head of the temperance parade in Chicago was praised. Another was the unanimity with which the convention passed a resolution indorsing the action of the Chicago Federation of Labor in its stand against an injunction nullifying the ten hour day for women and calling on all Christians of the state to uphold the cause of womanhood.

The Rev. E. P. Brand of Normal, in his report on mission work in the state, said the net average increase in membership of Illinois Baptists has been 5,000 annually for the last four years, which is twice the annual gain of the thirty preceding years.

Tells Problems of Baptists.

Among the problems confronting the Baptists of the state were named the two extremes of theological views, the paralyzing effects of the rapidly increasing wealth of certain Baptists, the lack of men for the ministry, and the fact that two-fifths of the population of the state is in one county.

Mr. Brand urged the increasing of the field of usefulness for pastors and that Baptists get a new view of the function of wealth.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the state reports were read and these officers elected:

President—Mrs. A. J. Steelman, Joliet.

Vice presidents—Mrs. R. A. Hilton, Chicago, and Mrs. G. A. Sawyer, Chicago.

Secretary—Mrs. F. H. Smith, Glencoe.

Members of the State Young People's union heard addresses and elected these officers:

President—C. E. Boyer, Piano.

Vice presidents—H. J. Ballestine, Lincoln, and the Rev. C. W. Nichols, Belleville.

Secretary—Miss E. Constance, Marshall.

Treasurer—Frank W. Ives, Bloomington.

The following were elected officers of the state association.

President—A. J. Scrogen, Lexington.

First vice president—J. Spencer Dickenson, Chicago.

Second vice president—The Rev. E. J. Thomas, Atlanta.

Secretary—The Rev. L. C. Trent, Kewanee.

The Rev. Horace Reed of Decatur, as field secretary of the Illinois Vigilance association, urged a continuance of the warfare against the white slave traffic.

KOHLSAAT HALTED BY SUPREME COURT

Highest Federal Tribunal Orders Stay of Proceedings in Carter Case.

$47,000 FUND IS TIED UP.

Attorneys for Convicted Captain Seek More Fees; Have Had $88,000.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Under circumstances that approached the sensational, the United States Supreme court called a halt today in the granting of further attorney's fees in the case of Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, who was convicted and served a term in the federal penitentiary for defrauding the government in the construction of the Savannah harbor.

Judge Christian C. Kohlsaat of the Federal Circuit court in Chicago will be served with notice tomorrow instructing him to allow no more fees until the supreme court can investigate the matter.

The attention of the court was called to the fact that $88,000 already has been paid to attorneys representing Capt. Carter. This amount was allowed in different installments by the federal court at Chicago and was taken out of a fund of $135,000 which is in the hands of a receiver, pending the outcome of litigation. Capt. Carter's attorneys had petitioned Judge Kohlsaat to grant them another slice of the remaining $47,000. The intervention of the Supreme court will prevent Judge Kohlsaat from passing upon this petition at the present time.

Case an Emergency Matter.

The subject was brought up at the opening of court at noon as an emergency matter. Solicitor General Lloyd Bowers went before the court accompanied by a special assistant attorney, Marion Irwin, who has represented the government in the Carter case for several years.

Mr. Bowers stated to the court that he appeared with much reluctance in the case, and only because of the extreme urgency of the matter. He stated that the attorneys for Capt. Carter had given notice that they would make application to Judge Kohlsaat tomorrow for a further allowance of counsel fees to be paid out of the $47,000 remaining in the Carter fund. This fund of $135,000 was part of the amount awarded the government by the decision in the Carter case.

Mr. Bowers informed the court that the payment out of this fund of $88,000 in attorneys' fees was considered extraordinary inasmuch as these allowances had been made for services in the Circuit court alone. The government feared that the fund might be entirely dissipated if further allowances were made on the scale of previous ones. For that reason, he said, the government took the unusual step of appealing to the Supreme court to interfere and investigate the matters

Seeks Writ of Prohibition.

He then formally presented an application for an immediate stay of proceedings in the Circuit court tomorrow and also presented a request for a writ of absolute prohibition of further allowances for counsel fees. The application was the first ever made by the government for a writ of such character and its presentation aroused unusual interest among the attaches of the court.

The Carter case was extraordinarily complicated before this latest move of the government. Both Carter and the government had appealed from the findings of the court in disposing of the property in litigation and the appeal and cross appeal now are pending. Mr. Bowers in his argument asserted that Judge Kohlsaat, on account of this status of the case, was without jurisdiction to allow any attorneys' fees. Judge Kohlsaat, however, had taken the position that he was entirely authorized to grant such fees as he found justifiable, and the government feared he would proceed to follow out this policy on the hearing of the petition of Carter's attorneys tomorrow.

Carter's Defense Is Overruled.

Attorney John B. Daish of Washington appeared on behalf of Capt. Carter and his Chicago attorney. He explained that the petition to be presented to Judge Kohlsaat was for an allowance for fees and expenses incurred in connection with Capt. Carter's appeal. He asserted that since 1901 there had been a stipulation between the government and Capt. Carter by virtue of which the expenses of Capt. Carter's defense had been paid out of the trust fund awarded the government. Mr. Bowers replied that the stipulation had not been lived up to and that it was not binding.

Without leaving their seats on the bench the members of the court authorized Chief Justice Fuller to direct the issuance of an order halting proceedings in Judge Kohlsaat's court tomorrow and authorizing the government to file a petition for a writ of prohibition enjoining the Chicago judge from making any further distribution of the Carter fund. There will be a further hearing of the matter on Nov. 1.

Young Woman Shot by Crazed Suitor.

Katherine Kawogna.

WOUNDS GIRL; KILLS SELF

Rejected Suitor of Katherine Kawogna Attempts Her Life.

HE THEN COMMITS SUICIDE.

Knowledge That Rival Had Triumphed Made Stephen Kroslak Desperate.

Because she refused to marry him, Stephen Kroslak, 25 years old, shot and seriously wounded Katherine Kawogna, a Slav girl, 21 years old. He then turned the revolver on himself, sent a bullet through his brain, and dropped dead at her feet.

The girl fainted from loss of blood and shock and was taken to the county hospital in a critical condition. Surgeons said she might recover.

The tragedy occurred a few minutes before noon at the home of John Slazak, 1631 Jefferson street. Miss Kawogna was seated in a chair near the window and Mrs. Slazak was nursing a baby to sleep.

Shoots Without Warning.

Suddenly the door was thrown open and Kroslak strode into the room.

"I'm going to marry you now, Katie," he exclaimed, pulling a revolver from his pocket. Startled, the girl sought to rise from her chair, but Kroslak had aimed and fired. The bullet entered her head near the right eye and came out by the left temple. Then the crazed man shot again, the second bullet piercing the girl's left hand.

He then placed the muzzle of the revolver in his mouth and pulled the trigger a third time.

Terrifies Witnesses.

Mrs. Slazak was a terrified witness of the double shooting, unable to prevent it and too frightened to even cry for help.

"After he shot her he leaned over her body a minute and I thought he meant to kiss her," she said. "Then he straightened up and shot himself. He staggered toward the door and then fell in a heap on the floor."

Miss Kawogna had planned to marry Lewis Svalenska, a painter, 1701 Ruble street, on Saturday and had purchased her trousseau. The police learned Kroslak had sought to pay her attention for several weeks, but that the girl had persistently resisted his advances.

Painful Dyspepsia

A Form of Indigestion Caused by Gastric Irritation from Undigested Food in the Stomach.

No kind of dyspepsia is better marked than that known as "painful indigestion," and it is also a very common affection. Pain, generally of a dull character, is felt after meals, and along with the pain, soreness at the pit of the stomach often exists, and in some cases the soreness is permanent. The tenderness is commonly restricted to a spot in the middle line of the body, immediately below the breast-bone.

It often extends upward under the bone, which consequently feels sore on pressure, or the tenderness is felt toward either side. This tenderness is commonly associated with an unpleasant feeling of heat—"a burning sensation"—as it is termed by some persons. There is also a "gnawing" and "dragging," as well as various other anomalous sensations complained of after taking food, and generally within an hour after eating.

As might be supposed the intensity of the symptom is proportionate to the quantity and quality of the meal. When the stomach is empty, a sensation of craving or emptiness gives most trouble. This often causes a false appetite, which, by inducing the person to eat heartily aggravates the sufferings. Thirst generally causes much annoyance; heartburn, water-brash, acidity, nausea, and headache are not infrequent attendants. The tongue is usually coated and from a mere inspection of this organ the condition of the stomach can often be correctly told.

It is a common error with persons who suffer from stomach pain caused by indigestion and gastric irritation, to use such drugs as chlorodyne, anodyne, and other "pain killers" for its relief. Such treatment is a great mistake. While these drugs afford temporary relief to the dyspeptic pain, they have no effect whatever in removing the cause.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS remove the cause. By completely digesting all the food in the stomach, there is no further possibility of the occurrence of this disagreeable form of dyspepsia with its painful manifestations, and other concurrent symptoms. All of the irritation of the stomach-lining and stomach-nerves as the result of the undigested food lying in that organ and undergoing fermentation and decomposition, is quickly done away with.

But not only is the form of dyspepsia which is accompanied by pain cured through the use of these digestive tablets, but also every other form of indigestion, as there are many kinds in which stomach pain does not occur, but where there are many symptoms equally disagreeable, discomforting, disconcerting and discouraging.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain, in a highly concentrated form, powerful antidyspeptic ingredients, which digest rapidly and thoroughly food of every kind, including proteids, nitrates, carbo-hydrates, etc. A single grain will disintegrate and digest 3,000 grains of food.

Purchase a box from your druggist at once (price 50 cents), and get rid of the pain, discomfort and other disagreeable symptoms of dyspepsia. Also send us your name and address for free sample package. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

WAR OVER PRICE OF EVERYBODY'S

One Stockholder in Butterick Objects to Paying $3,000,000 Purchase.

GOOD WILL AT HIGH COST.

Question Raised if Staff Would Do the Extra Work for the Same Salary.

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—There were lively doings this afternoon at a meeting of the Butterick Publishing company stockholders, which was called in order to get authorization for a new issue of stock, the proceeds of which will be used in taking over Everybody's Magazine.

Former Judge Augustus Van Wyck stood out against the purchase of the Ridgway publication, and quizzed G. W. Wilder, president of the Butterick company, for two hours as to the merits of the magazine as a money maker. Judge Van Wyck was told that the principal assets consisted of the good will.

Mr. Wilder left the chair to a subordinate as soon as he found the former judge was going to ask questions. The first question put was about the assets, and it was answered as above.

"Well," said Van Wyck, "I don't wish to discredit the value of Mr. Ridgway's good will, but I can't see that it's worth all you propose to pay him for it."

Staff May Ask Raise.

Then Wilder added: "But the magazine has a wonderfully well organized staff. It could be used to advantage on the Butterick publications."

"Are the members of the staff under contract?"

"No," answered Wilder. "They're not."

"Then do you think they will do the additional work without additional compensation?" pursued Van Wyck.

"I don't think they will," was the reply.

Then Van Wyck tried to find out something about the net earnings of the Ridgway Publishing company—as a publisher of "uplift" matter—during recent years. Wilder said he had figures at hand, but he couldn't reveal them unless all the stockholders present would bind themselves not to make them public. He added that they amounted to 10 per cent throughout the last two or three years.

"How about losses from Ridgway Weekly?" asked Van Wyck. "I understand they are pretty heavy."

Mr. Wilder told Mr. Van Wyck that $300,000 was lost in that enterprise, but that the whole sum had been made good.

Threatens Test in Courts.

Mr. Van Wyck intimated that if the stockholders should vote to buy out the Ridgway Publishing company for $3,000,000 he would test the legality of the proceeding in the courts.

"By the way," said he to Wilder, "how much Butterick stock does the Wilder family own?"

"Pretty nearly a majority," he was told.

The result of the vote showed that Mr. Wilder had the majority of the stockholders with him.

MORE SUPPORT FOR DR. COOK

Danish Ship Captain, Back from Greenland, Believes Him.

RASMUSSEN IS SURE, TOO.

Explorer Will Come to America with Eskimos.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 19.—The Greenland steamer Godthaab, in command of Capt. Schoubye, has arrived here. Capt. Schoubye reports that Knud Rasmussen, the explorer, who is now in Greenland, after examining thirty-five Cape York Eskimos who had seen Dr. Cook's Eskimo companions, is quite convinced that Dr. Cook reached the pole.

He says Rasmussen is willing to go to the United States with the two Eskimos, Etukishook and Ahwelah, who were Dr. Cook's sole companions in the latter part of his expedition. Rasmussen, however, the captain states, had not himself seen Etukishook or Ahwelah, who are now hunting.

Rasmussen's wife and father have both received letters from him giving details obtained from the Eskimos. These are practically the same as Dr. Cook's story.

It is stated that the university authorities here consulted with the Danish Geographical society regarding the request of the American Geographical society that the university authorities waive their right to the first examination of Dr. Cook's data. The Danish society advised that the request be refused.

DR. COOK NEEDS SIX WEEKS.

Columbus, O., Oct. 19.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook on his arrival here to lecture tonight declared it would require at least six weeks to prepare his data concerning the north pole for the Copenhagen university.

Henson Feted By Negroes.

New York, Oct. 19.—"Mat" Henson, the negro who accompanied Commander Peary on his polar dash, was the guest of honor tonight at a dinner given by the leaders of New York City's negro population. Charles A. Anderson, collector of internal revenue, was the toastmaster, and the speakers included James A. Cobb, assistant United States District attorney, Washington, D. C., and W. S. Scarborough, president of Wilberforce university.

A gold watch with a chain of icebergs linked together was presented to Henson and telegrams of congratulation were read from Commander Peary and Booker T. Washington.

J. P. MORGAN IN GOOD HEALTH.

Report of Financier's Illness Denied by Some of His Close Associates.

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—J. P. Morgan has been at his office frequently of late and is apparently in the best of health. He was at his desk today.

Notwithstanding successive denials and the evidence of Mr. Morgan's regular appearance in Wall street, rumors that he is a sick man have cropped up periodically for the last month or two, usually after the close of the New York market.

Late this afternoon the story gained currency among the arbitrage houses that the financier was ill. Later it began to be talked about uptown. Close associates of Mr. Morgan said tonight he was in his usual health.

WEALTHY WOMAN MURDER VICTIM?

Finding of Body in Long Island Woods Recalls Old Auto Mystery.

PLOT IN SECOND DEATH?

Another Man Is Accused in the St. Jean Case by the Fall River Police.

Islip, L. I., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—No progress has been made toward identifying the body of the young woman which was found yesterday in the scrub between Brentwood and Islip.

The spot where the body—in reality little more than a charred skeleton—was found, is perhaps a thousand feet off the main road, between Brentwood and Islip, in a wooded tract, much covered with woods. The body was partly covered with leaves. It was charred perhaps by the fire which ran over this tract late last fall and the clothing for the most part was destroyed. The scraps of the garments showed that they had been of good quality. The body was that of a young woman probably 22 years old and 5 feet 7 inches in height.

Coroner Savage said he believed the death of the woman occurred a year ago. The mystery has recalled an automobile party that passed along this road late on Thanksgiving night a year ago. There were at least two men and one woman in the automobile and the woman was heard to scream.

New Man in Murder Mystery.

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 19.—On the partly substantiated theory that Miss Amelia St. Jean, whose mutilated body was found in Tiverton, R. I., died in the office of "Prof." Frank Hill, the police authorities tonight stated they had formed the basis of the case which they will press against "Prof." Hill when he is brought into court on Monday next.

Mention of a third man in the case was made openly tonight. "The third man," according to the police, made arrangements with "Prof." Hill for a visit from Miss St. Jean.

The statement from Police Inspector Medley today, fixing the probable scene of the crime in Hill's office, indicates that the matter is one for Massachusetts jurisdiction.

Juror's Mother Dead; Plot?

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 19.—Because the body of a woman found in a shallow creek at Lee and Taylor avenues in North St. Louis yesterday was identified today as that of Mrs. James Satterfield, mother of Thomas Satterfield, foreman of the jury which recently convicted Thomas Kane of second degree murder, in connection with a political killing, the local police have begun a searching investigation of the woman's last hours.

It is rumored that the death is the result of a project of vengeance directed against the members of the jury.

Satterfield asserts that his mother had no reason to commit suicide and he could not account for her being in the neighborhood of the creek, several miles from the Bethlehem home for aged persons, in which she lived.

DON'T FORGET HEROES: GRANT

General Tells Sons of Revolution to Cherish Names of Past.

SAYS IT HELPS PATRIOTISM.

The Rev. John T. Stone Speaks of Parents' Duties to Their Children.

"When people cast aside sentiments of patriotism and ideals of loyalty they become sordid, and sordidness marches hand in hand with vice."

In these words Gen. Frederick Dent Grant delivered the keynote of an inspiring address on patriotism at the Yorktown day celebration and banquet of the Illinois Society of the Sons of American Revolution at the Chicago Athletic association last night.

"In my opinion," said Gen. Grant, "it is vitally important to unceasingly inspire in the youth of the country sentiments of reverence and respect for the heroes gone before, lest the noble deeds of the past, which insured us the blessings of the present, be forgotten in this busy, practical age.

Should Remember Heroes.

"Let us cherish zealously our own ideals of loyalty and truth, and preserve all the tablets and monuments to the memories of heroes of the past who established our liberties in the war of the revolution and who defended our government in those terrible days of the rebellion.

"Let us not, in these times of great wealth and luxuries, forget our noble heroes of the past. Let us continue to raise monuments in memory of their lives and deeds, and cherish always their examples for the elevation of their descendants and of our countrymen."

The Rev. John Timothy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, spoke along the same lines. He also urged parents to keep a closer watch over their children if they hoped to preserve American institutions and ideals.

"Our greatest heritage, the home, is becoming endangered because we are delegating to others the teaching of our children," said he. "What good is $1,000,000 to your child if the child doesn't know you?

"It's time for fathers to realize they ought to be fathers and mothers to know that they ought to be mothers in every sense of the word.

Says Boys Are Profane.

"I don't believe in casting slurs upon our good city, but I venture to say that 90 per cent of the boys on the street are profane, and the reason is they have not been associating with the people who could keep them in the straight path.

"Play with your children when they are young, take frolics with them as they grow older, and advise them and make them your companions when they grow up.

"By association and example parents could keep their offspring from the so-called fascinating allurements of sin.

"Be their friends and teach them patriotism and religion and the world will become better. The city or the state can be no better or stronger than the home."

Brief addresses were made by Morris B. Beardsley of Bridgeport, Conn., president general of the national organization, who, with his wife, were the guests of honor, and by Mrs. John C. Ames, state regent of the Illinois society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Samuel E. Bliss was toastmaster.

AMERICAN RADIATORS & IDEAL BOILERS

With an outfit of IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators for Hot-water or Low-Pressure Steam heating your coal bills, repair bills, and doctor's bills will shrink, and the comfort, health, and happiness of your family will correspondingly expand. You ought to prove this for yourself, just as thousands of Americans and Europeans are doing. You never see our goods going to the junk heap. Years of use show no wear, but they continue to bring out steady results in ample comfort and fuel economy.

ADVANTAGE 9: IDEAL Boilers are built low so they easily go into shallow cellars, saving the bother and expense of preparing a pit. This low construction gives ample opportunity to run the mains (or large supply pipes) at such decided pitch in the cellar as to thoroughly drain the steam system of the water of condensation, or to insure rapid circulation in the hot-water system. This removes any liability for "trapping" with its uncouth, gurgling noises, commonly termed "pounding in the pipes."

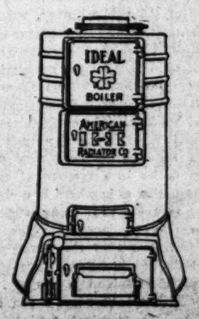

A No. 2-22-S IDEAL Boiler and 262 ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $170, were used to Steam heat this cottage.

A No. W-19-7 IDEAL Boiler and 627 ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $320, were used to Hot-Water heat this cottage.

At these prices the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent Fitter. This did not include cost of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which installation is extra and varies according to climatic and other conditions.

Five cold months still ahead! These outfits can be put in without tearing up, annoyance to occupants, or disturbing old heating methods until ready to start fire in the new. Tell us the kind of building you wish to heat. Prices now most favorable, and you get the services of the most skillful fitters. Ask for our free book, "Heating Investments Successful."

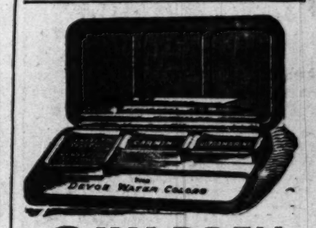

IDEAL Boilers will supply the necessary heat at night for not less than 8 hours in zero weather with one charging of coal, and there is ample fire to start up for the next day. None of the heat is wasted up the chimney.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1909.

A TAG was a badge of honor yesterday.

ONE that cost a dollar, moreover, could not be distinguished from a 5 cent badge.

IT has been demonstrated that the people are willing to give up. All you have to do is to go after them.

NOW THAT Leslie M. Shaw has announced his disapproval of the central bank scheme, the case may be considered closed.

ANOTHER thing to be taken into consideration is that a shopgirl in simple attire is not so likely to avert attention from the goods she is trying to sell.

IT is not surprising to learn, either, that the red light district did the biggest business in its history after the Gipsy Smith parade was over.

THE movement against Uncle Joe Cannon has not assumed the form of a revolution, but it has every appearance of being a lively insurrection.

AS TO the tadpole ditch, its only claim to usefulness now is that it serves to some extent as a frightful example.

GIPSY SMITH might accomplish some good by heading a parade through the kerosene lighted districts.

TEXAS, having abundance of room, will convert itself into as many golf links—or linkses—as Mr. Taft may desire to use during his sojourn in the state.

FROM the top of the tallest structure in Peoria, it is said, an observer with a good glass can see Springfield. But no Peorian, even with a glass in his hand, views Springfield as the promised land.

GIVE Prof. Stanley Ketchel credit for having sacrificed two or three perfectly sound teeth on the altar of white supremacy.

THUS far it does not seem to have been necessary for President Taft to rebuke any rude boys for calling him "Billy."

THEY have been waving the red flag of revolution even in London! Neither the British constitution nor the bylaws will stand for that one moment.

ST. LOUIS is holding its regular annual beauty and fashion show, with the usual horse attachments.

EVEN when Cincinnati has secured its nine foot stage of water in the Ohio river it may have to howl for steamboats to use it.

DIAZ doubtless hopes to have the pleasure in his official capacity of meeting several more presidents of the United States.

WHAT a weary time Detroit has had in waiting, waiting for that world's championship pennant!

INCIDENTALLY President Taft is gathering material for his first Thanksgiving proclamation.

LET us hope, however, that New York City's pie famine will be over before the Thanksgiving proclamation is issued.

ST. LOUIS, as the fourth American city, is in the first division, anyway.

CESARE LOMBROSO.

In the words of Prof. Ferrero, his friend, Cesare Lombroso, who has died in Italy, was a Jewish prophet in the garb of a modern philosopher. In the sense that Darwin, Spencer, and Taine were prophets we may perhaps also consider Lombroso one, but he was by temperament so far removed from the calm outlook of those men that it is difficult to bracket him with them in almost any sense.

As a psychologist he undoubtedly ranked high. He raised criminology to a science, but he was not content with that. He tried to make it a religion. Like so many others of his race, he had a passion for justice, and this, sometimes, he carried to extreme lengths. In his investigation of the terrible pellagra ravages in Italy he became possessed of the idea that the land owners deliberately fed moldy maize to the peasants. His crusade against the alleged injustice was so violent as to lead to reprisals and he was obliged to leave the district, thereby impairing his usefulness to those he was trying to help.

So, too, in his research into criminology, while he put the world yearly into possession of profound truths discovered by him with almost inspired intuition; while he enriched science with knowledge of almost inestimable value to the human race, his students and followers had hard tasks to winnow this knowledge from the mass of worthless deductions in which it was buried. Many of these deductions, seized upon and exploited in a sensational manner by the press of the world, stretched Lombroso's fame to the snapping point. So intense was his enthusiasm and so strong his belief in his own discoveries that, encouraged by unscrupulous influences, he lent his name to still wilder theories, and doubts of his own sanity became prevalent.

But out of the mass of his impassioned writings, from the huge sum of his scientific discoveries along the lines of psychology, craniology, and psychiatry the future will be able to select enough of real worth to stamp this man as having contributed a body of unique and valuable facts to the sum of human knowledge.

OPPORTUNITY.

Seventeen days ago THE TRIBUNE made an analysis of conditions which in its opinion contributed to the detriment of the city and a statement of opportunities which in its judgment awaited the men clear sighted enough to see them and public spirited enough to use them.

There has been no disposition to push criticism beyond its warranted boundaries, and it is admitted that underlying the seeming passive toleration of conditions which should not be tolerable there is individual willingness to act and readiness to serve. If this were not so criticism of Chicago had better be dropped as at once useless and disagreeable. It is because there are men and agencies which can remove the causes that the criticism is justified and that the critic finds his warrant as a constructor and escapes the odium of a detractor.

THE TRIBUNE has the belief that the means of correction are available if the men whose personal disposition, civic pride, and business interest properly incline them will admit the need for united action and coöperative endeavor. It has the belief that this need will be admitted, and as a confirmation of that it observes the action of the Chicago Association of Commerce in extending and the city council in accepting an invitation for a conference.

When this spirit has spread to the other organizations of the city, official and unofficial, public and quasi-public, political, commercial, and social, the justification of the unpleasant task of criticism will be apparent. THE TRIBUNE, assuming no prerogatives other than those possessed by any Chicago institution or Chicago citizen truly desirous that the best in the city's possibilities shall be attained, calls to the attention of these other organizations the fact that an opportunity exists all the more promising because of the responsive attitude of the Association of Commerce and the city council and city administration.

It does not limit its appeal to the organizations which in their separate fields have been best known. It addresses itself not only to such bodies as the Commercial club, the Citizens' association, the Civic federation, the Municipal Voters' league, the Legislative Voters' league, etc. There is an irresistible force latent in the societies, mighty as they are modest, which serves for purposes of community, religious, national, social, and fraternal expression. They, to a greater degree than any other, contain the people of Chicago.

That force, once conscious of its power and invited to use it for the betterment of the city, would make all things possible. In the coöperative impulse which the action of the Association of Commerce and the city council discloses there is a sign that the desire of citizens to work better together so that they may live better together will be aroused.

To the Association of Commerce and the city council THE TRIBUNE suggests a consideration of the facts that commercial energy and civic morality cannot be separated long with advantage to the former; that the booming of trade and the neglect of the city which offers it cannot travel together; that to invite customers in and offend them when they are here is not good policy; that a clean, well paved street is a better advertisement for a city than an expedition of trade seekers; that it is not what people read of Chicago but what they see of it which is detrimental.

GIPSY'S PARADE IN THE LEVEE.

Thousands of youngsters of both sexes—of the impressionable age—went to the levee Monday night for the first time in their lives.

An orgy unexampled in history in the hecatombs of vice followed.

One convert was made.

Was it worth while?

LIBRARY COURTESY.

A patron of the public library, writing to THE TRIBUNE, expresses the hope that one of the consequences of the change in the librarianship may be the securing of more courteous treatment from those in charge of the circulation department in the central building. The communication mentions attendants who are so much engrossed in conversation that they perform their duties in a mechanical way, giving information to inquirers in a sharp and surly manner, and being entirely lacking in that graciousness which encourages further use of the books paid for out of the public funds.

This type of complaint is one of long standing. It has been heard again and again. The correspondent settled the matter individually by doing what many others have done. The plan of visiting the central library was abandoned, branches being used instead. But that is not the right way to have the difficulty adjusted. There has been manifest lack of courtesy shown at the desk in the public library. This may have been due to mere officialism that likes to display itself, or it may have been because of the lack of attendants of the right temper for that important place. The position is one which demands unfailing courtesy, ability to control impatience, and a kindly interest in the applicant for information.

A great many people have turned away from the library with discontent because of the attitude of attendants supposed to be public servants. The new librarian should make inquiry and personal observations to ascertain whether courtesy to patrons is shown by those whose duty it is to deal directly with the reading public. The complaint is not of yesterday or the day before. It has not come from the sharp and surly kind of patron. There must be some reason for the feeling on the part of so many citizens.

PATRIOTISM PAYS.

Mr. Harry G. Selfridge has not restricted his beneficent London activities to the opening of a great store run after the Chicago fashion. That is a boon indeed to Britishers, but Mr. Selfridge has done more than that. He has lessened the fear of a German invasion by getting up a volunteer regiment. He prefers peace but he intends to be ready for war.

Mr. Selfridge may have thought that the patriotic emotions which filled his heart could not take a more pleasing tangible form than that of a regiment of men equally ready to sell goods for him and die for their country. But it is no disparagement of those emotions to suggest that perhaps he thought his warlike attitude would be followed by increased returns—more customers. Probably it has been.

This dual activity bears out the lesson which THE TRIBUNE has been preaching for a few weeks, that public service may contribute to private gain. The sentiments which actuated Mr. Selfridge in London and have redounded to his financial advantage there, if manifested with equal vigor in Chicago would give its business men fatter purses in a fairer city.

DISMISS THEM.

The householder who lives under the cloud of a smoking chimney is as much annoyed and injured when the chimney is part of a public school building or a municipal lighting plant as when it is part of a factory. He has more reason to complain of the municipal than of the private nuisance, for it is the duty of the city to set citizens a good example by obeying its own ordinances. When city employés violate the smoke ordinances with impunity, while private offenders are prosecuted, the latter are inclined to say it is a case of the pot calling the kettle black.

If too much smoke comes from the chimney of a municipal lighting plant the man who is responsible should be taken before the civil service commission and discharged. His successor would be more careful. If the chimney of a public school smokes, the school board should order the dismissal of the offending employé. A little vigorous disciplining would end the smoke nuisance as far as public buildings are concerned.

CORRECT THE BLUNDER.

If the city council have any regard for the safety of the patrons of nickel theaters it will restore at once to the fire department the authority and the obligation for the inspection of these places of amusement by correcting the ordinances. Chief Horan and his firemen were enforcing the law. Prevention is the policy of the department, and it is particularly efficient in inspection of this character.

The electrical inspectors and the building department probably would undertake the work as thoroughly as possible, but they cannot hope to be as successful as men who are trained to prevent fires as well as fight them. If it be necessary that the electrical bureau inspect the apparatus used in the theaters, that can be done without taking from the fire department the authority to compel obedience of the ordinances.

One thing and another is taking the supervision of theaters out of the hands of the men best qualified to exercise it, and if the city council be wise it will stop a tendency which cannot be watched without concern.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1909: By the Brentwood company, all rights reserved.]

AMONG the many arguments put forward in favor of the appointment of Field Marshal Lord Kitchener to the office of viceroy of India in succession to Lord Minto are his imposing stature and rather stately aloofness. Nothing weighs so much with the natives, irrespective of rank, as a presence impressive in its size and dignified in its bearing and manner. One of the secrets of Lord Curzon's success lay therein, as also in the pomp and ceremony with which he surrounded himself. True, he was ridiculed at home, as well as in this country, for affecting as viceroy an even greater amount of majesty than the sovereign whom he represented. But it vastly enhanced his prestige and his power of usefulness with the natives of India and was warmly approved of by all those possessed of any knowledge of life in England's great oriental empire. Viceroys of diminutive stature, such as, for instance, Lord Elgin, always have suffered on that account; and while the late Lord Ripon may have been liked, he was not respected to the same degree by the native princes and people as was Lord Curzon.

Of no one, however, do the people in India retain a more profound impression than of the late Earl Mayo. He was a man of the most imposing physique, of stately carriage and manner, and although most charming and completely devoid of hauteur at home, inaugurated a policy of extraordinary exclusiveness in India. He would allow no native servants to wait upon him, and at table always was attended by twenty-four gigantic English footmen, gorgeous in powder and livery. He would not even permit the attendance of the native bodyguard, whom he replaced by a troop of British cavalry, resplendent in shiny helmets.

On first arriving in India he shut himself up for three weeks in his study, with books relating to matters of etiquette, precedence, guns, etc., and did not appear in public until he had mastered these all-important details. The consequence of this attention to what at first sight may appear to be insignificant details was that he was worshiped by the natives almost as a demi-god, and possessed an amount of authority and of prestige which none of his successors, with the possible exception of Lord Curzon, ever has attained.

Lord Minto is much too cordial in his dealings with the natives and does not sufficiently realize the fact that he cannot treat Asiatics, and especially the people of India, in the same democratic way that won for him so many warm friends in Canada when governor general of the Dominion. Thus not long ago, when at Simla watching the polo game, he caught sight of a petty prince among the spectators in another portion of the field, and crossed the latter in order to greet him instead of summoning him to his side by one of his aids de camp. Moreover, he approached him with a sweeping bow of his hat.

The petty prince was quick to grasp the opportunity, and instead of responding in kind, contented himself with a curt nod to India's ruler, thereby enhancing his own reputation and prestige among the natives present, while that of the viceroy suffered in proportion. By the end of the week the story was all over India, and has not tended to make matters any easier for the English government among the 300,000,000 of orientals by which the empire is peopled.

If the matter were put to the vote of Englishmen acquainted with India there would be a unanimous verdict to the effect that no man of less than six feet in height and of corresponding physique should ever be appointed as viceroy of India. Lord Minto, though a singularly gallant officer and an able administrator, does not fulfill these requirements, which should be considered carefully in the choice of his successor.

Of all the members of the household of Emperor Nicholas there has been none until recently who stood higher in his favor than Maj. Gen. Prince Constantine Obolenski, one of the friends of his boyhood, with whom he has always been on such terms of intimacy as to address him with the familiar pronoun of "thou." Gen. Obolenski's sudden dismissal from the office of principal private secretary, or rather of chief of his private chancellerie, therefore has caused a sensation not only at court but also in official circles throughout the empire. For he was regarded by all as destined to succeed Gen. Baron Fredericha as minister of the imperial household and as grand master not only of the court but of the administration of the crown estates, enterprises, and fortune.

About two years ago Constantine Obolenski recommended the czar to reform the management of his Siberian gold works. Nicholas complied with this advice and was gratified to find at the end of the year that his revenues from the mines had almost doubled. Some weeks ago, however, one of the former employés of the crown mining department, who had been dismissed in connection with Obolenski's reorganization, made a report to the emperor showing that in spite of the increased receipts the crown had been robbed within the preceding twelve months by the reform administration to the tune of $20,400,000. The emperor's confidence seems to have been shaken by this report, and without giving the prince any chance of defending himself, or taking into consideration the tainted source of the charges against him, summarily dismissed him within the space of twenty-four hours.

Obligatory service in the army and navy for all citizens alike, such as exists in many of the countries of Europe, is attended by many disadvantages; among them that of dealing with recruits who have to their record criminal convictions. In France each year the new recruits enrolled in the army include more than 10,000 ex-convicts. It never has been intended that the perpetration of a crime should serve to emancipate a man from the performance of his military service, and so even these men with criminal records duly are enrolled. According to the letter of the law they should be drafted into the so-called disciplinary or penal corps in Algeria and in the colonies. But this has been found impracticable, and the question now remains as to what is to be done with them.

For citizens who intrust their sons to the nation for service in the army do not relish the idea of their being relegated to the companionship of jailbirds, while the danger of such men betraying military secrets in connection with ordnance, rifles, ammunition, and movement of troops is great. This question, in fact, is one of the problems which confront the French government and its war department, and to which parliament is about to be called upon to give serious consideration.

WHY DO WE ALWAYS WAIT?
(Retouched.)

I hold it truth with him who sweetly sings—
The weekly music of the London Sphere—
That deathless tomes the living present brings:
Great literature is with us year on year.
Books of the mighty dead, whom men revere,
Remind me I can make MY books sublime.
But prithee, bay my brow while I am here:
Why do we always wait for Death and Time?

Shakspeare, great spirit, beat his mighty wings,
As I beat mine, for the occasion near.
He knew, as I, the worth of present things:
Great literature is with us year on year.
Methinks I meet across the gulf his clear
And tranquil eye; his calm reflections chime
With mine: "Why do we at the present fleer?
Why do we always wait for Death and Time?"

The reading world with acclamation rings
For my last book. It led the list at Weir,
Altoona, Rahway, Painted Post, Hot Springs:
Great literature is with us year on year.
The Bookman gives me a vociferous cheer.
Howells approves! I can no higher climb.
Bring then the laurel; crown my bright career.
Why do we always wait for Death and Time?

Critics, who pastward, ever pastward peer,
Great literature is with us year on year.
Trumpet my fame while I am in my prime.
Why do we always wait for Death and Time?

ONE LESSON FROM LEVEE PARADE.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Some observations of a woman who walked in the Gipsy Smith procession Monday night:

We, who marched, expected to see the faces of drink sodden, depraved women; we expected to see the brazen, the reckless, fallen sisterhood out in far greater numbers than they were.

What we were not prepared to see was the thousand or more young men in that short block at Twentieth and Dearborn streets, bearing on their faces the unmistakable marks of hopeless degeneracy. Whether the result is entirely due to their own habits or whether they are the victims of a pitiful heritage from drunken and dissolute parents does not alter the fact that no Gipsy Smith or any other agency for their uplift can accomplish anything of lasting value in reforming them. There is no mind to impress. "Unstable as water," they are actually dehumanized and should be dealt with by the state. The excellent Indiana law in reference to this type of men should be adopted in this state without delay, if we would save the next generation from an ever increasing burden which we already find it difficult to bear.

There were also in the crowds of apparent supporters of the levee thousands of young men who looked normal and who undoubtedly in time will, of their own accord, give up these depraving associations. It is among these that Gipsy Smith and his assistants may accomplish a great work of reform. H.

ANOTHER COMPLAINT FOR NEW LIBRARIAN.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I am glad to see the letter in your paper from "Reader" regarding the circulating department of the public library. I used to reside at Fiftieth street and Washington avenue and was then able to use the "Blackstone" branch.

After moving farther north I found it more convenient to change my books when downtown. Lately I have felt it would be worth the extra carfares to use the Blackstone library again.

I hope something may be said to the individuals in question, who waited upon me again this morning. Unless I find a change in their conduct I shall certainly cease going. A TRIBUNE SUBSCRIBER.

LATE COMERS IN THEATERS.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Another source of annoyance may be mentioned at the time reforms are in order. It is the seating of the audience during the performance at the theaters.

Saturday evening last I was annoyed, to say the least. It was not limited to one part of the house, but was everywhere. Why is it that in other cities, even small ones, the late comers are made to wait until the curtain is lowered before being seated, ushers guarding each aisle. The loud voiced comments, while pleasing to the one voicing his thoughts, are also to be deplored. May we hope that the Chicago managers will investigate this matter and do as is done elsewhere. SUFFERER.

RAYMOND ON THE CURRENCY.

Highland Park, Ill., Oct. 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—THE TRIBUNE is simply grand in every respect. Raymond's articles are doing more than anything I know to interest and instruct us on the currency question, of which most of us are densely ignorant. The articles are so simple that a 15 year old boy is reading them and understanding them. I don't see how anyone who follows them closely can say that Raymond advocates a central bank or anything else as yet. He seems only to wish to give us information that is absolutely impartial—and it is welcome to some of us. But more than all THE TRIBUNE is to be congratulated on those editorials, "Where Are the Leaders?" They are the best things of the kind I ever read. The editorials are all fine lately. N. BREEN.

WIDEN THE RIVER.

Clyde, Ill., Oct. 16.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In reading Mr. J. C. O'Laughlin's summary of improvements needed in the betterment of the future Chicago I see he forgot to put the waterway in the list. All business concerns would gain if we had our river widened to 200 feet and deepened. I remember when a boy we had the river filled with all kinds of craft, so at times there was no room to tie to the wharf. At present large vessels cannot get in our river at all without getting stuck, and one experience is enough of that. Let us keep agitating till we accomplish something. We can begin to pay for it, whatever the cost, and let our children and grandchildren pay the remainder. WILLIAM H. CHILVERS.

ALFONSO NOT TO BLAME.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It is true that, according to the Spanish constitution of 1876, the monarch is the supreme executive. But Alfonso is, if not a weakling exactly, yet a youth of weak character, and the way he fled to San Sebastian during the Barcelona uprising, so as to be near the French frontier, shows that he is physically timid. The ministers, however, are the opposite. And although by the constitution they are responsible to the king for all their acts, yet, ever since they came into power, January, 1907, they have practically ruled the country to suit themselves, and King Alfonso has been a mere figurehead in the administration.

Don Antonio Maura, the prime minister, a man endowed with tremendous energy, determination, and courage, but utterly lacking in the finer qualities of mind and heart which go to make up the truly great statesman, has sought to fashion the people of Spain into a war machine for conquest in Africa regardless of cost. He is the idol of the military party.

Fernando de la Cierva, the minister of the interior, is also a man of tremendous energy, but Machiavellian in diplomacy.

What chance could a weak and timid boy king have of making his will respected by such men as these, no matter how absolute were his nominal powers according to the constitution? AXEL GUSTAFSON.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

WHO ARE THE LEADERS?
[The Illinois Staats Zeitung.]

On the 13th of this month THE TRIBUNE asked the question, "Who are the leaders?" It was kind enough to answer its question by printing the names of 125 more or less known Chicagoans.

The greater part of these men belong to the chosen representatives of great corporations whose close connection with politics and THE TRIBUNE has often appeared suspicious. We find, indeed, the names of men who have gotten extremely valuable franchises from the council and have paid very little for them—at least to the city. Are these the leaders to whom the welfare of the city can fearlessly and with a clear conscience be intrusted?

We find, solitary and alone as a Democratic political leader, the name of Roger C. Sullivan. Why were left unmentioned Charles H. Wacker, Ald. Dever, John E. Traeger, Oscar F. Mayer, Charles F. Gunther, and other Democrats? They are held in the highest estimation not only by their party allies but in the ranks of their political opponents. Why is State's Attorney Wayman not in the list of Republican leaders? Has not this fearless, distinguished man already done more for the moral purification of the city and its officials than all the other leaders recommended by THE TRIBUNE put together? And Mr. Wayman has only begun his work of purification. Has it, perhaps, been laid up against Mr. Wayman that he was recommended and supported, against the will of the machine of his own party and of all the reform powers, by the United Societies for Local Self-Government, and was triumphantly elected?

Our esteemed contemporary should reflect that the time has gone by in which the English press and the politicians of the community could say: "Here are your candidates whom you have to elect!" The liberal citizens of Chicago have given brilliant proof that they can make their selection without the kind assistance of the English newspapers and the machine politicians, by defeating Healy, who had used violent measures against them, and electing Wayman.

An equally prudent and wise choice will be made by the liberal citizens who have enlisted under the banner of the United Societies at the coming mayoralty election. Our esteemed contemporaries can depend on it that our next mayor will not be the pet of professional reformers and world betterers, but that he will be a man in whom all citizens who are proud of their constitutional rights and freedom can have unlimited confidence—a man who will not help to bind with chains the young giantess Chicago, but who will do all in his power to enable her to unfurl her wings, mighty like an eagle, so that she may move onward courageously towards the sun, freedom, and general welfare.

Monday.—Yes, the China sea does heave some. Our dozen or so of Filipino passengers, who were so gay at the first meal, vanished from sight on leaving the bay of Manila as effectually as if they had been thrown overboard, only to appear today as we neared Hongkong.

When I gazed abroad this morning a new sensation was in store for me. It was the same old turbulent China sea, but its sapphire waters were alive with Chinese fishing junks. I counted fifty-six of them without moving from one spot. They are seemingly small affairs, with a sail like the crest of a New Guinea crown pigeon. The captain says they are warned of approaching typhoons by their nets becoming slimy; then they bustle for the shore, eighty miles or so away.

At noon we can see the distant dim dark shore line of the Lema islands, to the south of Hongkong, and everywhere the brownish yellow fan shaped sails of the junks; and still a sapphire sea with crests of pure white diamond flakes.

From New York to Manila I have rarely been out of sight of a Chinaman. Now I am to see him on his own dunghill.

First View of Hongkong.

By 2 o'clock we are in the midst of a sea of islands, all rising nearly straight up out of the water and reaching an elevation of 2,000 or more feet, and all are treeless, forbidding, barren, rocky, or at best covered with grass, and in many places the naked rock showing through. We draw near the fifteen mile long, high, irregular, rocky island of Hongkong, and as we approach it from the south and west end we can see near its summit great brownish houses of squarish shape scattered, apparently, without regularity.

These houses are the outposts of the city of Victoria, as it is called, to distinguish it from the island, Hongkong. Roads appearing like lines, zigzag back and forth across the island. Nearer, in the ravines, light timber is seen. Though the island of Hongkong is said to be well fortified, no evidence of the twenty-seven masked batteries can be discovered.

The day is perfect, and as we near port our seasick Filipinos put in an appearance, one by one, and below the Chinese passengers now blossom out in blue and gray and black and white silks. As we draw near the lower end of the island, the houses on top assume shape and look like a bit of old England. We now approach a little islet crowned with a lighthouse, and soon come in full sight of a forest of masts and funnels, and smoke, and long rows of four to six story dingy houses of the city proper, which begins at the water front and extends up the side of the hill for a half a mile or so. As seen from here the city is certainly neither beautiful nor imposing.

Big Vessels Fill Harbor.

We are in Hongkong bay, seemingly landlocked on every side, a broad, irregular stretch of water, lined with hills, islands, and the mainland, which appears equally hilly and barren and broken, like a bit of southern Colorado. Everywhere are big ships and little ships, steamers and sailing ships, big white river steamers, not unlike Hudson river steamers, and strange, crazy Chinese craft of every description; but nowhere in sight is the flag of the stars and stripes, but an abundance of English, Japanese, German, French, and Chinese flags.

Even yet there is nothing to suggest China. The city in front of us might be a part of Gibraltar, with its long, straight walls of grayish, dirty red brick buildings. Still there is something imposing in the scene, especially in the towering wall of rock which rises up behind the city and the reddish yellow barren walls on the opposite shore of the bay. I was slightly disappointed in the number of ships in the harbor. It seemed to me that there were not many more than I had just left behind in Manila, and the impression of life and activity is certainly not nearly so great as in the harbor of New York City, nor would the bay, in my estimation, compare in beauty with that of San Francisco.

The little Rubi finally came to anchor well up toward the upper end of the city. We are at once boarded by the physician of the port and surrounded by hotel launches and many sampans. The sampans are long and narrow and carry a sail. Five of them pressed around our bow and by means of long bamboo poles, with a hook at the end, a lot of Chinese made their way up the sides of our ship, like veritable monkeys, and dived down below into our steerage for their victims; for they represent Chinese boarding houses ashore.

All Races Are Confused.

As illustrating the confusion of races which prevails here, it may interest you to know that I took a Filipino for a man from Japan, and a Chinese woman for a Filipino. Most interesting of all sights in this great bay are the strange craft of the Chinese, and in nearly every boat betroused women may be seen steering and paddling; many British warships are in sight.

I took the fine, trim launch of the Hongkong hotel and landed at the long embankment of massive stone which seems to extend along the entire water front of the city. Rickshaws and sedan chairs are numerous. With a rickshaw, and in a few minutes, through well made streets, lined with big, solidly built buildings, I arrive at the hotel This hotel is the apotheosis of all that I found in the Manila hotels. It is big, strong, generous, solid. The rooms are big, with generous beds. The dining room tonight was well filled with guests, gathered from every corner of the earth, amongst whom I recognized a fellow passenger of the Tonkin. We are served by clean, smart looking Chinese, clad in long, blue robes, which reach to their ankles. Great white punkahs are thick in the dining room, and as they wave to and fro lead one to believe that he is dining in a big laundry, with the sheets hanging out to dry overhead.

Soon after landing I made my way to Cook's, where I obtained the information which I desired, together with my mail, in the usual prompt, accurate, obliging, and disinterested manner which is characteristic of this great lubricator of travel.

City Filled with Strenuous Life.

At 9 o'clock, in my rickshaw, I passed well down through the city, a mile or more, through a sort of glorified Chinatown. By that I mean such a Chinatown as we had in San Francisco years ago, but incomparably greater and higher and more imposing. But all the earnestness which I used to see in San Francisco seems here intensified. At 10 o'clock I have left Hongkong behind me, and in a big two thousand ton ship am now bound up the Pearl river for Canton. The view of the city as we left it behind, with its myriad of lights, which extend aloft to the top of the mountain, was picturesque. The boat is surprisingly good, and the fact that there is both a day and a night service maintained by more than one line has given me a new idea of the commerce and trade of Canton.

Tuesday.—Canton lacks only a little of being the biggest, dirtiest, most interesting, most beautiful, and weirdest city on earth. I like it. For the first time in my life I feel that I have been in a real live beehive. I have not been stung yet.

When I went on deck this morning nothing could be seen above the dead, level, low, and flat country, with low houses, and low ships and boats, and low trees. We were in the midst of a seemingly poorly defined river, which apparently possessed many arms and channels, and everywhere were Chinese boats, by the hundreds and thousands—possibly millions! They seemed to extend on and on in every direction, lining the banks many deep, and scarcely any two are alike; and they are all gayly painted. I think if one were to see them in the night they would be conducive to nightmare. We passed some small gunboats of foreign powers, here to protect their interests.

First Impressions of Canton.

We come to anchor, off the island of Shameen, where we turn ourselves over to the men from the Victoria hotel and set out for the shore in the hotel sampan. Everywhere we look we see boats, and back of the boats, on both sides of the river, is a low flat town, up out of which rises here and there a slender stately pagoda or a lofty squarish brick structure, looking like a miniature grain elevator. Just in front of us lies Shameen, a little, long narrow island built in the river years ago as a place of dwelling exclusively for the foreign settlement.

We land at big, substantial stone steps and walk about four blocks through as beautiful a little city as I have seen for a long time. The streets of the island are regular and broad and lined with stately shade trees, among which are many stately banyans, in which birds, apparently, live without fear. The houses represent many styles of architecture, but are all big and imposing, indicative of wealth. The hotel is on the city side of the island, from which it is separated by a narrow canal, with stone lined walls.

After a hurried breakfast I yield myself to an English speaking Chinese guide and climb into a big, easy, and comfortable chair, which is carried by three athletic looking coolies. With my guide in another chair leading the way, we do the city, or at any rate so much of it as is possible to be done in a single day. To tell you all that I have seen today would take not only my hours of sleep tonight but all day tomorrow.

IN THE SOCIETY WORLD.

One guest at the opening of the new galleries in the Art institute yesterday almost became a part of the exhibition. She was the 3 months old daughter of a former pupil of the institute, Mrs. Anita Willits Burnham, and, crushed tightly in the crowd, although held in her mother's arms, the young woman crowed her delight—or her protest—of the whole affair. There were many small children at the reception—a most unusual sight at these affairs—but none quite so young or so observing as little Miss Burnham.

Fresh paint, too, shared the attention of the afternoon with the small guest, the pictures, the new rooms, and such an outpouring of fashionably gowned women as the Art institute has not seen in many a year.

"I've been attending these affairs for more years than I'd care to tell," said one "old timer," "but never have I encountered such a mob as this."

The fresh paint worried the institute attendants—who knew that the radiators and the walls had received a fresh coat but recently—more than the beautifully costumed women who trailed their satins about ignorant, and therefore blissful, of the presence of paint other than on the pictures on the walls. But everything was as spick and span for the opening as if the smoke contest was not being fought within sight of the cleanness.

Almost every room had its attractively appointed table where the various groups of women were alternating in serving sandwiches and cups of coffee or tea.

Instead of following the old time plan of arriving in one great crowd along about 4 o'clock, the guests began coming with the opening of the reception doors and continued until late in the receiving hours. Upstairs a crowd gathered, too, to listen to a portion of the Thomas orchestra—the music being the first to greet the guests.

Of the women who were taking active part in the afternoon's entertainment there were Mrs. William Frederick Grower, wearing an empire gown of pale blue satin braided in pale blue and with large hat to match; Mrs. J. C. Shaffer in delicately colored broadcloth with flower toque; Mrs. Charles T. Boal in pale blue satin embroidered in silk of the same shade; Mrs. Henry L. Frank in a silk gown of white with small black flowers in design and lace for trimming; Mrs. Henry A. Blair in pale gray chiffon with large hat of the same shade and material; and others seen in the crowd were Mrs. Arthur T. Aldis in walking suit of checked black and white skirt, black coat, and small black hat; Mrs. Alexander Stevenson in violet satin, embroidered in the same shade and a close fitting hat of flowers of various lilac and violet shades; Mrs. Hayden B. Harris in a street suit of dark blue; Mrs. Charles H. Conover in smoked gray broadcloth; Mrs. Eugene S. Talbot in amethyst satin embroidered in the some tones; Mrs. David S. Wegg, Mrs. N. H. Blatchford, Mrs. J. Ellsworth Gross, Mrs. Robert B. Peattie, Mrs. W. J. Calhoun, Mrs. W. G. Nelson, Mrs. Burton Hanson, Mrs. Anna L. Stacey, Ralph Clarkson, and Adam Emory Albright.

Yesterday was a red letter day in the life of Oliver J. Fuller. In the morning he wakened to find himself 80 years of age; during the afternoon he was the center of a most interesting office celebration in honor of the event, and in the evening he gave away in marriage a favorite niece, Miss Caroline Lydia Giddings, who had chosen the date for her marriage to Loriys Elton Rogers of New York, that a double celebration might fall upon the day.

The wedding of Miss Giddings and Mr. Rogers took place at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Fuller, 1001 Dearborn avenue, the Rev. Frank Gunsaulus officiating. Only the families and closest friends were witnesses of the ceremony, but a large reception followed at which there were double congratulations.

Mrs. Charles Giddings, the bride's sister-in-law, was her only attendant, the men of the party being Mark Sands, the best man, and Reslio Fuller and Roswell Fuller, cousins of the bride, who stretched the ribbons. An eastern wedding trip will be taken, after which Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will go to New York, to live on Riverside drive. The bride's gown was of white crêpe meteor trimmed in rose point lace and her veil was fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Mrs. Giddings wore pink messaline and carried pink roses.

The wedding of Miss Sally Ainslee, daughter of Mrs. Samuel Rutherford Ainslee, 425 Maple avenue, Oak Park, and Thurston Harris, son of Mrs. Mary J. Harris of the same village, took place last evening in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives, at the residence of the bride's mother, the Rev. R. F. Johonnot, pastor of Unity church, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Story, whose daughter, Miss Belle Story, tonight becomes the bride of Edgar Washburn of Hinsdale, entertained the bridal party, and relatives at dinner last night at their residence in Riverside. Mr. and Mrs. Story have as their guests until after the wedding Mrs. Ellen Hallock, Mrs. K. W. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Cranate of Bay City, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Starr of Kenilworth will give a dinner tonight for Miss Winifred Starr and Fletcher Dobyns, who will be married tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Alexander Stuart, 5638 Prairie avenue, will have as her guest for the next month Miss Inez Phillips of Galesburg, Ill. Several entertainments will be given in her honor while here.

Mrs. R. T. Crane Jr. will not return to Chicago from Massachusetts before the first of next month, although Mr. Crane already has come on to the city. Mr. and Mrs. Crane recently purchased the Castle Hill farm at Ipswich, after having spent the last two summers in that locality. Last year they had the Alexander Cochrane place at Pride's Crossing, and for the year just closed they have been at Beverly Farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Whitehouse, former Chicagoans, are other "Farms," colony folk who have just closed their place, Crowhurst, and are now in camp in the Maine woods. They will go abroad for the winter, as has been their custom for some years.

Mrs. J. Ellsworth Gross, last year's regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, is now able to be about after having been ill for some weeks. Mrs. Gross underwent an operation during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kay, who have lived at 425 La Salle avenue for some years, have taken apartments at the Brewster. Mr. and Mrs. Kay have just returned after having been away from the city all during the summer, Mr. Kay having gone to England to visit relatives and attend to matters of business and Mrs. Kay having spent the heated term with relatives in Bermuda.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tyson will return to Chicago from the east about the 9th or 10th of next month.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Edis of Austin have returned from Europe, where they spent the summer visiting relatives in various parts of England.

Mrs. Mary Turner Salter of Boston presented an evening of song at the River Forest Woman's club last night, at which only her own compositions were used. Miss Marguerite Whitney, a niece of Mrs. Salter, was the assisting soloist. A reception was given Mrs. Salter and Miss Whitney following the recital. While in River Forest they have been the guests of Mrs. W. H. Winslow of Auvergne Lodge.

GARDENS FOR POOR LESSON TO WOMEN

Educational Farms Cause Respect for Agriculturists' Ability.

PROJECT IS BIG SUCCESS.

Mrs. Laura Dainty Pelham Tells of Profits Brought by Touch of Soil.

When Mrs. Laura Dainty Pelham and others last summer undertook to help the unfortunate poor of Chicago to till the land loaned them for farming purposes by the McCormick Harvester company, they entirely overlooked one circumstance. They failed to take into consideration the fact that farming is an exact science. The consequences are that mistakes resulted, some of which were related yesterday by Mrs. Pelham before the Co-educational club.

"To us land was land," she said, "and when the McCormicks made their offer, we said 'How lovely,' and began spreading word among the poor that they could come out on a new farm and begin planting. The practical farmer who was going to lay out the land informed us, however, that the ground was good only for sea gulls in its present condition and that it would have to be drained. 'Drain it,' we replied. He told us the cost would be $400. Just a plain, old fashioned drain would not do.

Tiles Prove First Expense.

"It had to be made of tiles, so we let it be known that we needed some of these. Finally we had them donated, but not until after we had bought all we needed. We were unable to wait indefinitely for a gift, because the beets and radishes couldn't wait."

When the land was put into first class farming condition, the farmers from the congested districts discovered that ground which is good for beans is not necessarily friendly in the same degree to potatoes, and the fact spread abroad that not every kind of vegetable, fruit, and farm product could be raised on one uninspired piece of ground.

In spite of all which facts, however, the project, according to Mrs. Pelham, was such a distinct success that next summer they are going to extend their operations over nineteen additional acres at West Sixteenth street and Fortieth avenue.

Gardens Show Big Profits.

"The cost of the gardens, irrespective of tilling," said Mrs. Pelham, "was $6.20 each, and the profit on each was $25."

There is one boy who makes a little money at the Northwestern university settlement and who is most anxious to get an education. He took a farm, and the settlement bought his products, with the result that he now is in circumstances which permit him to buy schoolbooks and pursue his education.

There is also the mother of a boy who has to work in a store all day. On Sundays his mother brought him out to help in the garden, but whenever he reached the fresh air and touched the soft, spongy earth, he fell asleep. All of his leisure he spent out there asleep, and at the end of the summer had gained ten pounds.

There was also a family composed of a blind father, a little girl with a tubercular knee, and a boy. The father could see just enough to direct the work, and through the summer they could be seen there any day, the little girl seated on a piece of tile and the boy working under the direction of the father.

Methodist Pastors Hear Bishop.

More than sixty Methodist ministers, pastors of churches in the three Chicago districts, met yesterday in the Grace Methodist church at a devotional service addressed by the resident Chicago bishop, W. F. McDowell.

TEACHER SUPPORTS MRS. YOUNG IN HER CRITICISM OF SCHOOLS.

James E. Armstrong, Principal at Englewood, Says Vocational and Academic Studies Should Be Combined.

The opinion of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of Chicago schools, that the system of maintaining separate high schools for the teaching of professional and technical courses is undemocratic met with the support of James E. Armstrong, principal of the Englewood High school, yesterday.

"Mrs. Young is right in her criticism," said Principal Armstrong. "It is wrong from an educational standpoint to separate boys who are studying for the technical trades from boys who will go into the professions. Each school should provide both kinds of education and the pupils should mingle socially without regard to the studies they are taking. I hope a change can be made in the Chicago system."

Hugh Duffy Says He Will Manage White Sox. Athletics Beat Cubs.

DUFFY WHITE SOX MANAGER FOR 1910

Providence Leader Confirms Rumor He Has Closed with Comiskey.

WILL ACT FROM BENCH.

Deal Follows Conference in This City on Monday at "Old Roman's" Request.

Hugh Duffy will be the next manager of the White Sox. This was learned late last night during the progress of a long distance telephone conversation with the former major league player, relayed through Detroit to Chicago.

Duffy is at present at Mount Clemens, Mich., resting. He left Chicago for that place yesterday morning. He was unwilling to say anything about the matter until he was told that the report already had been circulated around this city.

"Yes, Comiskey and I closed the deal on Monday," he said. "I am not willing to name the salary at which I will sign, but it is enough to make me give up the management of the Providence club."

"Do you intend to play ball with the Sox?" Duffy was asked.

"No, I will act only as bench manager."

Settles Mooted Point.

The appointment of Duffy settles a question that has bothered the heads of Sox fans since the middle of the season, when it was learned that Billy Sullivan would be unwilling to serve another season. Since the close of the campaign President Comiskey has been busy trying to land a man capable of handling his team. He had considered Duffy among the possibilities, but did not think it would be possible to wean him away from Providence. Hughey was informed at Detroit that Commy would like to confer with him and he came on here at once, as soon as the world's series was at an end.

Evidently it didn't take the pair long to agree on terms, for Duffy wasn't here long enough to engage in any argument. If experience counts for anything, he should make a first class leader of the south side club. He was field boss of the Boston club for years and was considered one of the smartest ball players in the business while there. He also played with the old White Stockings under Anson and at Philadelphia.

Begins Work at Once.

Duffy will spend the winter looking up new material for the Sox. He has the advantage of knowing the strong and weak points of eastern league athletes at least, for he has watched them in their daily battles. One of the men depended on to strengthen the Chicago team next season, Shortstop Blackburn, hails from the Providence team, which Duffy managed and in which he is said to own stock. Hughey thinks well of this youngster and says he knows where more like him can be secured. President Comiskey certainly will not be backward about spending the money for the players Duffy recommends.

The new Sox leader should have the confidence of his men, for they all know his reputation as a player of high rank, both mechanically and mentally. He will have a much easier task than would some one secured from the "bushes" or even some athlete now wearing the Chicago uniform advanced from the ranks to manage his own former "equals."

Duffy's statement that the deal has been consummated will put an end to the story that Fielder Jones would be asked to return or that Capt. Anson was being considered as a possible successor to Billy Sullivan.

Plans for Next Year.

"The only one of my new players that I know much about is Blackburn," said Mr. Duffy last night. "I know that Billy Sullivan has signed up a lot of youngsters, but how good they are remains to be seen. Messenger and Cole, who played a part of the season with the Sox, looked good, I believe, though I didn't see them myself.

"There is a lot of splendid material on the Chicago club, and I hope next year to have the team up at the top and fighting from start to finish."

LITTLE WORK BY THREE EYES.

Magnates Postpone Election of Sexton's Successor — Decatur Franchise Is Sold.

Officers and club owners of the Three Eyes league met at the Grand Pacific hotel yesterday, argued a lot, and did little. Even with the numerous arguments the session was more peaceful than is usual in this organization.

At the opening of the meeting President Mike Sexton handed in his resignation, stating he had purchased a clothing store in his home town, Rock Island, and would have no time to worry about the pastime. The resignation was accepted and a motion to elect his successor at once was turned down after a long debate. It was decided finally to postpone the election until after the National association's annual meeting, which is to be held at Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 9.

Several prominent baseball men were mentioned as possible successors to President Sexton. Among them were Tip O'Neill, president of the Western league; President Joseph D. O'Brien of the American association; and E. M. Holland, former head of the Three Eyes. Mr. Sexton advised the magnates to select a man from Chicago, one who was not directly interested in any of the cities of the circuit and one not connected with another league. He suggested I. E. Sanborn of "The Tribune" as the man for the place if the latter could be persuaded to take it.

The Decatur team and franchise were purchased by the Danville One Hundred Thousand club. The terms of this sale were arranged before the meeting opened and were not made public.

Cedar Rapids was dropped because it fell below the minimum attendance figure called for in the constitution. There were numerous bidders for the vacant place. A delegation from Cedar Rapids itself, composed of men not connected with the club before, made a bid. Waterloo and Jacksonville of the Central association also asked for the franchise. Waterloo was represented by thirty-five of its leading business men.

PITTSBURG BASEBALL DOINGS.

Hyatt Misses Train, May Miss His Wedding—Wilson Misses Coin, Miss Has It—Leach Buys Pigs.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Hamilton Hyatt, giant substitute outfielder of the world's champions, now is engaged in a hard race to the British Columbian coast in order to be at his own wedding. Hyatt missed his train for home last night and raised a fearful roar when he found the next train would not drop him at home, Victoria, B. C., on Monday until a long time after the hour set for his wedding. He finally left on a later train, vowing that if necessary he would burn all his $1,800 world's series velvet hiring a special train on the last stage of the journey in order to get there in time for his own wedding.

Chief Wilson, the big outfielder, came close to missing his Texas home this winter also. He dropped his pocketbook containing about $2,500, including his check for $1,800 bonus, his last month's salary, etc. There was some wild doings until the Texan found that a young lady in the Fort Pitt hotel had picked it up and insisted that he come to see her personally and get it. Wilson never chased a liner with more speed than he used getting to that hotel, and he got his money.

Tommy Leach announces that he will invest his world's series coin in pigs, and this brings out the fact that Leach already has a large pig farm just outside Pittsburg with 200 pigs on it. He says the life of a pig farmer will be his once he is done with baseball.

Scandal in Southern League.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Former Manager William A. Smith of Atlanta's pennant winning Southern league baseball team has been cited to appear before the directors at the annual meeting here Nov. 8 to sustain charges he is alleged to have made to the effect that the Atlanta baseball officials dismissed him because he would not "draw a fine finish on the pennant race the past season."

New Manager for the White Sox.

HUGH DUFFY.

NEAR-SOX DEFEAT INVADERS

All - Nationals Lose Opener of Barnstorming Trip, 4 to 3.

LOCALS BUNCH RUNS IN 4TH.

Belt Curves of Mr. Curtis of Boston to All Corners of the Lot.

Jakey Atz's aggregation of White Sox barnstormers handed Frank Bancroft and "Tip" O'Neil's All-National stars (two exceptions) their initial beating in a weird and crazy game at the White Sox park yesterday, 4 to 3. Fully 200 fans scattered throughout all parts of the stand, muffled in overcoats, furs, and other necessities to ward off the chilly blasts that swept across the diamond, witnessed the farcical struggle for nearly two hours.

When the All-Nationals appeared on the field it was found that two of their men were missing and in order to fill in the gaps Mark Purtell, brother of the Sox Purtell, and Hall of the Boston Americans were drafted. Both were off their mettle. The former fanned twice and allowed two Sox runs to cross the pan on a throw to the plate which missed its mark by twenty feet. Hall allowed another Sox run when he lost in the sun a high fly hit by Cole.

Sutor started for the barnstormers and pitched real midseason ball. During the five sessions that he worked he fanned seven of the opponents sluggers and allowed four hits. In only one inning, the fifth, was he in a dangerous hole. The first two men up hit singles and then he blew the next two. He passed another, filling the sacks. At this juncture Payne in trying to catch a runner napping threw over Piano Juggler Smith's head and one run resulted.

Sox Bunch Runs in Fourth.

The Sox were fortunate in scoring their runs, all of which came in a bunch, as well as most of the hits. Curtis started off like a whirlwind and for the first three rounds only nine Sox faced the Boston National hurler. The fourth proved his undoing, not entirely his fault, but in a great degree he was responsible for the loss of the game.

Eddie Hahn, the first man up in this frame, hit a sharp grounder to Lennox, who was not able to field it in time to Konetchy. Fiene fouled to Bliss. Cole banged a sky high one to right, which Hall lost in the sun. Hahn raced to third and Cole took second. Doc White, after fouling "umpteen" balls, caught one on the nose and sent it sailing to right field. Hahn and Cole galloped home, White going to second. Purtell banged one to Hummell, who caught White off the bag, and Purtell was safe on the initial bag. Smith whaled one to center, and Mark Purtell in attempting to get his brother at the plate put too much English on the ball, and as a result both basemen scored easily.

In the fifth, seventh, and ninth the Sox were dangerous, but were unable to score.

The All-Nationals started theid scoring machine in the fifth. Bliss hit to right for a single and Hall bingled a hot one to Smith, who could not recover in time to get either runner. M. Purtell and Curtis breezed. Snodgrass coaxed Sutor for a walk, and in an effort to catch Bliss off third Payne threw over Smith's head, allowing a run. Hummell followed with a walk, again filling the bags. Egan ended the round by taking three healthies.

Two Runs on Fiene.

The other two runs were scored in the seventh. Hall opened by hitting to the middle garden. He was advanced on Purtell's out from Smith to Owens and a moment later stole third when Fiene, who had relieved Sutor in the sixth, was winding his lengthy arms. He scored when Smith booted Snodgrass' liner. The latter counted when Fiene, in attempting to catch him off first, threw the ball to the flag pole, Snodgrass making three bases on the wild heave. The All-Stars went out in order in the next two rounds. Score:

NOTES OF THE SOX FINALE.

That's all for the Sox this year.

Van Syckle, a Southern league official, alternated with Fitzpatrick, and his work pleased the fans.

The games scheduled between Atz's barnstormers and Anson's Colts for Saturday and Sunday have been called off.

After finishing the fifth inning Doc White left the field, bidding his friends good-by and took an early train for his home in Washington, D. C.

Jakey Atz will leave tonight for New Orleans, where he will play in the winter league. Other Sox players will leave tomorrow, while a number will make their exits the latter part of the week.

This morning at 10 o'clock President Comiskey will hand to twenty-one eligible players their share of the city series money. Each player will receive a check from the national commission calling for $455.44.

Indian Myers, the Giants' catcher, Mike Mitchell, Cincinnati outfielder, and Larry Doyle, the New York National second sacker, joined the All-Nationals last night and left for Minneapolis, where the second game will be played.

REDSKIN TAMES OVERALL'S CUBS

Athletics, with Bender on the Slab, Blank City Champs; Score, 2 to 0.

INDIAN IS REAL ENIGMA.

Locals Held to Two Singles; Collins Stars for the Visitors with Three Hits.

BY R. W. LARDNER.

The Cubs lost the second place championship of the world yesterday to the Philadelphia Athletics, 2 to 0. Inasmuch as the winners were aided and abetted by one George McBride, who is not under contract to Mr. Shibe, the chances are that Manager Overall and Capt. Howard will protest against dropping the title, although they won't beef about the game itself.

The Cubs lost because Big Chief Bender wouldn't let them hit. On Monday they went up against a pitcher of another shade and the sudden change to red was too much for them. The Indian allowed them two singles, one of which was scratchy. The real hit was made by Ed Reulbach and if the chief hadn't taken it into his head to experiment a trifle it is safe to say Tinker's lucky infield safety would have been the only one on the Cub side.

Bender certainly was good. He used all the stuff with which he was wont to shut out the Tigers when those hard hitters were beating Plank, Krause, and the rest. He was fast and he had control, which is more than can be said about Reulbach. Nary a Cub got to second base and only two were within sliding distance of it.

Eddie Collins Is Hero.

Eddie Collins stood between the Chicago pitcher and a tie. He scored the first Philadelphia run by virtue of his speed and drove in the second one. Altogether he collected three hits, one of them a triple, and only one of his drives was wasted.

The day was cold, of course. Enough was taken in at the gate to pay for the balls and to buy sleeper tickets for the Athletics, who departed hence last evening. The lack of loud rooting didn't appear to have a disheartening effect on the athletes, however. Neither did the thought of how little each one would pull down after the split-up seem to bother the players. There wasn't an error on either side, and the fielding was just as brilliant as if it were a nice July day and something depended on the outcome.

Reulbach went along on nearly even terms with the Indian until the fourth inning. Collins opened this round with his drive over Schulte's head to the front wall of the bleachers. The ball didn't bound back the way Schlitz hoped it would and Collins took advantage of old Wildfire's surprise by chasing around to third. Baker lifted a tall fly over Zimmerman's head. Hofman said he had it and no one disputed the point with him, so Artie took it, but was going too fast to stop when he reached the ball. Collins waited until the catch was made and then speeded home ahead of Artie's loose throw.

Big Edward walked the first two men to face him in the fifth. They were McBride and Thomas. Bender made a couple of feeble efforts to bunt and then fouled out to Steinfeldt. Strunk hopped one over Reulbach's head and beat it out, filling the bases. Steinfeldt made a nice play of Oldring's bounder and tossed home, forcing McBride. This time Collins shot one off Reulbach's glove out of Tinker's reach, scoring Thomas. Moran threw out Baker.

Heitmuller Insane, What?

The Philadelphians could have had another run in the sixth if Heine Heitmuller hadn't gone crazy on the bases. With one out, he slapped a wholesome liner between Sheckard and Hofman. Artie's throw reached Tinker just as Heine arrived at third, but he kept coming and was nailed ten feet from the plate. McBride's double, which should have driven in the run, was wasted. In the eighth Collins produced his third hit. Baker gave him a hit and run sign on the first ball and Eddie went down, but Baker missed connections and Moran's throw caught the flying machine at second. After this Baker doubled to right and staid on second until the side was out. Reulbach fanned three in a row in the ninth.

Tinker's scratch single opened the Cub third. Moran popped out and Joe was doubled trying to steal on Reulbach's third strike. Bender tried an underhand curve on Reulbach with two out in the sixth, and Ed sent it to center on a line. Davis disposed of Zimmerman without assistance. Score:

NOTES OF THE CUBS.

Carl Lundgren of Marengo was among those present.

The All-Nationals and the Athletics, with their guide, Tip O'Neill, left for Minneapolis last night.

Sheckard's catch of Oldring's line drive near the foul line in the seventh inning was the fielding feature.

The Cubs are booked to play at Beloit today. Manager Overall himself is likely to do the pitching.

The proprietor of the lunch counter under the stand made a hit with the scribes by passing around hot coffee near the finish.

Pat Donahue of the Boston Americans is with the Athletics to assist Ira Thomas in the catching. The Philadelphia pitchers are Morgan, Bender and Plank.

Chance received in a lump, the players' share of the city series receipts from the National commission. The splitting will be done at a special meeting of the team in President Murphy's office tomorrow morning.

Manager Chance "called" an occupant of the stands for roasting the ball players. The P. L. asked the bug to go out and tell the athletes personally what he thought of them. The invitation was declined.

The Cubs will play the Rogers Parks at Rogers park Sunday afternoon. Manager Overall is at a loss to understand how the report came forth that the Gunthers would be the city champions' opponents. The engagement with Jimmy Ryan's club was a previous one and the Cubs never thought of cancelling it.

BUSY SEASON FOR A. A. U. FIVES.

Basketball Teams Well Represented at Preliminary Meeting — New League to Be Formed.

Representatives of basketball teams affiliated with the Central Amateur Athletic union met last night at the Illinois Athletic club and discussed the formation of a new basketball league for the winter. Although no definite action was taken in the direct formation of the organization, preliminary steps were made and at a meeting of the representatives next Tuesday night at the I. A. C. the organization will be well under way.

It was decided to take in teams in the immediate vicinity of Chicago within a radius of 100 miles. Twenty teams were represented, while a number of letters were read coming from athletic clubs desirous of joining. It is expected by Dr. G. B. Abbott, acting president of the league, that when the season opens between forty and fifty teams will be engaged in the championship struggle.

Among the clubs that were heard from last night were the First and Seventh Regiment A. C., which will have at least six teams in the field; the Central Turners and five other divisions; the Chicago Cardinals, last year one of the strongest teams in the Central Y. M. C. A. league; Hammond A. C.; Hull house of the social settlement organizations; Lincoln M. E., formerly a member of the Bible Class League of Cook County; I. A. C.; Irving Park A. C., with five teams; Sleipner A. C., Gaelic A. A., and Windsor Park A. C., representing college graduates.

It was planned to start the preliminary season in about two or three weeks, and from that time on until the first of the year informal games can be played, having no bearing on the championship. From the first of the year until the latter part of April the fight for the A. A. U. supremacy will take place. It also was agreed upon that the officers—president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer—and five members chosen from the organization shall form the board of directors, which will have complete charge of the running of the league.

NEGRO QUITS COAST TODAY

Jack Johnson Leaves San Francisco for Chicago.

COFFROTH TO JOIN IN TALK?

Promoter May Mix in Conference When Fighters Get Together.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—All reports to the contrary, Jack Johnson will leave for the east in the morn, whether to meet the big boilermaker in the east or to sign theatrical contracts is unknown. The big black will be accompanied by Jimmy Coffroth, who will continue his journey to New York, while the negro will stop off in Chicago.

This morning Johnson's manager said positively that he had not decided just when they would leave for the east, but that they certainly would not be the ones to make advances to Jeffries.

"I've got the big Barnum and Bailey circus," said Little, and there is no reason why we should be trailing Jeffries around the country. All the same, that is the fight Jack wants, and I guess we will give Jeff this last chance to talk business, as I can reach New York shortly after his arrival from Europe."

Even with the gas Little is exploding, it appears on the face of it that he will seek an interview with Jeffries, and make the tentative arrangements made with Berger in Chicago some time ago binding. It is thought Coffroth may also join the conference between the opposing forces.

Willus Britt now says Ketchel will not fight Papke. He suggests Papke and Langford can fight it out and Ketchel will stand ready to meet the winner.

A few days before the Johnson bout Britt declared that Ketchel was ready to abandon the middleweight title, and that he would not find it easy to make 158 pounds.

"Will Ketchel fight as a middleweight again, and does he still claim the title?" was asked of Britt.

"Yes, he still claims the title," was the response. "About this fighting, here is a suggestion. Let Papke fight Sam Langford, and then Ketchel will stand ready to meet the winner. For Langford Ketchel would make the weight, and for Papke he would do the same only on condition that Papke had won over Langford.

"I see Papke is claiming the title. That will not do him any good. He has been defeated by Ketchel on three occasions and that ought to be enough."

Britt also imparted the news he and Ketchel would remain in San Francisco for several days. Ketchel would like to fight on Thanksgiving day, but no opponent has appeared.

SAM LANGFORD AFTER KETCHEL

Negro Willing to Meet Wolverine Fighter for $5,000 Side Bet and Fair Division of Purse.

New York, Oct. 19.—Sam Langford, the negro pugilist, is out with another offer for a fight with Stanley Ketchel, and declares that he can stop the Michigan fighter in less time than it required Jack Johnson to do it. Ketchel and Langford were matched at catch weights and were ready to fight here when their bout was called off because of the activity of Gov. Hughes. Langford now wants to meet Ketchel for a $5,000 side bet and any fair division of the purse, at catchweights or at 158 pounds, the fight to be held at Colma, Cal., at any time agreeable to Ketchel.

WEIGHT STATEMENTS MISLEAD.

Johnson Scaled 205 and Ketchel 168 in Coast Fight Instead of 195 and 176, Is Report.

New York, Oct. 19.—Information from the coast is to the effect that misleading statements were purposely made as to Stanley Ketchel's weight when he fought Johnson on Saturday. Because of criticisms that it was manifestly unfair to pit the gigantic negro against so small an opponent, it is said that Ketchel's weight was given out at 176, when as a matter of fact he did not scale more than 168, and that Johnson weighed more than 205 pounds instead of 195.

J. PEARSON MAPS OUT COURSE.

Veteran Golfer Takes Charge of New Links at Lake Shore Country Club, Near Glencoe.

John Pearson, the veteran golfer, who was the first professional at the Homewood Country club, and who for a number of years has been with the Richmond County Country club of New York, returned to Chicago yesterday to take charge of the new course of the Lake Shore Country club, now in process of construction near Glencoe.

Enough work already has been done on the new links to make it reasonably certain that play will be possible in the spring. Pearson expects to accomplish a good deal more before the snow flies. Secretary W. W. Markwell and Pearson made a tour of inspection of the course yesterday.

It was something of a coincidence that Pearson and Alec Smith, the Metropolitan open champion, should reach the city about the same time. They were the principals in the first professional match played at the Homewood club in 1899 and both have been in the east for a number of years. Smith was formerly professional at the Washington Park club. He is now on his way to San Francisco to take part in the big Portola golf tournament, in which a number of the leading professionals of the country will take part.

Alec and Dave Jolly have been reengaged by the Ridgemoor club for next season. Jack Jolly, the Arlington professional, will remove to Chicago shortly, having purchased an interest in a golf business here.

In the Monroe league the Monroes whitewashed the national champion Lipmans. Other features of the night were Levin's average of 221 2-3 in the Lord Lister league, Prater's 223 1-3 in the Colonna, and a 217 2-3 series by Al Biedenweg in the Zimmerman league. Scores:

"DOWN YOST MEN," MARQUETTE CRY

Rooters Believe Milwaukee Eleven Has a Chance to Beat Wolverines.

TEAM IS BADLY CRIPPLED.

Coach Juneau Also Handicapped by Lack of Good Quarter in Saturday's Game.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Realizing it has a golden opportunity to gain recognition in the football world, Marquette university eleven is working with great spirit for its battle with Michigan here on Saturday. If determination and fight prove to be important factors in deciding the issue, Marquette is likely to emerge from the struggle with the large end of the score.

As this is Michigan's first appearance in this city, great preparations are being made for what the people and students term "a banner attraction." The town is football mad and in every hotel corridor and public meeting place the main topic of conversation is the outsome of Saturday's game.

The students here realize that Michigan alumni will flock to Milwaukee on Saturday from all points at all close and they know the reputation which the Wolverines have for cheering. In order not to be outdone on their own field in cheering, team yell practice will be held every night this week to learn new songs and cheers which will be fitting and appropriate for the occasion. On Friday night a monster massmeeting will be held in which the leading officials of the city will speak besides those directly connected with the athletic department at the college. Enthusiasm is running high and by Saturday it will reach a point which will surprise the natives of this city, who never have heard the rooting at a real football game.

"Down the men of Yost," is the slogan here, and every one seems to be imbued with this spirit. On the field today everybody talked about Michigan. They seem to think that if Michigan is whipped, Marquette will rule supreme in the football world. They well know that Marquette has nothing to lose and everything to gain in this battle. With Michigan, it is just the other way. If the Wolverines are defeated they will lose football prestige which will be mighty hard to regain.

The result of Saturday's game, especially from a financial standpoint, will be the determining power in telling whether athletics will continue to thrive at this institution. Like a good many Jesuit colleges, this institution believes that successful athletics brings attention of the public to the college. It is with this aim in view that football has taken on such importance this year.

Coach Juneau Is Confident.

Coach Juneau witnessed the Michigan-Ohio State game at Ann Arbor last Saturday, and asserts his eleven has a might good chance to make a creditable showing. He bases his claims on the facts that Michigan's back field is slow, and that the Marquette line is every bit as strong as the Wolverine forwards. He said a lot more about Michigan which he did not want published, but the substance of which was, he thought he had a great chance to make a football name for Marquette.

However, it is hard to determine where Marquette has a chance to beat Michigan, if the Wolverines play up to the form of which they are capable. The game may be close, but Michigan should come out of the battle with flying colors. One thing is certain, Yost's men will have to fight hard for every score they make.

Juneau is handicapped by two things in preparing for Saturday's game. He has not a first class quarter back, and some of his star players are injured so badly that they could not take part in today's practice. Others, who did work, showed signs of bad ankles or knees, by limping continually.

Michigan with its bruising offense and "get 'em" spirit is apt to put some of these men out early in the struggle. If such a thing happens it will be easy sailing for the Wolverines, as Juneau has only a few good substitutes.

Captain Manning, center, is just recovering from water on the knee, and, although he claims he will play Saturday, he will be in no condition to last through the battle. He did little work today from which an idea of his playing could be discerned.

He seems to be a big, powerful man, with a look of determination in his eyes, which is one of the earmarks of a good player. In case Manning is forced to retire Westerhagen will take his place. This man is of the tall, rangy type, with inclinations to play too high on the defense. On the offense he passes the ball well on all formations and opens up center holes in fair style.

Housley and McCusker are a pair of dandy looking guards who should be able to hold their own against their opponents on Saturday. Both work well with the center and play hard and aggressive football all the time.

Hanley, left tackle, although far from well, has an ideal build for a tackle. He is short and stocky, but knows football, as was evidenced by his work today. He varied his charges in such a manner that he blocked nearly all the plays sent at him without gain. On the offense he is a power in running with the ball.

Elsen Outplayed by "Sub."

Elsen, the other tackle, did not show up so well. If anything he was outplayed by Thackery, a second team man, who broke through him several times and nailed the runner for losses.

The return of Meyer, last year's star end, has added strength to the team. Meyer is a grand kicker and his abilities in this line will be an important factor in Saturday's game. He is a fast, shifty player with plenty of experience. Foley, the other end, was not in the scrimmage today, but he is touted as a great player.

Munsell and Cullen, the regular half backs, were not in the scrimmage owing to injuries. The former was out in a suit and his actions were enough to convince one that he has the goods. He is short and heavy, but fast.

McGarty, full back, did well today, but in general he hit the line pretty high and was unable to keep his feet. He is a strong defensive player. Ragner and Schaller, the quarter backs, are slow and poor generals. There was nothing to choose between them today, but their work on the whole was only fair.

Capwell, Schroeder, Waldron, Metcalf, Kirkham, and Curtin are players who should be heard from before the season ends.

YOST MAKES WHOLESALE SHIFT

Inability to Tackle Effectively Cause of Action Where Changes in Wolverines Are Made.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Inability to tackle effectively resulted in a wholesale shift in the varsity lineup tonight, Coach Yost promoting several "scrubs" to the first team while the erstwhile regulars watched the practice from the side lines. The most significant shift was the placing of Miller at left end, and judging from his showing in tonight's workout he will be kept there for the remainder of the season. He has been unable to play until a few days ago, but Yost shoved him into the scrimmage and his work stood out prominently above that of other candidates for end. Whether he will replace Rogers or Borleske still is a question, as neither has shown as well in actual games as Yost would like.

Benbrook was moved from guard to tackle, a tribute which Yost paid the Morgan Park boy's incredible improvement over last year's form. Clark and Daniels, recently acquired from the second team, were at guards, while Magidsohn relieved Capt. Allerdice at right half. Pattengill directed the work of the team at quarter back.

In tomorrow's weekly game with the reserves Yost will let the varsity uncork all the plays being prepared for Marquette while the lineup used in the tussle will indicate pretty accurately the makeup of the team which Yost will send against Michigan's opponents on Saturday.

MOLL BACK IN THE GAME TODAY.

Student Committee Passed Regulation to Stop Hazing and Quarter Will Be Reinstated.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The student conference committee tonight passed regulations prohibiting hazing and President Van Hise announced he would reinstate Quarter back Moll tomorrow morning.

In a scrimmage which lasted an hour and a half the freshmen downed the Wisconsin varsity by a score of 15 to 10. The varsity playing in whirlwind style put the ball over for two touchdowns in the early part of the practice.

After that Coach Barry worked the team mainly on the defense. The freshmen had a full repertoire of Indiana plays and worked them successfully against the first team, the varsity being especially weak in the line.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS

BY HEK.

SERIOUSLY SPEAKING.

It must be tough when one has won three pennants in one's own league to be jacked up for losing the final horse in the saw-off for the world's title. If the story be true—and experience teaches to go slowly and whistle at the crossings when reports like this are on the way—Mr. Navin in his present frame of mind is ready to make different arrangements with or without Hughey Jennings for next season. Now that would be the act of an appreciative employer, and a capital sportsman, would it not—with the NOT played open?

Of course, it is more exasperating to have something almost within one's grasp and then to have it snatched than to be beaten for it away off. That may be Mr. Navin's mental fix, but it is possible that he is bracing himself for a raid on his fat surplus, which is bound to come before the next training season sets in.

Detroit has been running under high pressure for several years. It is bound to crack—some time. Perhaps Mr. Navin thinks the crack will come next year. He had to cough hard to keep his team together this year and he will have to cough harder to hold it together for next. Detroit is a winning team town pure and simple. It is a desolate waste unless the team is up there and fighting.

To put it differently, Detroit fans are fair weather fans.

[Note—We dashed off the above just to elicit a rebuke from a Detroit paper. As a matter of fact, we don't know a thing about the Detroit situation and are not supposed to.]

We are inclined to suspect that when they figure Pittsburg crowds at random they throw in a couple of dead heat signs at the end. Fifty thousand— count 'em——.

As is said of all newly made heroes: "The wonderful performance of 'Babe' Adams in the world's series and the honors showered on him have not turned his head a bit. He is the same modest young chap." Still, there is plenty of time for the swelling to develop.

NOT LIKELY.

Dear Hek: If Col. Luke Lea is elected governor of Tennessee does it luke to you that he will luke leniently upon the reopening of the racetracks at Memphis and Nashville? ELLSMERE.

Well, well! If this isn't a challenge from Tommy Burns in far off Australia to renew hostilities with Jack Johnson! We are sorry to inform him that we can't spare Johnson just at present, but we can give him Mike Shreck if that will appease his appetite.

Sam Berger talks plainly and fairly but not convincingly. In other words, he does not appear to be any better posted than the rest of us

Those colored troops are a dangerous crowd to pester with on the ball field. It may turn out that the pale faced city champions will have to swing all the high cards to catch their jack. And if they don't, Lordy, Lordy!

John Evers ducked a big reception at the station when he arrived in Troy to hold a little one at home.

[N. B.—Don't muff that one.]

What Imp was to Chillicothe, Penisa Maid is to Rock Rapids. When "The Maid" reached that village [beg pardon] the prominent citizens shook dice to decide who would have the privilege of carrying her harness in the parade.

MAROONS LINE UP AGAINST 1905 STARS ON MIDWAY FIELD

Substitutes Will See What They Can Do with Old Timers, Who Will Use Straight Football.

Maroon regulars are awaiting with eagerness the tilt on Marshall field this afternoon when they will hook up with eleven huskies, nine of whom played on the famous 1905 team, which beat everything in the west.

The idea at first met with some opposition from Coach Stagg, who even now is not enthusiastic over it. He has, however, consented to allow the game.

Director Stagg probably will give his substitutes a chance to see what they can do to the former champs, chiefly because the men who played against Illinois have not rounded into their best shape. For that reason scrimmage was not held yesterday, the time being taken up with the perfection of the latest tricks and the handing out of a few more.

Many alumni will appear at the game today, and the student body will be out to cheer on the exponents of the forward pass and onside kick, two tricks unknown back in the ancient days before reforms shook the gridiron work.

The contest will be curious to watch. According to Steffen, who, in the absence of Eckersall, will run the aggregation as quarter back, nothing but straight football will be brought into use. The 1905 bunch are certain their bulky guards and tackles will bowl this year's forwards over and open huge holes through which Capt. Walker and Boone will score touchdowns.

Gale at center, Meigs and Badenoch at guards, Hill and Russell at tackles, Hewitt and Schommer at ends, Steffen at quarter, Parry and Walker at halves, and Boone at full will make up the famous aggregation. From tackle to tackle the team is intact.

Sidney Beaser of Lincoln High school, Cleveland, was elected captain of the freshmen team yesterday. Beaser has starred at half back in all the games between the freshmen and varsity this season. He is a track man of note, his events being the pole vault, broad jump, and shotput.

PURPLE SCORES ON FRESHMEN.

Evanston Eleven in Hour's Scrimmage Makes Three Touchdowns on Second Team.

After an hour spent at signal practice last evening the Purple football eleven at Northwestern university lined up against the freshman eleven and scored three touchdowns.

On account of the long period intervening between the Purdue and Wisconsin games the team is being put through stiff practice in order to develop the form that will be necessary for the Wisconsin game Oct. 30. Following the scrimmage the team was given a session at tackling the dummy and at the close of the practice the coaches were well pleased with the work.

Thompson, full back, who sprained his knee in the Purdue game, appears on the field daily, but has not been able to get into the practice. Pierson and Hintz are busy trying for the position.

LAUDS PILGRIM SOCCER TEAM.

Secretary Evans of the Hyde Park Blues Loud in His Praise of the English Eleven.

Secretary Jack Evans of the Hyde Park Blues, who has been with the Pilgrim soccer team of England since it arrived in this country, returned to the city yesterday from St. Louis. He is loud in his praises of the prowess of the British players and considers them a far stronger combination than the first team that came over, and also superior to the famous Corinthians, who were here three years ago.

Evans does not figure that the Hyde Park Blues, who will meet the Pilgrims at Anson's park on Saturday, have much chance to turn the trick on the visitors, but hopes the home players will make a better showing than the St. Louis eleven did last Sunday. The Hyde Park Blues' team for the first match was announced last night as follows: Williams, goal; Burton and Scott, fullbacks; Parker, right half; Malcolm, center half; Morris or Rogers, left half; McKay and Mair, left wing; Dixon or Swarbreck, center; Marley and Evans, right wing. One of the Pilgrim players will referee.

The All-Chicago team which will meet the Pilgrims on Sunday afternoon will be announced tomorrow, all of the acceptances not having been received yet. The Pilgrims will play today at Gillespie, Ill., going back to St. Louis after the match. They are due to arrive in Chicago at 9:30 o'clock on Friday night and will stay at the Illinois Athletic club.

Crosby May Be Cornell End.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—In a snappy scrimmage tonight the Cornell varsity scored one touchdown on the scrubs, playing real football and showing a smoothness and speed of attack which has been lacking so far this year. Owen ran the team smoothly and there was little fumbling, although at the start ragged tackling allowed Baker to pull off several good quarter back runs. Crosby played right end on the varsity for the first time since the season began and it looks as if he is the man for the job. The coaches worked Leventry at scrub end and made it plain that the university men are to be given the preference for positions, the experience of the Fordham game proving the need for them. Sutton, the husky craw man, is also booked for an end. Pop Wilder, '06, a former center, joined the coaches.

CROWN POINT OFF AUTOMOBILE MAP

Wrecking Crew Is Tearing Down Huge Grand Stand Erected This Year.

CLUB LAPSES ON OPTION.

Differences Regarding Terms Said to Be Cause; May Run Event in Wisconsin.

Crown Point's grandstand for automobile races, erected at the time of the Cobe and Indiana trophy events, with a seating capacity of 10,000, is now in the hands of a wrecking crew. Although lacking official confirmation from the Chicago Automobile club, which faced a deficit of some $30,000 in promoting the races, the Crown Point-Lowell course is now believed to be off the map so far as big automobile races are concerned.

The grandstand in question, which never was called upon to test its capacity, was built by the D. A. Root company of Crown Point at a certain contract price, the company to retain the salvage unless the club exercised an option to have the stand remain for another year. Apparently the club was not anxious to exercise its option for, after a proposition and a counter proposition, neither of which came within the strict terms of the option, the contracting company was told to exercise its privilege of salvage, which it is now doing. Report which could not be confirmed last night stated the lumber, which will fill eighteen freight cars, had been sold to the Indianapolis Speedway company.

Want Similar Auto Race.

Immediately after the Cobe event, which proved disappointing from the viewpoint of attendance—both in regard to those who bought seats at $5 for the two days and those occupying less expensive standing room from thrifty farmers along the route—President Cobe of the Automobile club was quoted as saying the race would be revived in 1910 no matter what the deficit. No action has been taken as yet, although a majority of the club directors are said to favor a similar race.

An official of the club who refused to comment officially on the tearing down of the grand stand, said last night: "While the wrecking of the stand does not necessarily mean the Crown Point-Lowell course is abandoned, it certainly looks that way. The location of the stand came in for criticism, but that is not surprising, as the race was disappointing in many ways. The failure to sell seats in the stand was not so much of a disappointment as the comparatively small attendance, 30,000 or 40,000, where 100,000 had been expected.

May Select Wisconsin Course.

"If the race is held next year, which has not been decided yet, it is likely some other course in Indiana will be selected, or else a course in Wisconsin, which is not improbable, as the laws of Illinois are not favorable to such contests."

Harvard Adds to Cripples.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Two of the Harvard varsity football team regulars are now on the list of injured. Corbett twisted his ankle badly in today's scrimmage and P. D. Smith's shoulder is troubling him. The varsity and second teams had a 20 minute scrimmage, in which the varsity scored three times. The scores were made for the most part on line plunging. Minot, full back, did especially well, tearing the second's center for good gains. Minot has a tendency to play high, thus losing his feet in the midst of rush, but he strikes the line hard and can be depended upon for average gains. The tendency throughout the scrimmage today was to stick to good old fashioned football.

Lane Freshmen, 0; De Paul Seconds, 0

The Lane high school freshman football team played a tie game with the De Paul second eleven at De Paul field yesterday afternoon, neither side being able to score.

APARTMENT HOUSE SOLD FOR $100,000

Southeast Corner of Magnolia and Lawrence Avenues Changes Hands.

TAKES TITLE TO ESTATE.

Bidder for George M. Ewing III. Formally Closes Recent $265,000 Sale.

The large apartment house and ground at the southeast corner of Magnolia and Lawrence avenues has been sold by Elliott W. Darling to George Gillette for $100,000 subject to an incumbrance of $41,000.

The building is known as the Sterling. It is three stories high and fronts 145 feet on Magnolia and 115.83 feet on Lawrence avenue and contains twenty-four apartments. It is one of the most attractive structures in the Sheridan Park district.

Harold A. Howard, who bid in at judicial sale at the Chicago real estate board auction rooms recently, in behalf of George M. Ewing, third, Charlotte E. Wells and Minnesota E. Tytus, the owners of an undivided two-thirds interest in the property, a large part of the Ewing holdings for an aggregate of $265,000, has now taken title as trustee to the following in their behalf:

The Ewing block, at the northeast corner of North Clark and North Water street, fronting 138 feet on the former and having a depth of 80 feet, improved with a three story brick store and office building.

The vacant land at the southwest corner of North Clark and Chestnut streets, 100x150 feet.

The four story brick and stone building and land at the southwest corner of West Madison and Peoria streets, 100x125 feet, formerly occupied by Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co. with their west side retail store. The grantor was Jesse Holladay and others.

Railway Takes Right of Way Title.

Julius Bender, who purchased at the same sale 50x125 feet on the west side of Green street, fifty feet south of Madison, has taken title to the property, George W. Ewing and others being the grantors.

Title to a large part of its right-of-way has been taken by the Desplaines Valley Railway company, nineteen deeds, involving an aggregate of $67,493 having been filed for record yesterday. Several pieces were taken in the name of Marvin Hughitt, who is not only the president of the Chicago & Northwestern railway but is also president of the Desplaines Valley company.

The Desplaines is a new line which the Chicago & Northwestern is building from Glencoe, in the southwesterly direction to Elmhurst, where it will connect with its large yards, intercepting and connecting with the various divisions of the Chicago & Northwestern railway and will be used for the transfer and exchange of freight, and also for storage purposes to avert the necessity of bringing it into the city.

The Desplaines Valley railroad recently purchased about 150 acres of land near Elmhurst, which it will use for yards in connection with this project.

Apartment Buildings Sold.

The three story apartment house and ground at 628 and 630 La Salle avenue, having a frontage of 55 feet and a depth of 115 feet, has been sold by Frederick Frelinghuysen, president of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company of Newark, N. J., to Isaac Ettelson for $17,000.

The four story building and land at the northeast corner of Shields avenue and Thirty-third street, 97x125 feet, and the building and land at the northwest corner of Shields avenue and Thirty-third street, 147x125 feet, have been purchased by William T. Clarkson from Thayer & Co. for $29,615.

This property was formerly occupied by Thayer & Co., perfumers. The present purchaser, William T. Clarkson, is a member of the corporation known as the Clarkson Glue company, and the property just purchased will be used by that company in connection with its business.

The loan market presents an unusually interesting aspect, several large loans of considerable interest having just been closed. The New England Mutual Life Insurance company has made a loan to the estate of Phillip Henrici of $100,000 on the property at 108 and 110 Randolph street, 40x180 feet, for five years with interest at 4½ per cent.

Loan Market Is Active.

Mrs. Julia I. Porter has given William H. Henkle, trustee, a trust deed to the property at the northwest corner of Lake and Franklin streets, 40x140 feet, which she purchased the other day for $125,000, to secure a loan of $80,000 payable May 1, 1918, with interest at 4 per cent.

The New York Life Insurance company has made a loan to Patrick Nacey of $30,000 for five years on the property at 501 and 503 State street, with interest at 5 per cent.

The Cook County Savings bank has purchased from Julius A. Wendell the property at the northeast corner of Ogden avenue and Van Buren street, 75x50x50 feet, improved with a three story store and flat building, for $30,000, and will occupy the first story with its bank.

Mrs. Florence A. Beck has purchased from George H. Cox of Bloomington, Ill., and Thomas J. Burns the apartment house and ground 40x150 feet on the west side of Monroe avenue, 110 feet north of Fifty-fifth street, at $27,000, subject to an incumbrance of $10,000.

Brewery Company Rents Building.

Scattering lots in subdivisions are now in good demand. Henry E. Coonley has purchased from Leander Stephens ninety-six lots, of which forty-eight are at the southwest corner of Augusta street and North Fortieth avenue, and forty-eight at the southwest corner of Augusta street and North Fortieth court, the consideration not being given out, but the property is incumbered for $7,500.

Charles Holenbach has purchased from William Leighton thirty-nine lots at the southeast corner of South Forty-fifth avenue and Lexington street, the consideration being withheld.

George L. Walker has purchased from Louis Labowitch the store and flat property, 50x150 feet, on the west side of North Clark street, fifty feet southeast of School street, subject to an incumbrance of $11,000, the consideration not being made public.

G. Heilemann Brewing company of La Crosse has rented from Michael Curran the two story building, 25x125 feet, on the north side of Sixty-third street, 132 feet west of Cottage Grove avenue for ten years from Oct. 9, at a rental for the term of $27,000, or $2,700 a year, to be occupied for a saloon, music hall, restaurant, and theater.

SHIPPERS PROTEST RAISES IN RATES

Pamphlet Giving Cause of Increase, Is Attacked as Biased and Unfair.

LIST OF FIGURES GIVEN.

Meeting Exposes Huge Profits Which Roads Now Are Said to Be Making.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 19.—That any proposed general advance in freight rates will disturb existing business conditions, and that such an advance is not justified and will be vigorously contested by the leading shippers' organizations of the country was the tenor of resolutions adopted today at a meeting of representatives of shippers and other commercial organizations.

The day was devoted to a discussion of the freight situation, and it was determined to at once inaugurate a strong movement in opposition to the contemplated advance in rates, a committee being created whose duty it shall be to propagate a campaign of education of the public on freight rates and to have all the powers of the general conference in dealing with that subject.

Attack Pamphlet of Roads.

The resolutions attack the pamphlet which was issued by the Trunk Line association, which gave alleged causes for an enforced raise in freight rates, saying it was biased and misleading. The resolutions say the pamphlet omitted the following facts:

"Whereas, The true purpose of said pamphlet is to prepare the public for a contemplated advance in freight rates.

"The net income per mile of road of the railroads in the United States for 1907 exceeded that for 1897 by $1,534—an increase of 345 per cent.

"The net income per mile of road in group 1 (New England) for 1907 exceeded by $740 that for 1897—an increase of 41 per cent.

"The net income per mile of road in group 2 (trunk line territory) for 1907 exceeded that for 1897 by $2,525—an increase of 170 per cent.

"The net income per mile of road of the roads in group 3 (C. F. A. territory) for 1907 exceeded that for 1897 by $1,605—an increase of 521 per cent.

"The surplus from operations of roads in group 3 for 1907 was $258 per mile greater than the net income of the roads in said group for 1897.

Roads' Incomes Gain Heavily.

"The net income of all the railroads in the United States for 1907 was $449,461,188, an excess for 1907 over 1897 of $368,203,682, an increase of 453 per cent.

"The surplus from operations of all the railroads in the United States for 1907 exceeded the net income for 1897 bu $60,065,785.

"The amount of stock paying dividends increased from $1,603,549,978 in 1897 to $4,948,-756,203 in 1907, an increase of $3,345,206,225.

"The rate of dividend on stock increased from 5.43 per cent in 1897 to 6.23 per cent in 1907, an increase of 14.7 per cent.

"The revenue per train mile, all trains, of the railroads in the United States for 1897 was $1.382.

"The average cost of running a train one mile, all trains, for the same year was 92.9 cents.

"Profit, 45.3 cents per mile.

"The revenue per train mile, all trains, of the railroads in the United States for 1907 was $2.177.

"The average cost of running a train one mile, all trains, for the same year was $1.47; profit, 70.7 cents per mile. For 1907 the profit per train a mile, all trains, exceeded the profit for 1897 by 25.4 cents per mile, an increase of 56 per cent."

Will Seek to Educate Public.

The resolutions continue:

"Therefore, be it resolved by shippers from all sections of the United States, in conference assembled;

"That, as said pamphlet does not set forth all the technical facts and is biased and misleading, said document is not a proper one for educating the public and does not fairly set forth the full information to which the public is entitled;

"That the facts do not justify any general advance in freight rates, but, on the contrary, call for a reduction thereof;

"That an executive committee be created and it is hereby instructed to prepare a full and complete answer to said pamphlet or other similar pamphlets, and to circulate the same for the education of the public as to the true [freight rate] situation, and for the further purpose of correcting any erroneous impression that may have resulted from said pamphlet or other pamphlets of a similar nature;

"That as any proposed general advance in freight rates will disturb existing business conditions same is hereby opposed and will be resisted by all legitimate means."

Western Sheriff Here After Suspect.

Sheriff Robert T. Hodge of King county, embracing Seattle, Wash., arrived in Chicago yesterday with requisition papers for the return of Edwin T. Beveridge, alias E. A. Wilson, alias L. S. Martin, who is wanted in Seattle for forgery. Beveridge was arrested here several days ago on the advice of the Seattle authorities. He is alleged to have forged a check for $170 on the Puget Sound National bank.

HISTORIC FETE AT YORKTOWN

Virginia People Observe Celebration of Their Freedom.

GREAT BATTLE RECALLED.

Defeat of Cornwallis Occurred There 128 Years Ago.

Yorktown, Va., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The one hundred and twenty-eighth anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis was celebrated here today on the spot where the surrender occurred and put an end to the revolutionary war. The exercises are being held under the auspices of the Descendants of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence and the Yorktown Historical Society of the United States.

Every automobile within a radius of thirty miles today was pressed into service to bring the patriots to the celebration, and excursion steamers from Norfolk, Newport News, and Old Point Comfort took care of the overflow. Many of the schools in the vicinity gave a holiday.

Historic Spots Are Marked.

The exercises opened with the marking of fifteen historic spots by a special committee from the Yorktown Historical society. The places marked included the old Nelson house, the custom house, which was the first in the United States; the old Grace Episcopal church, the third of that denomination to be erected in the country, the grave of Nelson, the office of Thomas Nelson, the Yorktown Inn, the British fortifications, and the redoubts captured by the American and French forces on the night of Oct. 14, 1781.

Many Children in Parade.

The principal event of the morning was a parade of the school children of York and surrounding counties. Marching to the monument erected on the occasion of the centennial they strew flowers on the graves of the soldiers who fell at Yorktown and on that of Thomas Nelson Jr. The parade then moved to the grandstand at the Nelson house, where the exercises of the day were concluded.

Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, president of the Atlantic Deep Waterways association, delivered the principal address. He described the history and growth of America since its freedom from Great Britain.

TEN YEARS OF SCALP ERUPTION

Tiny Pinhead Pimples Filled and Hurt Tremendously—Tried Everything in Vain—His Daughter's Scalp was Crusted—Both Found

SIMPLY SURPRISING CURE IN CUTICURA

"It is a great pleasure for me and I consider it a duty to inform you what Cuticura has done for me. About twelve years ago, I contracted an eruption of the scalp consisting of small pimples, about the size of a pinhead, which filled after a few days with pus and which hurt tremendously. I tried everything, but in vain. Finally, I washed my head with sulphur and applied a carbolic ointment. After a few days the pimples disappeared, only to come back again in a week. This I suffered for ten years and then I saw an advertisement in the paper of the wonderful cures by Cuticura. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Pills and after three weeks I had used only half the Soap and Ointment and my head was as clean as ever before. After the first application it was simply surprising how it improved.

"My daughter used Cuticura Soap and Ointment for scales on the scalp and after having used them three times her head was clear and the hair became as soft and fine as silk. Since then she uses nothing but Cuticura Soap for shampooing.

"In consequence of my having used Cuticura Soap for shampooing, I noticed that my hands which almost always were cracked from handling undressed wood, lime and stone, became white and velvety. Formerly I used glycerine, but one night's treatment with Cuticura Soap and Ointment does more for my hands than a week's treatment with glycerine. I hope all suffering people will at least try the Cuticura Remedies. Herman Becker, Fifield, Wis., November 9, 1908."

Millions of women throughout the world use Cuticura Soap and Ointment for eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations, inflammations, chafings, pimples, blackheads, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, sanative, antiseptic cleansing, and for the toilet, bath and nursery.

Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 135 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass. Cuticura Booklet, mailed free, tells all you need to know about the cause and treatment of Diseases of the Skin, Scalp and Hair.

MILLING DEMAND LESS ACTIVE

Wheat Works Lower as Result of Letup in the Cash Inquiry.

WORLD'S STOCKS INCREASE.

Corn Is Heavy and Lower, While December Oats Decline Sharply.

Shifting of sentiment to the bear side was the big feature in wheat yesterday and many of the recent bulls were ranged on the other side of the market. Selling was general and weakly held long lines were forced out every ⅛c down, while the bears did not miss any opportunities to depress values. Final prices showed net losses for the day of 1⅜c on the December, 1⅛@1¼c for the May, and ⅝c for the July. Buying was scattered and limited chiefly to buying on resting orders by commission houses and profit taking shorts. Barrell, Bartlett-Patten, Lowitz, and Colvin were among the leading sellers. Rankin and Skillen bought early.

Bull Incentives Are Lacking.

The chief bullish incentive has disappeared for the present at least, the urgent cash demand which has been the main influence in advancing prices being conspicuous by its absence. All the cash men reported a much less urgent demand, and reports from other markets told of increased receipts and a slack inquiry. It appears that millers, who were caught without sufficient supplies last year, are not taking any chances this season, but have laid in liberal stocks. Receipts at primary points are much larger than a year ago, and for the day were 2,479,000 bu, against 1,351,000 bu a year ago. Receipts here were 80 cars, with 29 cars inspected yesterday. Minneapolis wheat stocks increased 70,000 bu for three days.

Big Russian Crops Confirmed.

The routine news of the day was bearish. A preliminary estimate of the Russian wheat crop made the crop in sixty districts 560,000,000 bu, or 140,000,000 bu more than a year ago, while the rye crop exceeded that of 1908 by 104,000,000 bu. This had considerable effect on the trade and accentuated bearish sentiment. An increase in world's available stocks of 10,781,000 bu was also bearish, comparing with an absence of 7,564,000 bu a year ago. European stocks have increased much faster than expected, and supplies at European points and afloat are now 77,685,000 bu against 69,700,000 bu a year ago. Total world's stocks are placed at 126,635,000 bu, compared to 136,300,000 bu a year ago.

Flour Demand Less Urgent.

The flour trade is not brisk, but most of the mills still are booked ahead for several months. Rains in Kansas City and the Ohio valley will prove beneficial to the growing wheat, which is making fine progress. Hungarian reports said heavy purchases of wheat are being made and that supplies are still comparatively light. Argentine reports say the weather is favorable and that there is free selling of new wheat for forward delivery. Clearances of wheat and flour for the day were 155,00 bu. Duluth reported export bids for Manitobas 8c out of line. Shipping sales here were 25,000 bu, with 24,000 bu taken for export at the seaboard.

Corn Advance Is Lost.

Corn lost practically all of its gains of the previous day, closing ⅝@⅞c lower. Fine weather conditions over the greater part of the belt, with a slow cash demand and the heavy tone in wheat, were the main factors. Bartlett-Patten were again aggressive on the selling side and shorts appeared to be less importunate. Country offerings were not large, but shipping sales were small. The cash market was firm, relatively, closing steady to ¼c higher, with sales of 100,000 bu. Liverpool closed ⅛@¼d up. The world's available supply gained 491,000 bu for the week. Primary receipts were 351,000 bu, or 20,000 bu more than a year ago. Receipts here were 254 cars, with 167 cars inspected yesterday. Husking returns were received in a number of instances showing favorable yields.

Armour Big Seller of Oats.

Selling of 500,000 bu December oats by Armour was the chief feature in oats. In spite of the weakness in other grains, the market showed a comparatively firm tone. December closed ⅜@½c off, but declines in the other months were only ⅛@¼c. Country offerings are moderate, but receipts were a little larger at 319 cars, with 171 cars inspected yesterday. The shipping demand was fair, with sales of 155,000 bu. Nye-Jenks picked up quite a few May on the dip, and commission houses were fair buyers of the same delivery. Primary arrivals were 765,000 bu, against 838,000 bu a year ago. Cash prices were ¼@½c lower.

Quiet Trade in Hog Products.

Trade in provisions was quiet. Shorts in October lard covered freely early, firming up the whole list. A. S. White led the selling. Receipts at the yards were a little larger than expected at 15,000 tcs, with 24,000 tcs promised for today. The market was easy. Western points had 64,600 tcs, against 79,600 tcs a year ago. The cash lard trade is fairly active, but the demand for product from the south is moderate. Packers appear to be still in favor of lower hog prices. Liverpool was unchanged for meats, but ⅜d higher for lard. Receipts of product at Chicago were 40 cars, with shipments of 182 cars.

Easier Market for Rye.

Rye was easier. Offerings were larger and buyers were holding off. December closed nominally at 72c. No. 2 was quoted 73½@75c, No. 3, 66@73c; and No. 4, 55@65c. Shipping sales were 5,000 bu. Receipts were estimated at 6 cars.

Barley held firm. Malting was quoted 54@65c; mixing, 51@53c; and screenings, 38@52c. Receipts were estimated at 62 cars.

Flaxseed was 5½c higher. No. 1 northwestern closed at $1.67½ and No. 1 southwestern, $1.57½. Receipts, none.

Timothy seed was easy. October was offered at $3.90 and March, $4.20.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON CHANGE.

Broomhall's cabled crop summary read: "United kingdom—The weather continues unfavorable for plowing and clearing of fields where harvesting was late. France—The new seedings are making fair progress. Offerings are normal. Germany—The weather is favorable for field work. Supplies of native wheat are light. Some think that the wheat crop is a short one, if allowance is made for the poor quality. Hungary—The condition of the new seedings is excellent. There is heavy purchasing of foreign wheat, including Russian wheat. Bulgaria, Servia, and Turkey—The outlook for the seedings is favorable. Italy—The new seedings have made a good start under favorable weather conditions. Supplies of native wheat are light. Spain—The weather continues favorable. Offerings of native wheat are insufficient to supply home requirements. Sweden—The wheat crop will be an average one, but below that of last year. The crop last year amounted to 6,568,000 bu. Argentine—The weather continues favorable for the growing crop. There is free selling of new wheat for forward delivery. There are some estimates being made as regards the exportable surplus of wheat the consensus of which seem to point to 112,000,000 bu. So far this season this country has shipped 92,248,000 bu. Australia—Our Sydney correspondent states that the outlook everywhere for the growing wheat crop is favorable."

Eastern millers do not take a very bullish view of the market for the immediate future, although it is the general belief that there will be not much more than wheat enough to go around this year. Millers have more orders on their books than for many years at this time, some of them having four times as much business placed as a year ago at this time, but have provided for needs for several months to come. As a result the cash demand is likely to be moderate for wheat for some time. As a rule mills last year took Secretary Wilson's crop figures as indicative of liberal supplies in the country and as a result were caught with light stocks. This year every possible provision has been made to secure ample supplies in good season, and stocks in millers' hands are liberal. It is figured that the wheat crop this year will have to supply about thirteen months' requirements, where as a year ago the crop was practically consumed in eleven months. New wheat has been used right from the start, both spring and winter, owing to the practically exhausted stocks of old wheat. Millers who have customarily used old spring wheat flour for two or three months of the new crop year have used the new wheat with excellent results.

St. Louis has bought 300,000 bu red Russian wheat from Oregon and it was understood it cost $1.10, or about that laid down in the southwestern market. It is stated there is no rule against the delivery of this wheat on contracts if it grades. Both the leading southwestern markets were weak and from 1@3c lower. Increased offerings at St. Louis and Kansas City, with a marked shrinkage in the demand, were noted, and at the latter point a good many cars were carried over unsold. In the local market much the same conditions prevailed and cash men were unanimous in saying the cash call was slack. Mills were still fair buyers in the northwest, but export bids were out of line. Local cash wheat sales were 25,000 bu.

A dividend of 30.35 per cent will be returned to the subscribers to the "guarantee fund" raised for the entertainment of delegates to the assembly of grain exchanges of the United States and Canada, held in Chicago on Sept. 17 and 18. The various entertainments, including the business meeting at the Princess theater, the banquet at the La Salle hotel, the tour of the parks by automobiles, the supper at the Bismarck, and the vaudeville at the American Music hall, which was chartered for the occasion—all went to encourage a good fellowship which will long be remembered by all of those in attendance.

"The mere filling up of holes and getting a normal supply on hand would scarcely have absorbed so much wheat, but indications point to the fact that a great deal of wheat has been bought by millers in anticipation of future requirements and the same conditions apply in a large measure to the handlers of flour," said Bartlett-Patten.

"Wheat is accumulating rapidly the world over and our primary markets may ere long be called upon to carry their normal supplies instead of working along on such meager stocks as of late."

Receivers reported small acceptances of corn in the country. A little was offered, but most of the offers were considerably above the market. One of the leading elevator concerns sent out the highest bids in a long time throughout their territory and only bought 75,000 bu. The shipping demand was quiet. Prices for sample corn here were steady to ¼c higher, and oats were ¼@½c lower. Shipping sales were 100,000 bu corn and 155,000 bu oats.

The ministry of agriculture of Russia have made their provisional estimate of the crops of Russia, covering sixty governments, as follows: Wheat, 560,000,000 bu, against 420,000,000 bu last year; rye, 808,000,000 bu, against 704,000,000 bu last year; oats, 1,086,000,000 bu, against 853,000,000 bu last year. It also states that the crops in the Caucasus district are over an average, while the crops in Siberia are unsatisfactory.

Cash wheat men are wondering what the object is in shipping Duluth No. 1 northern wheat taken in on September contracts from here to Buffalo. It is understood boats have been chartered to ship out considerable of this wheat. As Duluth wheat can be bought as cheaply c. i. f. Buffalo as it can c. i. f. Chicago it would appear to be policy to sell the wheat here and buy it at Buffalo and save the freight and storage.

John Barrett and George W. Patten were in Duluth yesterday looking over the northwest situation. Barrett wired that the best bid for export on Manitoba wheat was 3c out of line and that durums were 1c lower. Both Barrett and G. W. Patten are understood to be very bearish on wheat Barrett also wired that country marketings were increasing and that there was a lot of cash wheat unsold at Duluth.

More applications for membership are now posted than has been the case in some time, and some of the brokers in memberships expect a sharp advance in prices. Not many more are understood to be on the market at the present, and should there be many more applications a sharp jump in prices would result.

Omaha wired: "One line of elevators bought 25,000 bu wheat at country stations yesterday. This is more than they have bought for some time. Receipts here 75 cars this morning. With this nice weather looks like receipts will increase."

At the regular meeting of the directors of the board the following were elected to membership: H. S. Bicket, J. W. Pearson, J. J. Kemp, K. V. R. Nicol, F. H. Price, E. S. Herron, and J. L. Smith. The directors bid $2,325 for one membership.

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were 1⅝c to 2c lower; corn, ⅛c higher to 1c lower; oats, ¼c to ½c lower, and rye unchanged. Sales were 5,000 bu No. 3 yellow corn, year shipment, at 56½c, and 20,000 bu at 56⅝c, Illinois proportional.

Closing prices in foreign markets were: Liverpool, ⅝d off; Paris, ¼c up to ½c lower; Berlin, ⅝c off, and Budapest, 2⅛c better. Antwerp was unchanged and Buenos Aires, ⅝@1c down.

Armour was a big seller of oats for December again, and in the last two days it is estimated the concern has sold nearly 1,000,000 bu of this month.

A St. Louis message said: "Know of about 75 cars wheat carried over unsold and country houses talked as if the movement would continue liberal."

John McMillian has posted his membership for transfer. The estate of Azariah Eddy has made application to withdraw from membership.

Receipts of wheat at Winnipeg were 577 cars, compared with 623 cars a week ago and 456 cars the corresponding day a year ago.

Estimated receipts are: Wheat, 29 cars; corn, 167 cars; oats, 171 cars; rye, 6 cars; barley, 62 cars; hogs, 24,000.

Baltimore wired that a car of new corn from Illinois arrived there yesterday testing 15 per cent moisture.

New York wired: "Exporters here trying to resell durums and Manitobas below cost of replacing."

George Urban Jr., the Buffalo miller, was on the floor yesterday on his way to Minneapolis.

Hutchinson, Kansas, wired that millers were reporting a slow cash demand for flour.

Charters were made for 100,000 bu of corn at 1⅝c to Buffalo.

Minneapolis stocks of wheat increased 70,000 bu for three days.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CATTLE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Packers had the trade at their mercy, and besides forcing a decline of largely 10c they took their pick of the offerings and left enough stock on the market to use as a depressing influence on later sessions. Principal market factors were strongly in favor of buyers and sellers were at a big disadvantage. Receipts of 14,000 head showed an increase of 3,500 over a week ago, outside competition was apathetic, and the quality of the offerings inferior. Besides these bearish conditions, railroad reports indicated a run of about 20,000 head for Wednesday, and killers were indifferent about filling orders with mediocre stock when a larger and more desirable assortment of cattle was in sight.

Few of the native steers on the market were of sufficient quality to sell at higher than $5.65, and commission men who had fat natives had so little success in securing bids that they carried their animals over for later in the week. Range steers made $6.30 and higher, with the bulk of the medium to good grades at $4.75@5.65. Cows and heifers moved slowly at a decline of 10c, and the bulk of the bull supply suffered an additional loss of like proportions. Calves were of improved quality and reached $9.25@9.50 for assorted vealers, but were still largely 25c lower than a week ago. Quotations:

HOGS.

Prices averaged 5c lower than the extreme high point late Monday, while the best figure reached showed a decline of 10c from the preceding day's top. The trade was only moderately active, and packers did not seem to be in urgent need of supplies, being satisfied with light droves and leaving the alleys at such an early hour that late arrivals had to be carried over unsold, swelling the leftover supply to about 4,000 head, against 2,500 head the preceding day. Shippers were sparingly supplied with orders, and their operations were of little benefit to the trade.

Receipts were placed at 15,000 head, and, although several trainloads were delayed and did not get on the market until after most of the buyers had filled their orders, the quality was common and killers had little trouble in amassing droves at a decline from Monday's closing figures. Three of the packers staid out of the trade entirely, while only that many of the leaders bought 1,500 or more hogs, and shippers were satisfied with less than 500 head. Best butchers sold at $7.85, while mixed packing grades made $7.35@7.65, and heavy packers sold at $7.50@7.75. Pigs were 5@10c lower. Quotations:

SHEEP.

Lambs met with a broad outlet at steady to firm prices, while sheep moved more slowly at weak figures. Receipts of 28,000 head fell nearly 11,000 head short of the run a week ago, and as packers willingly paid full prices for all lambs suitable for killing purposes and bought more of the lightweight offerings than usual, country buyers had difficulty in filling orders calling for feeders and had to pay stronger prices for animals carrying any amount of flesh. The trade was active and a clearance of the lambs was effected early in the day, although attempts to secure better figures retarded sales which could have been consummated on first rounds if salesmen had not tried to press their advantage to an extreme.

Packers paid up to $7.25 for prime native lambs for the first time this week, although independent killers paid the same figure for odd lots on the opening day. The range lambs did not have sufficient quality to bring them over the even money mark, but many loads sold at $7.00, and a clearance of the medium to good killing grades was made at $6.75@6.90. Feeding lambs sold at $6.50 for the bulk and at $6.60 for weighty animals. Range yearlings sold at $5.50, wethers $4.50@4.60, and ewes at $4.25. Quotations:

Receipts for Oct. 20 were estimated at 20,000 cattle, 24,000 hogs, and 35,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 21,733 cattle, 32,796 hogs, and 20,980 sheep for Wednesday, Oct. 21, 1908.

STOCKYARDS GOSSIP.

Uniform quality and the elimination of extremely high sales served to contract the range of hog values, and, while not many hogs sold at higher than $7.70, the percentage of sales at lower than $7.40 was unusually small for a day when supplies were so liberal and included so many loads of light hogs.

There were no hogs received direct by packers, it being the first day in more than a week that killers did not have stock from Milwaukee or St. Paul. The Anglo-American company was out of the trade here and is expected to have hogs in Wednesday. Boore & Co. and Roberts & Oake also staid out of the local market.

Speculators continued to exhibit strong confidence in the hog market and bought stock with such a liberal hand that few desirable offerings were left in first hands at the close.

Three principal railroads reported 700 cars of live stock in sight for Wednesday's trade, which was taken as indicating probable receipts of 20,000 cattle, against 23,271 a week ago.

Stockers and feeders met with a broader demand from country buyers as a result of the decline of 15@25c force in prices the last few days.

Joe Horan of the Armour buying force paid $5.50 for prime range yearlings and secured the only band of prime range lambs to show a decline of 10c for the day.

Hogs left over unsold from Monday's market were officially counted at 2,585 head.

Chicago Horse Market.

Aside from a fairly active demand for fancy heavy draft animals, the horse trade inclined to the lethargic, and offerings moved slowly at weak prices. Eastern dealers devoted practically all of their attention to the fancy drafters selling at $225.00@250.00, although they filled occasional orders calling for lighter animals at $190.00@200.00. Expressers met with a fair inquiry on local account at $175.00@190.00, while wagon classes cleared slowly at $140.00@175.00. There are indications of a broader outlet for farm chunks in the near future, and speculators are anticipating a more urgent inquiry by accumulating a few desirable lots at $125.00@175.00. Southern chunks were taken at $70.00@125.00. Receipts were placed at 300 head.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Firmness prevailed in all branches of the wholesale grocery market, and business continued of liberal volume. There were buyers on the market looking for and taking all odd lots of canned goods that they could obtain at reasonable values, and the market was remarkably free of accumulations of any kind. Flour and cereal values were creeping upward steadily, and jobbers had difficulty in filling orders, owing to insufficient supplies on hand and a congested condition of railroads, which hampered incoming trains. Teas were in good request at firm figures, and there was a good volume of business transacted in spices and delicacies.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Refined sugars were in brisk demand at steady figures. Following were the ruling prices in wholesale circles, quotations being on 100 lb lots: Standard granulated, beet and cane, $5.24@5.34; cut loaf, H. & E., $6.27; standard powdered, $5.77; extra C, $4.95; canary, $4.65; chemically pure milk sugar, 22c per lb in brl lots.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The market for coffee futures opened barely steady at a decline of 10 points in sympathy with the decline of ¼@½ franc in the French market and ruled generally easy. At one time during the day prices were about 10 to 15 points net lower, and the close showed little recovery as a result of covering, the final tone being steady at a net decline of 5@15 points. Sales for the day were reported of 47,500 bags, including November at 5.95c; December at 5.95@6.10c; March at 6.05@6.15c; May at 6.10@6.20c; July at 6.15@6.25c, and September at 6.20@6.30c. ### Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Heavyweight cotton and woolen goods for spot and future delivery were in urgent request, recent gains in values notwithstanding, and business opened active, with city retailers and dressmakers the principal buyers. The urgency of the spot demand and the numerous reorders received by jobbers indicated that stocks in the hands of retailers were inadequate and presaged a steadily broadening outlet for seasonable merchandise. Wholesalers were anticipating this condition by placing generous orders for additional supplies with mill agents and the latter were buying up raw materials and increasing the capacities of their mills, all of which went to add to the buying power of the consumer and made the situation a particularly healthy one.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The cotton goods market is strong. Advances are announced in wide sheetings, staple prints, and heavy brown goods. Yarns are higher and larger sales are reported. The export trade is quiet. Men's wear woolens are selling better. General retail trade is reported as improving.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Business was brisk on a fairly large scale at the opening today, but activity was at the expense of values, active stocks selling off about a point, with North Butte the leader on the decline. After an hour's trading good support came in and prices rallied slowly until within half an hour of the close, when there was a fractional recession, final prices showing an irregular list of fractional gains and losses. Butte Coalition and Greene ruled strong throughout, probably on the circulation of a report that the Cole-Ryan properties were to benefit by some sort of a merger. Call money, 4½@5½ per cent; time loans, short dates, 4⅜@5½ per cent; time loans, six months, 4½@5 per cent; time loans, year, 4½@4⅜ per cent.

CARRIAGE MAKERS SEE PERIL.

Automobile Growing to Such Wide Use That Trade Is in Danger, Leaders Hear.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Automobiles have displaced carriages to such an extent that carriage builders either will be obliged to retire from business or devote their attention to the construction of automobile bodies. This was the statement made today by Maurice Connolly of Dubuque, Ia., president of the Carriage Builders' National association, which convened in its thirty-seventh annual meeting in this city.

Another serious situation was presented by William L. Hall, assistant forester of the agricultural department. He warned the association that the supply of hard wood from which the bodies of both carriages and automobiles are constructed was diminishing rapidly and that in twenty years it practically would be exhausted.

MAY SHORTEN WELLAND CANAL.

Canadian Government Plans to Cut Into Traffic Now Held by Erie Route.

St. Catharines, Ontario, Oct. 19.—A tentative route for the new Welland canal, enlarged so that successful competition with the Erie barge canal can be had, has been agreed upon by the government engineers.

The new canal will run from Port Colborne to Fifteen Mile creek, connecting with Lake Ontario there, instead of at Port Dalhousie. This canal will have seven locks, instead of the twenty-five which now make the canal expensive and slow. The new canal may be built in five years. It will be seven miles shorter than the present route.

STOCK LIST IS IRREGULAR

Some Issues Close Lower; Others Score Substantial Gains.

EXPRESS SHARES ACTIVE.

Advances Are Confined Almost Entirely to Inactive Holdings.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—A series of irregular fluctuations left the market at the close of today's operations on the stock exchange at a substantially lower level in the case of several of the most active issues, with some exceptional advances, notably among the stocks of express companies.

The day's trading took its character largely from the operations in United States Steel, which accounted for more than 25 per cent of the total trading of the session. The volume of transactions was considerably reduced compared with the previous day's sales, falling nearly 200,000 shares short of the million mark.

Final Prices Are Lowest.

The most pronounced selling movement of the day occurred not long before the close, final prices in most cases being at the lowest. The extent of the day's reaction indicated by such net losses as 1⅛ in United States Steel, 1⅝ in Union Pacific, 1⅛ in Reading, 1¼ in Chesapeake and Ohio, 2¼ in Missouri, Kansas and Texas, with lesser declines in many other issues. The advances were confined almost entirely to relatively inactive issues, the most conspicuous of these changes being a further rise of 25 points in Wells-Fargo Express and 13 points in United States Express, while the American Express, sharing in the general strength of these stocks, showed a net gain of 8 points.

The curtailment of operations and the accompanying decline in prices today fell coincidently with the further easing of interest rates, which, taken in conjunction with the further advance in foreign exchange rates, was the most interesting development of the day. The continued rise in foreign exchange seemed closely associated with covering operations by those who made commitments in exchange in connection with purchases of bills made some time since by those having a care for maturities around the first of November.

Financial Operations Feature.

A provision is understood to have been completed some time since for the payment in London of New York City revenue bonds to the amount of $25,000,000, which fall due on Nov. 1, but seemingly not all of the exchange sold to the city's bankers has been covered, and the recent strength of the exchange market reflected among other factors the covering of this exchange.

The subtreasury's statement today showed a gain by the banks in their operations with the treasury of $139,000 since last Friday, this balance in favor of the banks being due to increased payments by the government, including large pension disbursements, rather than any lessening of payments by the New York banks to the subtreasury for account of their out of town correspondents.

Money on call firm, 4@4½ per cent; ruling rate, 4; closing bid, 4; offered at 4¼. Time loans easier but very dull; sixty days, ninety days, and six months, 4½@4¾ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@5½ per cent. Sterling exchange strong, with actual business in bankers' bills at 483@483.10 for sixty day bills and at 486.60 for demand. Commercial bills, 482½@482¾. Bar silver, 51; Mexican dollars, 43. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds easy.

IN THE FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Money was in restricted supply today owing to the Bank of England making its 4 per cent effective. Discounts were firm, trading on the stock exchange was sluggish, and irregular with foreigners the firmest on Paris support and investment buying. Copper shares were steady, but kaffirs and diamond shares were weak, while British shares continue to droop on the monetary and political outlook. American securities after a slight opening advance developed weakness. Selling operations carried prices below parity and at noon the market was easy, from ¼ to ⅞ below yesterday's New York closing. A steadier tone developed in the afternoon, but with Wall street alternately buying and selling the market became irregular and closed uncertain.

Remarks by Mr. Winchell.

In his general remarks Mr. Winchell says: "During the fiscal year there were established in the territory of the system 402 new industries. These are estimated to have cost over $8,000,000, to employ over 11,000 persons, and to create a movement of over 57,000 carloads annually.

"At the close of the year the telephone system of train dispatching had been installed on 419 miles of line at a cost of $33,214. Authority has been given for 181 additional miles, for which the material has been purchased and work is in progress."

General Financial News.

No action was taken at the annual meeting of the Erie Railroad company yesterday in regard to the election of a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of E. H. Harriman.

At the annual meeting of the American Locomotive company James McNorton, vice president of the company, was elected a director to succeed Joseph Bryan, and Dumont Clark was elected to succeed D. J. Gross; other retiring directors were reëlected.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. was elected a director to succeed E. H. Harriman on the board of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. This gives the Standard Oil interests five members.

The same old stories are being heard concerning the earnings of the Diamond Match company. They are always a little better than the previous year, until the annual report comes out.

Stockholders of the Butterick company voted yesterday to increase the capital from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000.

At the annual meeting of the Chesapeake and Ohio the purchase of the Coal River railway, the Raleigh and Southwestern railway, and the Virginia Air Line railway was approved.

Since last Friday the New York subtreasury has lost $139,000 to the banks.

Chicago Securities.

Sears-Roebuck common made a new high record on the local exchange, touching 137. The stock has advanced 10 points in the last week. It pays 6 per cent, with a promise of 7. The buying was scattered.

Chicago Subway was again active. It advanced at the opening, but sold off at the close. A change of management cannot be expected to advance locally the interests of the company.

There was some disappointment over the fact the directors of the Metropolitan Elevated did not inaugurate dividends on the preferred stock. However, the management itself is not to blame for the disappointment. Some of the enthusiastic stockholders who watch closely the ticker have been making the bullish predictions.

There was little doing in the bond department.

Benjamin Guggenheim, Esq., President of the International Steam Pump Company, under date of October 11, 1909, writes us substantially as follows:

1. First mortgage on all the properties directly owned by the International Steam Pump Co.; further secured by deposit of entire funded debt and $5,497,700 out of $5,500,000 common stock of the Henry R. Worthington Co. and by securities of other subsidiary companies.
2. Upon retirement of $3,500,000 6% Debentures, called for redemption on October 28, 1909, these bonds will constitute the only funded debt of the International Steam Pump Company. Approximately $1,000,000 bonds of subsidiaries are outstanding provision for the retirement of which is made by sinking fund.
3. Mortgage provides sinking fund aggregating $6,000,000, sufficient to retire substantially half the total authorized issue by maturity.
4. Current assets in excess of all current liabilities, after issuance of these bonds, will equal approximately $10,000,000. Appraised value of plants, upwards of $11,600,000. Total tangible assets of combined companies over and above current liabilities, after issuance of these bonds, $23,350,000.
5. The Company agrees that the quick assets of the combined companies over and above current liabilities must be maintained or brought up to $8,000,000 before dividends may be declared on the common stock; this amount to be further increased with any addition to the amount of these bonds outstanding.
6. During the last four years, 1906-1909 inclusive, combined net income, before deducting dividends on preferred stocks of subsidiaries, averaged $1,830,000 per annum, nearly four times the full interest requirements after issuance of these bonds. Average for ten years, 1900-1909 inclusive, $1,740,000 per annum. Available earnings, fiscal year ended March 31, 1909, were three times these requirements.
7. Regular dividends, 6% per annum, have been earned and paid for ten years on the Company's preferred stock, $11,350,000 now outstanding.

Application will be made to list these bonds on the New York, London and Amsterdam Stock Exchanges.

PAYMENTS TO SUIT.
We do a straight, legitimate loan business, dealing only with the BETTER CLASS OF MEN and WOMEN, and can afford to make the LOWEST and BEST TERMS. No "banking," "merchandising," "insurance," or other scheme tacked on to swell the cost to borrowers.
We state from the start just what a loan will cost, and there are no notary's fees, charges for papers, or investigating, interest added or deducted or other extras twisted in on customers when they come to the point of getting their money. They get the full amount they ask for, too.
While we prefer the large loans, we treat the applicant for a small loan with the same consideration accorded those who borrow $500 or more.
Our facilities for dealing with the class we cater to are ideal. Our money is no better than that of others, but there's a difference; you'll see it.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands, or incomes from other sources] who want large or small sums, confidentially, with or without security. My location [30 min. from loop district] and my being the president of a large manufacturing wholesale vehicle establishment [Bradstreet's and other agencies show its standing], and not a professional money lender, assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings, where money lenders congregate. Professional lenders demand high rates, usually asking so much that the average straightforward citizen realizes that exorbitant charges for any time are burdensome. My average price, all charges positively included, is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, depending on risk and amount loaned. Individual waiting rooms. Ask for WILLCOXE, care the Englewood Co., 1101-1103 E. 63d-st., cor. Greenwood-av. Tel. Hyde Park 4333.

"Baltimore Plan" Seen Way to Obtain More ticity in Place of P ent Faults.

BY RAYMOND.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 20.—[Special with Boston business men and fina thing is being made evident. They tious, conservative lot here, but an immense amount of money—r their own but of the thrifty Ne people who learned the saving h while ago.

The banking system of New Eng whole, is remarkably sound. I Suffolk bank, here in Massachus first set the pace a long while a redemption of current bank notes lished a system which rendered it impossible for wildcat banks to notes out indefinitely. In times o New England banks are generall the safe side.

Now and then some big institut the wall, as the result of an unfor ticipation in a speculative movem per, gas, or some other suspici On the whole, however, the banks chusetts in particular, with Bos inevitable hub, are backed by a s servative, prosperous business c that the financial atmosphere in of the country is essentially hea worthy of notice.

Seek Reform in Bankin

In the first place I have found unanimity in a desire for a sweep in the currency and banking sys as relations with the governmen cerned. Most of the people here convinced that currency should be the banks alone; that it should b current assets and never on s bonds.

These people generally favor a reserve, to be held both against and deposit, but at the same time to see a currency so flexible in its that it will expand when there is for moving of the crops or other t contract when the need has pas that the circulating medium sha nearly as possible the exact mea necessities of business.

Although the people here seem erally agreed as to what reform made, they are as far apart in other cities as to the methods to b to secure these reforms. It is gener for granted that the monetary co of which Senator Aldrich is at the recommend the establishment of a tral bank, and will back its recom by a mass of statistics and argume from the experience of Canada an countries.

Will Make Haste Slowly

The Boston financial element is d make haste slowly. They are willin patiently for the report of this co even if that means a year or so In the meantime there is manifest d of opinion, and experts differ as t which ought to be adopted indep the report of the commission.

In the first place it is evident t scheme of currency reform which suggested has one thing in comm all propose that the government a absolutely from the business of b rency, and that this currency sh out by the banks, and either secur their general assets or by ordinary cial paper; instead of government b

This principle of what is calle banking," or "asset currency," means a new one. It dates back to the American Banking associatio meeting in Baltimore, at which a formulated for permitting the bank currency of their own, up to a ce portion of their capital, the same cured by the deposit of a special f would protect noteholders in addi ordinary liability of the bank.

Proposals Hold "Baltimore

This original scheme, or "Baltim as it was called, is found in one fo other in all the suggestions now forward. In 1906 the New York c commerce recommended the crea central bank whose stock would jointly by the national banks and ernment, but whose control would lutely in the treasury department ington.

It was realized that the countr ready for such radical legislatio chamber of commerce therefore re ed that any national bank with a culation equal to one-half of its cap be given the right to issue notes cent of its capital.

These notes were to be taxed o uated scale, from 2 to 6 per cent, to the amount issued. The proce tax were to form a guarantee fu redemption of the notes at th Future issues of United States b not to be available for circulation striction on the retirement of nat currency was to be removed.

Retires When Not Need

The theory of this was that the tax on this unsecured circulation w it to be retired when there wa dundancy, but would furnish the b a means of providing money fo the unusual demands at crop ma and other emergencies.

This simple form of uncovered some strong champions here, bec say that it furnishes the necessary with the least possible amount c chinery, while it paves the way retirement of the bond secured circu in the most gradual sort of fashio produce the least possible disturban ness conditions.

In January, 1908, a special c appointed by the American Bank ciation, at a meeting held in Chica lated a bill for a new currency. vided that any national bank m notes equal to 60 per cent of it of its outstanding bond secured c but not to exceed 25 per cent of
